E. Stanley Kroenke

E. Stanley Kroenke's journey to bring professional football back to Los Angeles culminated on Jan. 12, 2016 when National Football League owners ratified his proposal to return the Rams to Southern California.

Eleven years after NFL owners unanimously approved Kroenke to assume sole ownership of the franchise in 2010, he celebrated the opening of SoFi Stadium and Hollywood Park – a 298-acre development with a 70,240-seat stadium as its crown jewel, which hosted Super Bowl LVI in 2022. The Rams culminated the stadium's first season with fans in attendance with a world championship won in their home stadium, in their home city of Los Angeles. That year, Kroenke became the first sports team owner to win a Super Bowl and another major pro sports title in any given calendar year.

The state-of-the-art stadium rises from nearly 100 feet below ground on the former site of the Hollywood Park Racetrack and serves as the home to the Los Angeles Rams and Los Angeles Chargers. Additionally, the multi-purpose project serves as a West Coast campus for the National Football League, houses NFL Media's headquarters, and features hosting capabilities for future Super Bowls, NFL Drafts, and Pro Bowls.

"I think what Stan has built here and done here, in his creativity with this whole development, this probably is going to redefine this area of Los Angeles for the next century," Chargers Owner/Chairman Dean Spanos told The Associated Press. "It's going to be something that L.A. is going to be very proud to have."

Equipped with decades of real estate development experience, a passion for sports and a one-of-a-kind vision, Kroenke orchestrated the Rams' return home by privately financing the construction of a world-class stadium befitting the culture and style of Los Angeles.

"Stan has the vision, resources, inspiration and creativity to create the right setting for the NFL in Los Angeles," said Dallas Cowboys Owner Jerry Jones. "I have great admiration for his talent and skills, and I have great confidence in his leadership ability in guiding our league back into this very important community. He sees the big picture, knows how to do things on the big stage, and he knows how to do what's best for the long term future. Stan Kroenke is a valuable asset to the National Football League."

In the months leading up to the opening of SoFi Stadium, Kroenke was named Los Angeles Business Journal's Business Person of the Year for 2020. The Rams' return to Los Angeles was named 2016's top sports moment at the 12th Annual L.A. Sports Awards.

DELIVERING A GLOBAL DESTINATION

In a marriage of sports, retail, commercial and residential development, Kroenke constructed a 3.1 million-square-foot stadium expandable up to 100,000 seats that anchors an urban village, complete with a 6,000-seat performance venue called The YouTube Theater, 300 boutique hotel rooms, 2,500 modern residences, more than 1.5 million square feet of retail, office, conference and meeting space. More than 20 acres of public parks, open space, pedestrian walkways and bicycle paths will divide the district into thirds, offering residents and visitors a regional gathering place in the center of the Los Angeles basin.

"(The) project is uniquely tied to Kroenke's vision of where global sports and entertainment are heading and his zeal to be at the forefront," sports reporter Liz Clarke detailed in The Washington Post in 2019.

In addition to hosting NFL games, SoFi Stadium and the district at Hollywood Park is transforming the area into a year-round sports and entertainment destination that delivers an unparalleled experience for residents and visitors. Beyond Super Bowl LVI in 2022, the stadium has been awarded the Opening and Closing Ceremonies of the 2028 Olympics and hosted the College Football Playoff National Championship and Wrestlemania in 2023.

The NFL recently opened NFL Los Angeles, a 450,000 square foot Class A building with 214,063 square feet of office space and 74,922 square feet of studio and support space to serve as the home for NFL Network, NFL.com, NFL RedZone, the NFL app and many other department's supporting the league's media and business operations. In addition to office and studio space situated next to SoFi Stadium, the facility features NFL Media's first outdoor studio which hosts audiences and includes an outdoor field for filming purposes as well as public use.

"As home to the Rams and Chargers, and now NFL Los Angeles, SoFi Stadium and Hollywood Park will be an attraction for NFL fans year-round," said NFL Commissioner Roger Goodell. "Thanks to Stan's vision, we know Hollywood Park will be the place to be – not just for football, but for entertainment and events, for living and for working. We are excited for NFL Los Angeles to join this transformative project."

The NFL's largest stadium was designed to reflect the climate, characteristics and culture of Southern California, and to capitalize on the site's near-perfect weather. A transparent roof canopy covering 19 acres was developed. Under the lightweight roof made of ETFE, all sides of the building remain open, allowing for a natural integration between the indoor and outdoor public spaces. "That stadium is off the charts," said Al Michaels, the play-by-play voice for NBC's Sunday Night Football. "It's very different. It's very special."

Kroenke and project developers officially broke ground on SoFi Stadium and Hollywood Park on Nov. 17, 2016.

ENRICHING THE COMMUNITY

Within months of relocating to Southern California, Kroenke's Rams instituted their first local community improvement project in partnership with the Inglewood Unified School District as a continuation of the team's commitment to service.

"The (community improvement) project, being completed through a grant from the Rams, is a visible manifestation of Stan Kroenke, the NFL and the Rams organization to the school children of Inglewood," said Inglewood Mayor James T. Butts. "The Rams have shouted, 'Inglewood kids count,' and I salute them for their investment in the learning environment for our children."

Under Kroenke's leadership, philanthropic activities remain essential to the mission of SoFi Stadium and Hollywood Park. Project developers have been committed to positively impacting the Greater Los Angeles region and the City of Inglewood through world-class entertainment, outreach activities, the creation of new jobs, and local revenues.

"In shifting the center of gravity of West Coast sports to Inglewood, Kroenke has elevated the profile of the community and seeded the area with opportunity for years to come," added Farmer. "A project of this magnitude changes the landscape both literally and economically."

In partnership with the City of Inglewood, Kroenke committed to a 100 percent union job site with priority given to residents of Inglewood and designated local zip codes. Since breaking ground in 2016, more than 17,000 people worked on-site to help construct SoFi Stadium. In order to further create job opportunities for members of the local community, a 15 percent Inglewood resident apprenticeship goal was established to help workers develop professional and trade skills. At the completion of the stadium construction in Summer of 2020, over 95 Minority and Disadvantaged Businesses had received more than $750 million in construction contracts and local area residents have received more than $93 million in wages.

As a whole, the City of Inglewood's general fund is expected to receive tens of millions in annual revenue from SoFi Stadium and Hollywood Park. According to initial estimates, the city is projected to receive $13 million in sales tax revenue during construction from equipment and materials purchased alone. Inglewood is also benefitting through other avenues such as ticket taxes, sales tax from retail operations, property taxes and a hotel occupancy tax. These funds help balance the city's budget, improve and expand city services and infrastructure, enhance public safety and maintain open green space. Revenues from Kroenke's entertainment district also fund new after-school sports programs among other after-school activities for Inglewood's youth.

In recognition of their leadership in giving back to the greater Los Angeles region, Kroenke's Rams were honored in 2019 by both the Anti-Defamation League Los Angeles with their Corporate Leadership Award and by Make-A-Wish Tri-Counties as The Wish Champion Award.

AN INTERNATIONAL SPORTS LEADER

Regarded as one of the world's leading sports proprietors, Kroenke's teams have won titles in the NFL, NBA, NHL, MLS, and the National Lacrosse League. Kroenke's sports holdings include Arsenal FC (Barclays English Premier League), which won its 13th FA Cup in 2017. From 2000-2014, Kroenke owned the NBA's Denver Nuggets and the NHL's Colorado Avalanche, which are now a part of a family trust. Kroenke's Denver-based company, Kroenke Sports & Entertainment (KSE), owns the Colorado Rapids of Major League Soccer and the Colorado Mammoth of the National Lacrosse League. Kroenke also owns Altitude Sports & Entertainment, which produces Rams preseason games.

Kroenke's teams won four championships (Los Angeles Rams, Colorado Mammoth, Colorado Avalanche and Denver Nuggets) in three consecutive seasons. His three different big four sports league championships in a 18-month span is unprecedented in professional sports.

"It is evident that Stan knows how to achieve success in the sports world," Rams General Manager Les Snead said. "His teams have won championships in five different sports and he has experience in building a contender. The success we have experienced through the NFL Draft and free agency would not have been possible without Stan's support and his willingness to take risks to build our team."

On Jan. 12, 2017, Kroenke hired Sean McVay – the youngest head coach in modern NFL history – to lead the Rams. Since onboarding McVay, the Rams have four playoff berths and two Super Bowl appearances, winning Super Bowl LVI. McVay has a 60-38 regular season record and is 7-3 in the playoffs. He has led the Rams to five winning seasons with three NFC West titles. McVay is the youngest head coach to win a Super Bowl at the age of 36 and the youngest head coach to win AP Coach of the Year at 31 in 2018. He is the second-fastest coach in franchise history to reach the 50-win mark and currently remains the youngest head coach in the NFL despite entering his seventh season at the helm.

Additionally, McVay's 33 wins in his first three years is the franchise's most wins since the 1974-76 seasons, and his record through the first four seasons (43-21 in 64 regular season games) of his coaching tenure is amongst the best start of all head coaches hired since 2000.

According to The New York Times, 1997 was the first season to allow NFL owners to own cross-sport franchises. Among current NFL ownership, only two have had three teams to win a playoff game/series in the same year in North America. Kroenke was the latest to accomplish the feat as the Avalanche and Nuggets also made remarkable playoff runs during the 2018-19 season. Both the Avalanche and Nuggets secured first-round playoff wins, and Los Angeles advanced to the club's fourth Super Bowl (2018-19 season). The late Paul Allen's Seattle Seahawks (NFL), Portland Trail Blazers (NBA) and Seattle Sounders FC (MLS) previously did so in 2014.

Kroenke currently serves on the NFL's Broadcast Committee and has worked on multiple league committees, including the NFL's Workplace Diversity Committee. He also worked alongside his fellow owners to reach a new Collective Bargaining Agreement with the NFL Players Association in 2011.

In 2022, Kroenke was one of 15 exceptional business, civic and cultural leaders from across North America to receive Horatio Alger Award honors, which is awarded annually to individuals who have succeeded despite facing adversities, and who have remained committed to higher education and charitable efforts in their communities.

E. Stanley Kroenke, named after baseball legends Enos Slaughter and Stan Musial, was born in Cole Camp, Mo., and grew up in Mora, Mo. Kroenke and his wife, Ann, have a daughter, Whitney, and a son, Josh, Vice Chairman of KSE and KSE UK. Kroenke holds undergraduate and graduate degrees from the University of Missouri and he is a member of the Missouri Sports Hall of Fame (2009 Enshrinement Class).

Chief Operating Officer

Kevin Demoff

College: Dartmouth

NFL Year: 19

Rams Year: 15

Kevin Demoff is in his 15th year as Chief Operating Officer with the Rams. In this capacity, Demoff serves as the team's top front office executive and liaison to owner and chairman, Stan Kroenke, on all organizational matters.

After serving on the working group that helped Kroenke return the Rams – Los Angeles' original professional sports team – home to L.A., Demoff continues to play a significant role in delivering on Kroenke's vision to design and construct Hollywood Park, the 298-acre sports and entertainment district in Inglewood that features SoFi Stadium, the home of the Rams. Beyond the stadium, the campus includes the 6,000-seat YouTube Theater, an office complex that is the home of the NFL's West Coast headquarters, a retail district that is under development, and is currently the largest entitled real-estate project in Southern California.

Demoff works closely with General Manager Les Snead and Head Coach Sean McVay and was instrumental in delivering on Kroenke's promise of bringing a Super Bowl Championship to Los Angeles, with the Rams making history and topping the Cincinnati Bengals 23-20 at SoFi Stadium. Not only were the 2021 Rams only the second team in 56 years to play in (and win) the Super Bowl in their home stadium, but they were the first team in NFL history to host the AFC or NFC Championship in the same stadium where the Super Bowl would also be played.

Bringing Super Bowl LVI and LA28 Olympics to Los Angeles

Immediately on the heels of the National Football League's historic return to Los Angeles in 2016, Demoff and the Rams helped lead a regional effort to bring the Super Bowl to SoFi Stadium and Hollywood Park. Micronomics projected in 2021 that Super Bowl LVI would have an economic impact up to $477 million across the greater Los Angeles region. Demoff and the Rams have also joined forces with the LA24 Olympic Bid Committee to help deliver the 2028 Olympic and Paralympic Games to Los Angeles. In addition, SoFi Stadium hosted the College Football Playoff final and Wrestlemania earlier this year.

Beyond the impact of the Super Bowl and other major events that are now hosted in LA and Inglewood, the Hollywood Park development is expected to generate hundreds of millions in new annual economic activity across the region. During construction, there were upwards of 3,500 construction workers on-site daily, with Inglewood residents given priority placement, and more than 17,000 workers stepped on the stadium site since it broke ground in November 2016. In order to further create job opportunities for members of the local community, a 15 percent Inglewood resident apprenticeship goal for construction was established to help workers develop professional and trade skills. During construction, over 95 Minority and Disadvantaged Businesses had received more than $754 million in construction contracts and local area residents earned more than $129 million in wages. In addition, in partnership with the Anti-Recidivism Coalition (ARC) and 2nd Call, more than 100 union workers who were previously incarcerated found employment opportunities during the construction of SoFi Stadium. Once fully operating, the stadium and retail components together are expected to generate thousands of additional jobs with long-term regional benefits.

A Leader in Diversity and Inclusion

In Demoff's tenure with the Rams, he has shaped the club's business efforts with a focus on delivering a best-in-class experience for fans and partners, building a team that reflects Los Angeles, and increasing the club's presence in the community. With a strong commitment to diversity, equity and inclusion, Demoff has intentionally built one of the most diverse front offices in sports. The Rams rank in the top quartile of all NFL teams in terms of racial and gender diversity across the organization. As a result, Demoff was awarded the Daniel M. Rooney Lifetime Achievement Award from the Fritz Pollard Alliance in 2023 and was named one of Sports Business Journal's 2023 ALL-IN Leaders in Diversity, Equity and Inclusion. The San Fernando Valley Business Journal also recognized the Rams with a 2022 Diversity, Equity and Inclusion Award and the LA Chamber of Commerce honored Demoff with the Distinguished Business Leader Award. Looking to expand that commitment beyond Los Angeles, Demoff helped found the Black Sports Business Symposium, which aims to create new opportunities for diverse professionals in the world of sports and to increase Black representation in the industry. He also regularly supports programs aimed at increasing diversity across the NFL, including the Ozzie Newsome General Manager Forum and Quarterback Coaching Summit.

Demoff's commitment to DEI also extends to the team's community efforts which are largely focused on providing access and opportunity for young people from Black and Brown communities in Los Angeles. Each year, the Rams partner with LA Promise Fund to provide paid internships to deserving students from Los Angeles public high schools and expose them to career opportunities in professional sports. The Rams also became the first team in professional sports to partner on a corporate residency program with College Track, whose mission is to support students with limited resources to chart their course to and through college. The Rams have created a season-long mentorship program, Pathways to Success, which pairs minority students with Rams front office members and provides a variety of professional workshops and job shadowing opportunities. In 2021, the team created the Kenny Washington Memorial Scholarship to provide up to four years of financial support for 13 students from under-resourced communities who are among the first in their families to pursue post-secondary education. The scholarship, introduced in honor of the 75th anniversary of Washington becoming the first Black player signed by an NFL team in the modern era, also includes advisement support from Fulfillment Fund, an educational non-profit partner of the Rams.

Making an Impact on the Los Angeles Community

Demoff has spearheaded the organization's efforts to become one of the strongest philanthropic partners in professional sports. That focus has led the team to receive numerous awards for their charitable efforts as they continue to become part of the fabric of the greater Los Angeles region. Under Demoff's guidance, the Rams have focused on addressing education inequities, food insecurity, homelessness, community-police relations and youth justice.

Community pillars for the organization are the Watts Rams and North East Lincoln Rams youth football teams, which are coached by officers from the Los Angeles Police Department. The Los Angeles Rams formally adopted the Watts Rams in 2019 and the North East Lincoln Rams in 2022 to use the game of football to help bridge the gap between law enforcement and communities of color. The team also worked with Inglewood Parks and Recreation to rename their youth flag football league the Inglewood Rams. Each of the 24 teams in the Inglewood Rams flag football league is named after a current Rams player with Inglewood police officers serving as coaches and mentors.

Demoff also serves on the executive board of the United Way of Greater Los Angeles, and since 2017 he has served as the chair of its annual campaign which helps United Way transform lives and communities by creating pathways out of poverty for the most vulnerable residents through education, housing and financial stability. Each year, the Rams team up with United Way of Greater Los Angeles to host a 5K family run/walk to raise public awareness and funds to end homelessness. The event, which was renamed Walk United LA in 2021, aims to rally the community to help provide housing, education and opportunity for all. Demoff led the effort to bring WalkUnited LA to SoFi Stadium in 2021. Since 2019, the event has raised more than $2.5 million and the Rams and United Way will host the 2023 Walk United LA at SoFi Stadium again this year as part of United Way's Centennial.

In addition to these efforts, the Rams annually host the Taste of the Rams event, which raises money to address the food insecurity of 1 in 5 Angelenos. Introduced in 2016, the event has raised more than $1,000,000 for LA Regional Food Bank and has allowed them to provide more than 3.1 million meals to Angelenos in need.

Demoff also joined the board of City Year Los Angeles, an organization that mobilizes AmeriCorps members for a year of full-time service in underserved communities to serve as tutors, mentors and role models for students to help them graduate high school, college and become career-ready young professionals.

Spearheading Crisis Relief and Recovery Efforts

When the COVID-19 pandemic hit the country in March 2020, the Rams partnered with KABC on a "Te'LA'thon for Los Angeles," which raised $2.2 million to benefit both LA Regional Food Bank and United Way of Greater Los Angeles to help those affected by COVID-19. The organization also made a commitment to fund monthly mobile food distributions in Black and Brown communities including two mobile distributions at SoFi Stadium that provided more than 7,000 families with nutritious food. In March of 2021, Demoff teamed with former Los Angeles Unified School District Superintendent Austin Beutner and the Rams official health partner, Cedars-Sinai, to make Hollywood Park a vaccination site for LAUSD teachers and staff. In two months, approximately 17,000 vaccines were administered to help reopen schools in the safest way possible.

In the wake of unimaginable tragedy that struck the Southern California region in 2018, the Rams hosted the Kansas City Chiefs at the LA Memorial Coliseum for a game that currently stands as the highest scoring Monday Night Football game ever and will be remembered for bringing LA Together. After a mass shooting and wildfires affected and displaced thousands of residents in the Southern California region, the Rams stood in solidarity with Angelenos to honor and pay tribute to affected individuals, their families and first responders who worked tirelessly to keep the region safe. Under Demoff's leadership, the Rams wrapped their arms around the community in a number of ways including giving away thousands of game tickets to those affected by the tragedies and honoring victims and the community through in-game elements. The Rams partnered with CBS-2 and United Way of Greater Los Angeles on a telethon that raised more than $2.1 million benefiting the relief efforts, and in addition more than $250,000 was raised for a variety of charities supporting the relief efforts through in-game 50/50 raffles, jersey auctions and player ticket donations tied to the game.

Corporate Citizenship

The Rams have received multiple accolades recognizing their impact on the greater Los Angeles region. Just in the past year, the Salvation Army recognized the team with their annual Humanitarian Award and the Los Angeles Business Journal recognized them with the "Business Angel of the Year" award as part of their 2022 Nonprofit and Corporate Citizenship Awards. Additionally, the LA Chamber of Commerce honored the organization with the Distinguished Business Leader Award and the Valley Industry & Commerce Association (VICA) inducted the Rams into the 2022 San Fernando Valley Business Hall of Fame.

Kevin Demoff Continued

Reinforcing the Rams' commitment to the Los Angeles community, Demoff was selected to sit on the Los Angeles Area Chamber of Commerce's CEO Council. He also serves on multiple boards including the LA Coalition for the Economy & Jobs, the Los Angeles Sports Council, and the Los Angeles Sports and Entertainment Commission, as well as its philanthropic initiative, ChampionLA. Additionally, Demoff is part of the American Cancer Society's CEOs Against Cancer, which is a partnership of the world's leading CEOs and the American Cancer Society dedicated to eliminating unnecessary deaths and suffering from cancer. He also serves as the Co-Chair of The Los Angeles Coalition for the Economy & Jobs, an independent, bipartisan membership organization established to bring together leaders from the region's business, labor, academic and nonprofit communities to advance sound policy initiatives that will help grow the economy and create quality jobs throughout the L.A. region.

Last March, Demoff was awarded Executive of the Year for the 2023 LA Sports Awards. Los Angeles Business Journal also recognized Demoff for five consecutive years on its annual LA500 list, honoring the most influential leaders and executives in Los Angeles. In 2016, he was recognized by the Sports Business Journal as one of its "Forty under 40" class members and in 2010 he was named one of the "NFL's 10 Future Power Brokers" by Sports Illustrated.

Before the Rams

Prior to joining the Rams, Demoff spent four seasons with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers (2005-08), where he served as a consultant before being named Senior Assistant in 2006. In this capacity, Demoff assisted General Manager Bruce Allen in contract negotiations, salary cap management, strategic planning and both college and pro scouting. During his tenure with the Buccaneers, the team captured NFC South titles in 2005 and 2007 while posting a winning record in three of his four seasons.

From 2001-04, Demoff served as Director of Football Operations for the Los Angeles Avengers of the Arena Football League. He helped direct the team to its first-ever playoff berth and in his final three seasons with the club, the Avengers posted a record of 28-18, third-best in the Arena Football League, qualifying for the playoffs in each of those seasons.

Born and raised in Los Angeles, Calif., Demoff received a bachelors' degree in history from Dartmouth College in 1999 and a Masters in Business Administration from the Tuck School of Business at Dartmouth in 2006, where he serves on the MBA Leadership Council.

General Manager

Les Snead

College: Auburn

Rams Year: 12

Les Snead is entering his twelfth season as General Manager of the Los Angeles Rams and was hired for the position in February of 2012. In his role, Snead partners with Head Coach Sean McVay to direct all personnel decisions for the club. In addition, he coordinates all aspects of the club's football operations with the Head Coach and joins forces with C.O.O./Executive Vice President of Football Operations Kevin Demoff and Vice President of Football & Business Administration Tony Pastors to direct the team's business ventures.

Snead's tenure has been marked by strategic, aggressive moves that have created a strong core nucleus of talent and depth throughout the roster. Snead set his philosophy in motion just days after his hiring and has continued it through the 2023 NFL Draft.

After guiding the Rams through an organizational rebuild and transition back home to Los Angeles, Snead and the Rams have continued to thrive in the contention phase of NFL roster building and have created a team-building philosophy and model that other clubs have started to emulate. Under Snead's guidance, the Rams recorded five consecutive winning seasons (2017-22), reaching the postseason four of the last six with two Super Bowl appearances and one world championship.

The Rams' Super Bowl LVI victory in 2021 was made possible due to a series of trades executed by Snead for established and proven players. In January of 2021, Snead traded for veteran QB Matthew Stafford. Ahead of the team's final preseason game, Snead acquired former RB Sony Michel from the Patriots. Additionally, following a strong start to the season, Snead made more moves to complete an already talented roster, acquiring star outside linebacker Von Miller and signing former WR Odell Beckham Jr. Each addition proved to be paramount to the Rams' championship run.

Since becoming General Manager, Snead has orchestrated 45 trades and selected 110 players in the NFL Draft. Five of those draft selections have received All-Pro honors, which ranks among the most drafted All-Pro selections since 2012. During Snead's tenure, the Rams have also acquired All-Pro players such as DB Jalen Ramsey, LB Bobby Wagner and recently retired T Andrew Whitworth.

In the 2023 Draft, the Rams were without a first-round pick for the sixth-straight season after trading picks to acquire proven talent and reward the team's core nucleus with long-term contracts following the 2021 season. With 14 draft selections in rounds 2-7, Snead added youth and depth to a roster that lost players who were instrumental to the team's success in recent years.

With his first pick on Day 2 in the second round, the Rams added to the interior of the offensive line with OL Steve Avila out of TCU. In round three, the Rams replenished talent on the defensive front with OLB Byron Young out of Tennessee and Kobie Turner from Wake Forest.

The Rams were the busiest team in the NFL on Day 3, selecting two-time college national champion QB Stetson Bennett out of Georgia in the fourth round. Snead used the fifth round to add talent to both sides of the ball, selecting OLB Nick Hampton from Appalachian State, OT Warren McClendon Jr. from Georgia, TE Davis Allen out of Clemson, and WR Puka Nacua from BYU. With three selections in the sixth round, Snead drafted DB Tre Tomlinson, who was the winner of the Paycom Jim Thorpe Award as college football's best defensive back, as well as RB Zach Evans from Ole Miss and LB Ochaun Mathis out of Nebraska. The Rams also selected P Ethan Evans from Wingate, DB Jason Taylor II out of Oklahoma State, and DE Desjuan Johnson from Toledo in the seventh round.

In the 2022 NFL Draft, the Rams were busy on Days 2 and 3 with eight selections in Rounds 3-7. Snead's first selection in Round 3 was Wisconsin G Logan Bruss to help solidify a strong position group that featured two Wisconsin Badgers at the time in T Rob Havenstein and G David Edwards. With the team's seven picks on Day 3, Snead added depth to the secondary by selecting DBs Cobie Durant (Round 4) from South Carolina State and Derion Kendrick from (Round 6) from Clemson, as well as Safeties Quentin Lake (Round 6) out of UCLA and Russ Yeast (Round 7) from Kansas State. He also added to the offensive backfield with the selection of RB Kyren Williams (Round 5) out of Notre Dame. Snead and his staff then made a late round trade with Tampa Bay to select OLB Daniel Hardy out of Montana State.

With a total of nine picks in the 2021 Draft, Snead and his staff selected four offensive players and five players to bolster the defense. On Day 2 in the second round, Snead selected WR Tutu Atwell out of Louisville and LB Ernest Jones from South Carolina in Round 3. The following day in the fourth round, the Rams picked DL Bobby Brown out of Texas A&M, DB Robert Rochell out of Central Arkansas, and former WR/TE Jacob Harris out of Central Florida. For the team's three picks in the final round, the Rams selected former RB Jake Funk out of Maryland, WR Ben Skowronek out of Notre Dame, and former OLB Chris Garrett out of Concordia-St. Paul.

Leading up to the 2020 NFL season, Snead led negotiations in the signing of free agent and former OLB Leonard Floyd, who registered 29.0 sacks and started every game in his three years with the Rams. Snead also signed former DL A'Shawn Robinson, a linchpin of the Rams defensive front, and former Pro Bowl K Matt Gay.

Les Snead Continued

Snead added offensive support with the Rams' first two picks in the second round of the 2020 NFL Draft by selecting RB Cam Akers out of Florida State and WR Van Jefferson out of Florida. The team's later picks such as former OLB Terrell Lewis (Round 3) out of Alabama, former DB Terrell Burgess (Round 3) out of Utah, and S Jordan Fuller (Round 6) out of Ohio State helped improve a defense that eventually became the league's number one ranked unit during the regular season. That draft class also included selections such as TE Brycen Hopkins (Round 4) out of Purdue and G Tremayne Anchrum (Round 7) out of Clemson.

The Rams made six trades in the 2019 NFL Draft, including a trade out of the first round to acquire additional draft capital. L.A. used its first pick of the draft to select former S Taylor Rapp out of Washington in the second round before making three selections in the third round that included key contributors such as former RB Darrell Henderson out of Memphis, former DB David Long Jr. out of Michigan and former OL Bobby Evans out of Oklahoma. The 2019 Draft class also featured late round picks such as former DT Greg Gaines, former G David Edwards, and former S Nick Scott. All of the 2019 draftees played significant and meaningful snaps during their time with the Rams.

Snead took a different approach to the 2018 offseason compared to previous years, making trades to acquire players and bolster draft capital. From the start of the new league year on March 14 through the completion of the 2018 NFL Draft, Snead and his staff executed 11 trades that resulted in the acquisition of players such as former CBs Marcus Peters and Aqib Talib, as well as former WR Brandin Cooks. Additionally, the Rams landed coveted free agent and former DT Ndamukong Suh. Prior to the start of the 2018 season, L.A. rewarded two former first-round picks in DT Aaron Donald and former RB Todd Gurley II with long-term contracts, making both Donald and Gurley the highest paid players at their positions following a 2017 season when they won Associated Press Defensive and Offensive Player of the year accolades, respectively.

In the 2018 Draft, Snead selected 11 players, despite not having a pick in the first two rounds. L.A. used its first two picks on offensive linemen picking OL Joseph Noteboom out of TCU and C Brian Allen from Michigan State. The Rams used seven of the remaining nine selections to bolster depth along the defensive front. All 11 picks were on the roster entering the 2019 offseason program.

From 2012-2017, Snead made 52 selections in the Draft, with five earning All-Pro honors, the most in the league during that timeframe. Snead's draft choices included back-to-back Associated Press Rookie of the Year honorees in Donald (2014 Defensive Rookie of the Year) and Gurley (2015 Offensive Rookie of the Year). Both players went on to earn AP Offensive and Defensive Player of the Year honors following the 2017 season.

The Rams have reaped early dividends from many of Snead's initial selections, particularly in the early rounds. Of the 13 players Snead selected in the first or second round of his first four drafts, seven were named to the Pro Football Writers of America All-Rookie Team following their first season. In total, 10 players drafted by Snead have made an All-Rookie Team.

Despite not owning a first-round selection, Snead was active in free agency during the 2017 offseason to supplement the young talent accumulated through the draft on the Rams roster. The first moves made by Snead with Head Coach Sean McVay were the signings of former Pro Bowl T Andrew Whitworth and former WR Robert Woods.

In the 2017 NFL Draft, Snead maneuvered trades to select former TE Gerald Everett out of South Alabama. The Rams used three of their first four selections on pass catchers, selecting WR Cooper Kupp and former WR Josh Reynolds, in addition to DB John Johnson III with the second of two third round selections. Johnson re-signed with the Rams this past offseason. As a group, the 2017 draft class started 26 games as rookies, led by Johnson who started 11 games at safety. The 2017 rookie class was highlighted by Kupp being named to the PFWA All-Rookie Team. Kupp went on to eventually capture the receiving triple crown, becoming the first player since 2005 to lead the NFL in receptions, receiving yards and receiving touchdowns in 2021. Kupp also won the NFL's Offensive Player of the Year Award and became Super Bowl LVI MVP that same season.

The 2016 season kicked off with a blockbuster pre-draft trade from No. 15 overall to No. 1 overall with the Tennessee Titans to select Cal QB Jared Goff. The trade sent the Titans the Rams' first-round draft pick (No. 15), two second-round draft picks (No. 43, No. 45), and a third-round draft pick (No. 76) in 2016. Tennessee also obtained Los Angeles' first-round and third-round picks in the 2017 NFL Draft. In addition to receiving the No. 1 overall pick, Los Angeles received the Titans' fourth-round (No. 113) and sixth-round (No. 177) selections in 2016.

The Rams' 2016 Training Camp roster was the youngest roster in the NFL. Since the Snead administration has been in place, the Rams boasted the youngest roster during the 2012, 2014, 2016 and this year's 2023 season. The Rams were the second-youngest team in 2015.

In 2015, Snead led a draft that focused on revamping the run game. The process began by selecting Gurley No. 10 overall and then selecting four offensive linemen with the team's next six selections, highlighted by Rob Havenstein Havenstein, who has gone on to start all 116 regular season games played and 10 postseason contests with the organization. The Rams boasted the third-youngest offensive line in the NFL during the 2015 season, which showcased Havenstein who did not allow a sack as a rookie.

Gurley became just the third Rams rookie running back to eclipse the 1,000-yard rushing mark since Hall of Famers Eric Dickerson (1983) and Jerome Bettis (1993). Gurley led all rookies in rushing and finished third among all NFL runners in rushing yards (1,106). His season culminated with a Pro Bowl berth, Pro Football Writers of America Rookie of the Year Award, and NFL Offensive Rookie of the Year, marking the second-consecutive year that a Rams rookie took home NFL rookie honors (Donald –DPOY 2015). Gurley had his best season as a pro in 2018, leading the league with 2,093 scrimmage yards and 19 total touchdowns.

Snead and his staff made a total of 11 selections in the 2014 draft. With their first-round pick, they selected Donald, a Pittsburgh All-American who earned Pro Bowl honors and was named NFL Defensive Rookie of the year after posting 9.0 sacks, the second-most by any NFL defensive tackle that season. Donald bested his rookie performance in year two and garnered 11.0 sacks, which tied for most in the league at his position on his way to his second-consecutive Pro Bowl nod and went on to win Associated Press Defensive Player of the Year honors in 2018. After becoming the highest paid-defensive tackle in NFL history, Donald thanked Snead and the Rams with a franchise-best 20.5 sacks, the most by an interior defensive lineman in league history, earning his second-consecutive AP Defensive Player of the Year honor. Since Donald was drafted in 2014, he's been selected to the Pro Bowl every season and has received First-Team All-Pro Honors seven

Snead and his staff have had plenty of success with undrafted free agent signings over the last eight years. Of the 53 players on the team's final roster in 2016, 15 joined the Rams as undrafted rookie free agents under Snead's watch. That group included former Pro Bowl P Johnny Hekker, former LS Jake McQuaide and former special teams standout LB Cory Littleton, who blocked two kicks during the 2017 season. Other undrafted free agent signings that have contributed to the Rams success have been G Coleman Shelton, T Alaric Jackson, DL Marquise Copeland, OLB Michael Hoecht, OLB Keir Thomas, and former QB John Wolford.

Snead inherited a roster that had endured one of the most difficult stretches in league history in St. Louis from 2007 to 2011. The team posted a 15-65 record (.188 winning percentage), the worst ever by an NFL team during any five-year period. The Rams' 15 wins during that stretch were the fewest in the league, and Detroit, which had the second-lowest win total during the same time frame, recorded 10 more wins than the Rams with 25. From 2012-15, the Rams logged 27 wins to increase their winning percentage to .422.

In the spring of 2012, Snead directed a trade that sent the second overall pick in the 2012 Draft to Washington in exchange for the sixth and 39th picks that year, along with Washington's first round picks in both 2013 and 2014. Snead made two additional trades in April of 2012 that allowed the Rams to make four of the first 50 selections in the draft. The surplus of picks allowed the Rams to strategically maneuver in the 2013 Draft as well. With the Rams sitting at No. 16, Snead surmised that he wouldn't be able to stand pat and land highly-coveted WR/PR Tavon Austin, so he worked out a deal with the Buffalo Bills. The Rams moved up to Buffalo's eighth spot and selected the speedy playmaker from West Virginia. Austin scored six touchdowns as a rookie – four receiving, one rushing, and one on a 98-yard punt return. In the Rams' win at Indianapolis in 2013, Austin became one of three rookies in NFL history to score three touchdowns of 50 yards or more, joining Hall of Famer Gale Sayers and Randy Moss.

With the 22nd pick, which the Rams owned as part of the Washington trade, Snead made another deal that helped the club recoup a significant portion of what he sent to Buffalo. The Rams swapped places with the Atlanta Falcons, and with the 30th selection, Snead was able to secure the player he targeted at No. 22 - Georgia LB Alec Ogletree. As a rookie, Ogletree led the Rams with 155 tackles and added 1.5 sacks, six forced fumbles and an interception.

Prior to joining the Rams, Snead spent 13 seasons with the Atlanta Falcons serving as the club's director of player personnel from 2009-11, a pro scout, and the team's director of pro personnel. During his time in Atlanta, Snead was part of a personnel staff that signed, traded for, or drafted 16 players that earned Pro Bowl honors.

Snead helped construct a roster that was one of the NFL's best over a four-year span. From 2008-11, the Falcons had four consecutive winning seasons winning 43 games, the fifth-most wins in the NFL over that time period. The Falcons played in one Super Bowl and two NFC Championship games during Snead's time with the club.

Snead joined the Falcons after three seasons (1995-97) in the pro scouting department of the Jacksonville Jaguars. He was hired by the Jaguars prior to the franchise's first season and helped put together a team that garnered an AFC Championship berth in just its second year of existence. Jacksonville won its first division title in Snead's final year with the team.

Snead played tight end for Auburn from 1992-93 and was part of the Tigers' perfect 11-0 team in 1993. He also earned Southeast Region Academic All-American honors during his college career.

The Eufaula, Ala. native holds a Bachelor of Science degree in psychology and planned to attend medical school until he was offered a graduate assistant coaching position at his alma mater. He earned a Master of Education degree at Auburn while working as a graduate assistant and he also served as an administrative assistant of football operations in 1995 at Auburn.

In addition to his duties with the Rams, Snead also sits on a pair of advisory boards, including GAMEBREAKER, a soft shell headgear company powered by D3O Impact Technology to help alleviate some of the abrasions that come with playing any contact or non-contact sport. Snead also serves as a board member on the Curry School Foundation Board at UVA, a dynamic group of professionals who have committed themselves as fundraisers and ambassadors of the school, promoting Curry's work among their networks of colleagues and acquaintances.

Snead is married to Kara Henderson Snead, a former sports media personality who has worked for NFL Network co-hosting NFL Total Access and providing in-depth interviews, pregame and postgame reports and sideline reports for a variety of shows across the network including NFL Total Access, Around the League, NFL GameDay Morning and NFL GameDay Final. Kara graduated cum laude from Duke University. She began her career as a production assistant at ESPN and later ABC News. Her on-air career began at NESN in 1998 as the co-host of NESN's "Front Row". From 2000 to 2003, she worked at CNN as a reporter and anchor.

Together, the couple has three children: two sons, Logan and Tate, as well as a daughter, Cannon.

Vice President,
Football & Business Operations

Tony Pastoors

Rams Year: 14

Tony Pastoors enters his 14th season with the Rams after joining the team prior to the 2010 season. He serves as the vice president of football and business administration.

In this role, Pastoors works directly with Chief Operating Officer Kevin Demoff on all aspects of Rams operations. He partners with General Manager Les Snead and Head Coach Sean McVay in the development and implementation of the club's strategic plans for player signings and player acquisitions.

As the club's chief negotiator, Pastoors is responsible for the team's salary cap management, contract negotiations, compliance with the NFL's Collective Bargaining Agreement as well as the club's financial and strategic planning. Pastoors partners with Snead and McVay in the day-to-day management and execution of the team's football operations. In addition, he serves as a liaison to the club's business operations including marketing, partnerships, finance, ticketing, community relations, administration, and communications. Pastoors is a member of the Rams' executive leadership team and represents the club at a league level, attending NFL league meetings on behalf of the organization.

Pastoors has played a pivotal role in the evolution of the Rams' team-building philosophy and his work has allowed the team to add star-level talent over the last handful of years. There isn't a significant roster or contractual decision that doesn't run through Pastoors and while many have deemed the Rams roster constructing methods as "unconventional" dating back to 2018, numerous clubs around the league have adopted the strategies that Pastoors, Snead, McVay and Demoff have put into place. In both 2021 and 2022, Pastoors was honored in The Athletic's "NFL 40 Under 40" list.

In 2021, Pastoors has helped execute a trade for veteran quarterback Matthew Stafford along with the mid-season trade for Von Miller as well as the acquisition of Odell Beckham Jr., which helped put the Rams over the edge en route to their Super Bowl LVI victory. During the 2019 season, Pastoors worked closely on the trade deal that brought All-Pro defensive back Jalen Ramsey to the Rams and helped sign outside linebacker Leonard Floyd leading up to the 2020 season. All of these deals and acquisitions proved to be paramount to the Rams success for years to come.

Pastoors has discovered creative ways to structure contracts and extend player deals in a way that creates cap space and flexibility for the future. In partnership with Snead last offseason, he calculated new deals for Matthew Stafford, Aaron Donald, and Cooper Kupp.

He also worked closely with McVay and Snead in 2022 to keep crucial members of the team's Super Bowl roster intact and extend lynchpins of the offensive line such as left tackle Joe Noteboom, center Brian Allen, right tackle Rob Havenstein, as well as tight end Tyler Higbee and others over the last few years.

This offseason, Pastoors helped onboard an unprecedented rookie class after the team made 14 selections in the 2023 NFL Draft and signed 22 undrafted rookie free agents.

In January of 2017, Pastoors worked alongside Owner and Chairman Stan Kroenke, Demoff and Snead to reshape the culture of the Rams football operation and usher in a new era. The group led a broad coaching search that resulted in the hiring of Head Coach Sean McVay – the youngest head coach in modern NFL history.

Born and raised in Minneapolis, Minn. Pastoors received his degree from Dartmouth College, where he played football for Head Coach Buddy Teevens.

Tony and his wife Emily, have two daughters Charli and Kiley.

Dan August

College: Dartmouth

Rams Year: 8

The 2023 season marks Daniel August's eighth season with the Los Angeles Rams and his second as Executive Vice President of Consumer Revenue and Strategy.

In his role, August is involved with key strategic initiatives and oversees ticketing, gameday operations, gameday analytics as well as relationships with food & beverage and retail partners. Areas of ticketing include strategy/planning, analytics, sales, operations, suites and guiding the Rams premium ticketing experience on gamedays and year-round.

In his first six seasons with the Rams, August focused on key business ventures and major strategic initiatives for the club, which included ticketing strategy and planning, gameday experience, concessions, digital media, consumer products and analytics.

Prior to joining the Rams, August worked for the NFL league office in New York City for eight years. Over his final two years, he served as Head of Strategic Marketing and Planning, after working for six years in finance, the last as Director of Financial Planning & Analysis. During his tenure at the NFL headquarters, August served on major projects, including the Collective Bargaining Agreement (CBA), NFL Ticket Exchange, apparel and e-commerce deals, International Series expansion, Veteran Combine, NFL Newborn Fan Club and Pro Bowl.

Before entering the sports arena, August served as an investment banking analyst at Morgan Stanley. August received a Bachelor of Arts in Economics from Dartmouth College in 2007 and a Masters in Business Administration from The University of North Carolina's Kenan-Flagler Business School in 2014.

He is married to Joanna Hunter August, who works in corporate affairs for the Rams. They have two daughters, Leah and Isabella.

Treasurer

Jeff Brewer

College: California State University North Ridge

Rams Year: 38

Jeff Brewer is entering his 38th season with the Rams. He joined the team in 1986 as Controller.

Brewer has spent the last 30 years in his current role as Treasurer. As head of the Rams finance department, he oversees day-to-day operations and handles multiple audits, tax work and treasury management.

Originally from Southern California, Jeff earned an accounting degree from California State University, Northridge where he was captain of the basketball team.

Prior to joining the Rams, he worked as a manager at Ernst & Whinney, an accounting firm in Newport Beach, California.

Jeff is married to Alaine, and together they have 6 adult children, Jen, Nick, Robert, Alyssa, Molly and Megan. In his free time he enjoys spending time with his family and traveling. Jeff and Alaine reside in Yorba Linda, Calif.

Vice President, Business Development

Eric Dickerson

College: Southern Methodist

Rams Year: 11

Eric Dickerson joined the Rams front office as vice president of business development in August of 2017, rejoining the organization that drafted him in 1983.

Dickerson played running back for the Rams from 1983 to 1987 and broke the NFL's single season record holder for most yards gained (2,105) in 1984. As a rookie in 1983, he set NFL rookie records for most yards gained in a season (1,808) and attempts (390) and was named NFC and NFL Rookie of the Year.

He currently ranks ninth on the NFL's all-time rushing list with 13,259 yards. The SMU product rushed for more than 100 yards 64 times, which ranks fourth on the NFL's all-time record list. Dickerson went on to complete a legendary NFL career by reaching 10,000 career rushing yards in the shortest amount of games. His production was matched by his running style and unforgettable appearance on the field with sports goggles, a neck roll and the full complement of pads.

Dickerson was selected to the Pro Bowl six times and chosen to NFL's all-Decade team for the 1980's. He was inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame in 1999.

Dickerson was the No. 1 ranked high school football player in the nation before committing to Southern Methodist University (SMU) and turned them into a national powerhouse.

In addition to his work with the Rams, he also has a strategic partnership with iHeart radio and serves as an NFL Analyst for FS1.

Head of Employee Experience

Oracio Galindo

College: Loyola Marymount

Rams Year: 8

Oracio Galindo is entering his eighth season with the Los Angeles Rams as Head of Employee Experience. He oversees the administration of day-to-day human resources activities and is strategically responsible for developing programs, systems, and policies that attract, retain, engage, and develop talent across the organization.

Prior to joining the Rams, Galindo served as the Vice President of Employee Relations and Labor Relations for Tribune Publishing, a media company rooted in award-winning journalism, which employs 8,000 employees across the country. During his tenure, he was instrumental in leading a staff of 25 human resources professionals to drive various transformational and organizational changes across 10 major newspapers. Before his work with Tribune Publishing, he served in various senior leadership roles with other organizations such as the Los Angeles Times, Sony Music Entertainment, Starbucks Coffee, and Red Bull.

Vice President, Partnerships

Jason Griffiths

College: Middlebury

NFL Year: 6

Rams Year: 6

Jason Griffiths enters his sixth season with the Los Angeles Rams serving as the organization's Vice President of Partnerships.

In his current role, he is responsible for managing the current Rams partners as well as overseeing the origination of new partnerships at SoFi Stadium.

Prior to joining the Rams organization, Griffiths served as Director of Enterprise Sales for Box, an enterprise cloud content management company. During his three-year tenure, Griffiths helped build Box's North East presence from a small team of thirty members to over one hundred and fifty. During this time, the North East region became one of the most successful sales regions in the US.

Before his time with Box, Griffiths worked for Rackspace from 2009 through 2015, starting as an Account Manager and working his way up to a Senior Sales Executive. His roles included developing and executing all sales and account management strategies for a portfolio of Fortune 1000 accounts, building successful sales teams and helping Rackspace expand their sales presence in New York City.

Griffiths co-founded Cortech Group in 2005, a fast moving consumer goods company. As co-founder, Griffiths helped create a business plan, raised equity and serviced multi-billion dollar international retailers.

Griffiths earned a bachelor's degree from Middlebury College in 2004 and went on to earn a masters from Stanford University in 2005. Griffiths lives in Sherman Oaks with his wife Courtney and their son, Rhys and daughter, Louisa.

Chief Technology Officer

Skarpi Hedinsson

College: Washington

Rams Year: 7

Skarpi Hedinsson joined the Los Angeles Rams in February of 2017 as the organization's first Chief Technology Officer.

In this role, Hedinsson oversees the team's technology strategy, shared service delivery and management of both football and corporate technology activities.

In addition to these roles, Hedinsson drove the vision and led the team that oversaw the implementation of technology throughout Hollywood Park, the 298-acre district being built by Rams Owner/Chairman E. Stanley Kroenke. This includes SoFi Stadium, YouTube Theater, a 6,000-seat performance venue, as well as retail, commercial office space, a hotel and more than 20 acres of parkland.

Prior to Hollywood Park and the Rams, Hedinsson was the Chief Technology Officer for Disney/ABC Television Group, where he oversaw efforts to identify new technology talent, capabilities and platforms. Hedinsson had previously served as the company's Senior Vice President, Technology & Platform, Digital Media and developed the revolutionary WATCH ABC and WATCH Disney services, making the Disney/ABC Television Group the first entertainment company to provide authenticated users access to both live, 24/7 linear network streams as well as an extensive offering of advantaged window "on demand" episodes on desktops, mobile and connected TV devices.

Hedinsson is the inventor or co-inventor of eighteen U.S Patents in the field of digital media and streaming video. He graduated from the University of Washington with a degree in Computer Science.

Executive Vice President,
Community Impact and Engagement

Molly Higgins

College: Northern Iowa
NFL Year: 22
Rams Year: 22

Molly Higgins is the Executive Vice President of Community Impact and Engagement for the Los Angeles Rams. In her role, Higgins oversees the Rams community outreach and social justice efforts and aims to use the team's platform to fight for equality, drive equity and provide access and opportunity for youth.

Through various programs and initiatives, Higgins and her team work to address issues of poverty that disproportionately impact communities of color including education inequities, housing and food insecurities, community-police relations, youth justice and mentorship.

One of the Rams' signature programs is the Watts Rams youth football program consisting of 125 boys and girls who are coached by LAPD officers. Using the game of football, the goal of the program is to help bridge the divide between the Watts community and law enforcement allowing the kids to see the officers as human beings and mentors, while allowing the officers to get to know the community members they serve. The Rams fund all components of the program and throughout the year, provide engagement opportunities with current players and enrichment and educational experiences to help the kids dream beyond their current reality.

Beyond the Watts Rams, Higgins is driven by the fact that talent is equally distributed, but opportunity is not. With that as a focus, Higgins has placed an emphasis on the Rams being a collaborative partner in the education space with the goal of helping to close the achievement gap for low-income students. Through year-round school engagement including the Rams Readers literacy program, PLAY 60 youth health and wellness Field Days, mentorship programs, internship opportunities, incentive campaigns, playground builds, campus beautifications, career chats, college field trips and funding City Year student success coaches, the Rams are committed to ensuring a child's education and upward mobility are not dictated by their zip code.

Two years ago, the Rams created an additional education program when they introduced the Kenny Washington Memorial Scholarship to celebrate the 75th anniversary of the Rams becoming the first professional sports team in the modern era to sign an African-American player, Kenny Washington, in 1946. Each year, the scholarship provides up to four years of financial support for 13 students who are among the first in their families to pursue a post-secondary education.

This season, the team will continue their efforts to support the 1 in 5 Angelenos who struggle with food insecurity with efforts like mobile food drives as well as Taste of the Rams, which Higgins introduced in 2016 upon the team's return to Los Angeles. To date, the event has raised nearly $1.2 million dollars for LA Regional Food Bank and provided more than 4.5 million meals to Angelenos in need.

In 2023, the Rams will host the 3rd annual WalkUnitedLA at SoFi Stadium to help United Way's efforts to break the cycles of poverty through homelessness and housing, education and economic opportunity initiatives. Other areas of focus include growing the game of youth and high school football and celebrating the contributions of our military members and veterans through our year-round salute to service efforts. Additionally, the team participates in a variety of special events each year to raise awareness and funding for numerous local non-profits throughout the greater LA region to improve the lives of Angelenos.

Beyond the organization's charitable priorities, the Rams community impact team works to understand each player's areas of interest and aligns them with causes they are passionate about to enable them to personally impact their community. When Andrew Whitworth joined the Rams in 2017, Higgins worked with him to create a community impact strategy. Leading up to Super Bowl LVI, his impact was recognized when he has awarded the NFL Walter Payton Man of the Year, the league's most prestigious honor that recognizes a player's commitment to philanthropy and community impact, as well as excellence on the field.

In addition to Higgins' community impact and engagement responsibilities, she is part of the Rams' executive team that helps shape the organization's off the field strategies.

The Sports Business Journal named Higgins to their 2020 class of "Game Changers." In 2019, the United Way of Greater Los Angeles recognized Higgins with an EmpowerHer Award for her commitment to advance equity in Los Angeles. During her time in St. Louis, Higgins was a recipient of the Bar Association of Metropolitan St. Louis' "Spirit of Justice Award" honoring individuals who have demonstrated accomplishment, leadership and integrity in facilitating and promoting justice. In 2014, Higgins was recognized as one of St. Louis' "Most Influential Business Women" by the St. Louis Business Journal. Higgins was named to the St. Louis Business Journal's 30 under 30 list in 2006, an annual award that honors 30 St. Louis-area business leaders under the age of 30.

Prior to joining the Rams, Higgins worked in public relations for Unigraphics Solutions, a NYSE-listed global computer software company.

A graduate of the University of Northern Iowa with a B.A. in public relations and a minor in marketing, Higgins is also a graduate of the Coro Women in Leadership program and participated in the Stanford Graduate School of Business Program for NFL Managers. She and her wife, Missy, reside in Playa Vista.

Vice President,
Corporate Affairs

Joanna Hunter

College: Dartmouth

Rams Year: 8

Joanna Hunter is in her eighth season with the Rams and serves as the Vice President of Corporate Affairs. In this role, she oversees the club's communications strategy around the team's off-the-field matters including business and social responsibility efforts.

Hunter helped lead the Rams PR staff that won the Pro Football Writers Association's Pete Rozelle Award, which is given annually to the NFL club public relations staff that consistently strives for excellence in its dealings and relationships with the media in 2018 after the department was named a finalist for the award following the 2017 campaign.

The 2023 season will be Hunter's 18th season in the National Football League, spending 10 seasons at the league office as part of the NFL's communications department. She started her career at the NFL in 2006 as a Communications Assistant and transitioned to corporate communications in 2007. She served as the NFL's Director of Corporate Communications, focusing on rapid response and crisis management as well as communications around business initiatives and key issues such as health and safety and social responsibility.

In her time at the NFL, she was part of a team that managed media relations and operations for NFL Draft, NFL Kickoff and Super Bowl (Super Bowl XLI – 50), the NFL Honors awards show, and the Super Bowl Halftime Show.

Hunter earned her undergraduate degree in French from Dartmouth College in Hanover, NH. She is married to Dan August, who serves as the Executive Vice President of Consumer Revenue and Strategy for the team. Together, they have two daughters, Leah and Isabella.

Strategy and Operations

Margaret Plouffe

College: Yale

Rams Year: 3

Margaret Plouffe is currently the Vice President of Marketing Strategy and Operations for the Los Angeles Rams.

In this role, she helps guide strategic decision making and operational effectiveness to drive growth for the club's marketing efforts. Margaret joined the Rams in 2021 from Live Nation Entertainment, where she held strategy roles at Live Nation Concerts and Ticketmaster.

Plouffe's previous experience includes consulting with Boston Consulting Group as well as marketing and operational roles at various tech startups in New York City.

She has an MBA from UCLA Anderson School of Management and a BA from Yale University.

Chief Commercial Officer

Jen Prince

College: University of California,
Santa Barbara

Rams Year: 3

As the Chief Commercial Officer of the Los Angeles Rams, Jennifer is responsible for overseeing all partnerships — including sales, activation, and strategy — as well as the commercialization of the media business, including owned-and-operated channels, social media accounts and media partnerships.

Jennifer previously spent over eight years at Twitter as the Global Vice President and Head of Content Partnerships and Managing Director of Global Media & Entertainment Partnerships. Prior to joining Twitter in August of 2013, Jennifer was Head of Industry for Film & Television at Google and Head of YouTube Media & Entertainment. Jennifer also served as the Senior Vice President of Advertising at Demand Media and helped the company through its IPO.

She has worked at other notable companies such as American Greetings, Ziff Davis and TBWA/Chiat Day. Jennifer has spent over 25 years in digital advertising, content, and partnerships.

She earned a BA Communications degree from University of California, Santa Barbara. In addition to her role at the Los Angeles Rams, Jennifer serves on various boards such as Hershey Entertainment & Resorts, System1 and Versus Systems. She lives in Los Angeles and keeps busy with her husband and three daughters.

Vice President, Ticket and Premium Sales

Hadley Rossitter

College: University of California,
Santa Barbara

Rams Year: 3

Hadley Rossitter enters his third season with the Los Angeles Rams as the Vice President of Ticket and Premium Sales.

In his role, he is responsible for establishing and leading sales strategies that maximize new business while delivering premium service that optimizes year-over-year retention.

Rossitter joined the Rams after being a part of the Legends' executive team as the Director of Suite Sales and Service, overseeing all new revenue for the Los Angeles Stadium & Entertainment District project at Hollywood Park in Inglewood, which is home to SoFi Stadium.

Prior to joining Legends, Rossitter served as the Director of Premium Seating for Comcast Spectator and the Wells Fargo Center in Philadelphia, PA.

His first role with Legends was part of a group that generated seat license revenues exceeding $500 million and over $400 million in contracted suite lease revenue for the 49ers' Levi Stadium from 2011-2014.

Rossitter was born and raised locally in Los Angeles and received his bachelor's degree in Business Economics from UC Santa Barbara. He resides in Culver City with his wife, Andrea, and his 4-year-old son, Carter.

Vice President,
Demand Generation and CRM

Marty Turman

College: Northern Illinois

NFL Year: 6

Rams Year: 6

Marty Turman enters his sixth season with the Los Angeles Rams serving as the organization's Vice President of Demand Generation, CRM, and Marketing Analytics.

In his role, Turman focuses on building awareness of the Rams brand and loyalty amongst their fan base. In addition, he leads the data-driven marketing strategies that encompass the gathering and usage of fan's engagement with the team and performance of activities leveraging this data.

Turman has experienced many memorable moments throughout his career with the Rams, including the Super Bowl run in 2018, driving fan attendance to one of the most electric Monday Night Football games of all time against the Kansas City Chiefs in 2018 after the game was relocated from Mexico, the opening of SoFi Stadium, the team's Super Bowl LVI victory, and the continued evolution of the team's data-driven marketing sophistication.

Moving into his sixth year, Turman's focus will continue to be revolutionizing the marketing technology ecosystem, initiating new fan loyalty strategies, data unification across systems and messaging personalization.

Turman joined the Rams after serving four years as the Senior Director of Relationship Marketing for Vail Resorts, Inc. in Colorado, where he led a team responsible for strategy and deployment of company-wide direct marketing communications. Prior to joining Vail Resorts, Inc., Turman spent over a decade in the gaming industry in Las Vegas and Chicago leading a variety of marketing initiatives including: loyalty marketing & CRM, multicultural marketing, key account sales strategy, and live entertainment booking/advertising.

Turman was born and raised in the suburbs of Chicago and received his bachelor's in marketing at Northern Illinois University. Turman later earned his MBA from the University of Southern California. He and his wife, Janet, have two boys, Max and Mateo, who have all become devoted Rams fans.

Vice President,
Sports Medicine & Performance

Reggie Scott

College: West Virginia

NFL Year: 22

Rams Year: 14

Reggie Scott enters his 14th year with the Rams and was named Vice President, Sports Medicine and Performance in 2020. Scott joined the team as the Head Athletic Trainer and served as the Director and Senior Director of Sports Medicine and Performance before moving up the ranks to vice president.

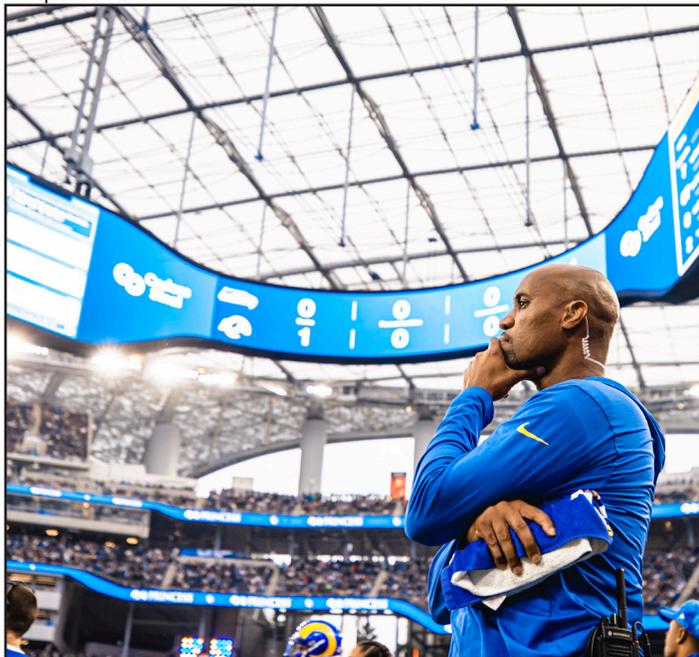

Scott initially joined the Rams in 2010 and became the youngest Head Athletic Trainer in the modern NFL era.

In his current role, Scott oversees the athletic training department which is responsible for managing and facilitating the medical care of Rams players. This includes daily evaluation, treatment, rehabilitation, prevention, education and administrative work.

In addition to his duties with the Rams, Scott serves as the acting president for the Professional Football Athletic Trainers Society's (PFATS) executive board.

During the Rams' inaugural season back in Los Angeles, Calif., Scott and his staff were charged with developing and managing three fully-equipped training facilities before settling into their home base.

In 2015, Scott and his staff was named the 2015 NFL Athletic Training Staff of the Year by the Professional Football Athletic Trainers Society. The award is voted on by the PFATS members and recognizes one NFL athletic training staff annually for their distinguished service to their club, community and athletic training profession. The honor marked the first time the Rams have been recipients of the award since it was established in 1985.

Before joining the Rams, Scott spent six seasons as an Assistant Athletic Trainer for the Carolina Panthers, starting with their NFC Championship season in 2003. Scott was a part of back-to-back Super Bowl appearance teams, coming straight off his first NFL season as an intern on the Tampa Bay Buccaneers athletic training staff during their 2002 Super Bowl Championship season.

Prior to entering the NFL ranks, Scott worked as a student athletic trainer at his alma mater, West Virginia University, for four years (1999-2002). He earned his bachelor's degree in athletic training from WVU. Scott also earned a master's degree in performance enhancement and injury prevention from California University at Pennsylvania. In 2007, he added the Performance Enhancement Specialist Certification from the National Academy of Sports Medicine.

Scott broke into athletic training as an intern with the Philadelphia Phillies in 2000.

Scott is the chairman of the membership service committee and advocacy committee for the Professional Football Athletic Trainers Society. He is also a member of the National Athletic Trainers Association, where he serves as an Ethnic Diversity mentor. In 2004, he was a part of the staff that won the PFATS Athletic Training Staff of the Year award, and in 2003, he earned the U.S. Air Force Commanders Award for Excellence which he completed at Dover Air Force Base.

Scott grew up in Dover, Del., with his mom, Juana Fuentes Bowles, his father, Reggie Scott Sr., and sister, Victoria Fuentes Cox, who still reside in the area. Scott has been married for 15 years to his wife, Tina, and they have two children: Sophia and Isabella.

Vice President,
Communications

Artis Twyman

College: Tennessee State

NFL Year: 23

Rams Year: 21

Artis Twyman is in his fourth year as Vice President of Communications for the Los Angeles Rams. In this position, Twyman oversees the media relations staff and directs the Rams' communication efforts.

The 2023 season will be Twyman's 21st season with the Rams. He previously served nine seasons as senior director of communications and three seasons as the team's director of media relations after spending six years as assistant director of football media.

Following the 2018 season, Twyman and the Rams communications department won the Pro Football Writers Association's Pete Rozelle Award, which recognizes the NFL public relations staff that consistently strives for excellence in its dealings and relationships with the media. It marked the first time the Rams won the award since 1997 and only the second time in franchise history.

Prior to joining the Rams in 2003, Twyman spent two years as a public relations assistant for the Seattle Seahawks. He broke into the NFL in 2001 as a public relations intern for the expansion Houston Texans. From 1995-2001, he worked in the Tennessee State University Public Relations Department, serving in many capacities, including three years as public information officer.

In 2012, he was one of only two public relations officials throughout the 32-team league chosen to work the Pro Bowl in Honolulu, Hawaii. He also received this honor in 2011, 2009, 2008 and 2006. Twyman also was part of public relations staffs for NFC Championship games, as well as several Super Bowls.

In 2021, he served as the chair of the Dean's Advisory Council at California Lutheran University.

Twyman earned his undergraduate degree in speech communications from Tennessee State University in Nashville, Tenn., and a master's degree in mass communications from Middle Tennessee State University in Murfreesboro, Tenn.

Partnership Marketing

Lexi Vonderlieth

College: Pepperdine

NFL Year: 5

Rams Year: 5

Lexi Vonderlieth is entering her fifth year with the Rams and serves as the club's Vice President of Partnership Marketing.

In her role, Vonderlieth drives overall strategic and executional development of all exclusive partnerships for the Rams and provides support for partners at SoFi Stadium at Hollywood Park.

Previously, Vonderlieth spent seven years at TBWA/Chiat/Day, an advertising agency committed to creating innovative brand and marketing programs. The majority of her time was spent across Gatorade and Airbnb in numerous roles from sports marketing, branded content to senior marketing manager. Working on Gatorade, she managed all sports marketing advertising with leagues/teams/athletes, brand integrated marketing programs and branded content.

Vonderlieth led the development of the Gatorade branded content program with the debut of "RG3: The Will to Win" documentary which was a first-time deal between Gatorade, RG3, NFL Films and ESPN/ABC programming. She also worked closely on the "There is No Tomorrow" documentary that followed the Brazilian National team from the 2012 Olympic defeat to the 2014 World Cup. For Airbnb, Vonderlieth successfully worked on the launch of the brand's first global campaign developing innovative tactics per market.

As a director, Vonderlieth spent the next three years driving strategic and creative development for Beats by Dre at R/GA and Anomaly. Notably, she helped launch Beats by Dre into the 2015 Rugby World Cup, with a fully integrated campaign into a new sport and new market for the brand.

In 2016, Vonderlieth worked on the "Got No Strings" launch of the Beats X product to the market and developed fully-integrated partnership campaigns for global partners, Best Buy, T-Mobile and FNAC. In 2017, she led a "Be Heard" sports anthem campaign which led to No. 1 market share for wireless headphones.

Prior to joining the Rams, Vonderlieth worked as a Global Director at Media Arts Lab leading all Apple Services. Her duties included global marketing and strategy for Apple Music, Apple Pay, Homepod. She focused the last year on the launch of Apple TV+, working on the Apple TV+ announcement and continued to develop the strategy and launch plan for Apple TV+ streaming brand and show campaigns.

Vonderlieth was recognized in consecutive years by the "Business Insiders: 30 most creative women in advertising," in 2016 and 2017.

Vonderlieth received her bachelor's degree in communications from Pepperdine University. She went on to earn her master's of business administration and marketing from Loyola Marymount University.

Vonderlieth, her husband Paulo and their two young boys, Dylan and Lukas, reside in Los Angeles.

Head Coach

Sean McVay

Rams Coaching Year: 7

On January 12, 2017, Los Angeles Rams Owner/Chairman E. Stanley Kroenke named Sean McVay the 23rd full-time head coach in franchise history. McVay became the youngest coach in modern NFL history at 30 years old.

McVay has led the Rams to four playoff berths and two Super Bowl appearances in his first six seasons, winning Super Bowl LVI at SoFi Stadium. McVay has a 60-38 regular season record and is 7-3 in the playoffs. He has also led the Rams to five winning seasons with three NFC West titles. McVay currently remains the youngest head coach in the NFL despite entering his seventh season at the helm.

Last season, McVay helped several Rams players receive notable recognitions for their performances on the field. Defensive Tackle Aaron Donald was voted to his ninth career Pro Bowl and former Defensive Back Jalen Ramsey was voted to his sixth Pro Bowl. Donald was also named to the NFLPA All-Pro team. Additionally, in his lone season with the Rams, former Linebacker Bobby Wagner fell three tackles short of breaking the Rams' single-season tackle record (142).

Before sustaining an injury in Week 11, McVay helped Quarterback Matthew Stafford record the highest completion percentage of his career (68.0%). He also supported former Rams Quarterback Baker Mayfield, who led the Rams on a game-winning drive against the Raiders in Week 14 despite joining the team only two days prior. Mayfield and McVay led the Rams on a 98-yard touchdown drive to win the game. According to Elias Sports Bureau, that was the longest go-ahead touchdown drive to begin in the final two minutes of a game in the last 45 years. Mayfield earned Player of the Week honors following the game.

Running Back Cam Akers eclipsed the 100-yard rushing mark in three consecutive games to close out the regular season and became the first Rams running back to have three consecutive 100+ yard rushing performances in the same season since Todd Gurley in 2015. McVay also helped Tyler Higbee break the single-season franchise record for receptions by a tight end (72) and become the team's all-time leader in touchdowns for tight ends (20).

Under the leadership of McVay last season, the Rams' defense ranked among the best in the NFL. The unit finished first in opponent red zone efficiency (44.4%), second in goal-to-go efficiency (53.3%), and fourth in fewest missed tackles (103). The Rams' defense also finished tied for seventh in interceptions (16), and ninth in defensive total rush EPA (42.97). According to PFF, the defense finished with the sixth-best grade (77.5) and was first against the rush (87.0 grade) and second in tackling (88.0 grade).

During the 2021 season, McVay produced his fifth-straight winning season with the Rams, which was the longest consecutive winning season streak since the Rams posted four-consecutive winning seasons from 1983-1986. The 12-5 record earned

L.A. its fourth postseason appearance and second Super Bowl appearance in McVay's first five seasons leading the franchise which was capped off by a Super Bowl LVI victory in the Rams' home stadium. McVay also became the youngest head coach in NFL history to win a Super Bowl at the age of 36.

He became the second-fastest coach in franchise history to reach the 50-win mark. McVay also was the youngest head coach to lead his team to a Super Bowl during the 2018 campaign and was the youngest coach to win AP Coach of the Year at the age of 31. He won 70% of his first 50 games, which is the sixth-best winning percentage of all-time among coaches with at least 50 games.

The Rams offense thrived during the 2021 season and in Matthew Stafford's first year under center. Under McVay's guidance, the Rams offense ranked in the top 10 in total offense and fifth in passing offense. Stafford threw for almost 5,000 yards and Receiver Cooper Kupp won the Triple Crown, leading the league in receptions, receiving yards and receiving touchdowns.

The Rams would have sent four starters to the 2021 Pro Bowl had they not been preparing for Super Bowl LVI at SoFi Stadium. On offense, Kupp was selected to his first Pro Bowl. On defense, Jalen Ramsey earned his fifth straight Pro Bowl nod and Aaron Donald earned his eighth-straight Pro Bowl nod. Former Kicker Matt Gay was selected as the starter in his first Pro Bowl. The Rams also had four players selected as alternates including Matthew Stafford, former Tackle Andrew Whitworth, former Outside Linebacker Leonard Floyd and Center Brian Allen. Kupp, Ramsey and Donald were All-Pro selections.

In a season that was anything but normal due to the COVID-19 pandemic in 2020, the Rams defense flourished earning the league's No. 1 ranked unit and dominating in three different categories. The Rams defense held opposing offenses to only 16.8 points per game, 281.9 yards per game, 190.7 passing yards per game and held each opposing quarterback to under 300 net yards passing. McVay won his third-career postseason contest, this time against a familiar opponent on the road against the Seattle Seahawks in a Wild Card game before falling to the Green Bay Packers at Lambeau Field in the Divisional Round.

In 2020, DL Aaron Donald became the third player in league history to be named NFL Defensive Player of the Year three times. He was also named the PFWA Defensive Player of the Year for the second time and joined teammate Jalen Ramsey on the PFWA All-NFL Team. Donald finished the season with 13.5 sacks.

L.A. finished 10th in the league in rushing, averaging 126.1 yards per game led by rookie Cam Akers with a team-best 625 yards on the ground. Akers recorded a 61-yard rushing attempt against the 49ers in a Week 11 contest which marked the longest run by a Rams player in the McVay era. The Rams offensive unit finished just outside of the top-10 in total offense, amassing 377 yards per game (11th) and passing offense, averaging 250.9 yards per game (13th).

In a win-and-in Week 17 contest against the Arizona Cardinals, McVay helped former Quarterback John Wolford earn his first-career win in his first-career NFL appearance and start. Wolford finished the game completing 22-of-38 passing attempts for 231 yards.

McVay's third season as head coach in 2019 produced his third-consecutive winning season with a 9-7 record. Three-consecutive seasons had not been accomplished by a Rams team since 1999-2001, and it was only the third time since 1980 the franchise accomplished the feat. Additionally, McVay became the first head coach since 2016 to have a winning record in each of their first three seasons as a head coach. He became the fourth Rams head coach to have a winning record in three-consecutive seasons.

In his third year working with former Quarterback Jared Goff, McVay helped the fourth-year passer throw for over 4,000 yards for the second-consecutive season, becoming the first quarterback in franchise history to do so. Goff also climbed up the Rams' passing leader board, closing out the season sixth on L.A.'s all-time passing leader board.

Under McVay's guidance, the Rams had multiple receivers finish the season with over 1,000 receiving yards. Former Receiver Robert Woods posted his second-consecutive season with over 1,000 receiving yards, ending the season with 1,134. Receiver Cooper Kupp posted his first season with over 1,000 receiving yards, totaling a team-best 1,161. The 2019 campaign was the first time since 1999-2002 the Rams had consecutive seasons with multiple receivers recording over 1,000 yards.

McVay also helped orchestrate an offensive line that lost two starters during the season. Despite changes in personnel and position, L.A.'s offensive front managed to post six games without allowing a sack, good for a single-season franchise record.

The defense received a boost when L.A. acquired Pro Bowl Jalen Ramsey via trade in Week 7 of the 2019 campaign. The defense went on to finish with the fourth-most sacks in the league (50.0) and was ranked 13th overall.

In McVay's second season guiding the Rams, the 32-year-old leader turned in one of the best seasons in franchise history. The Rams posted a 13-3 record, which tied for the second-best record in franchise history. His team won a pair of playoff games and advanced to the Rams' fourth Super Bowl appearance days after his 33rd birthday.

The 2018 Rams built on the successful foundation McVay and company created in their first season in 2017. With the guidance of McVay, the Rams' passing attack finished among the top 10 in passing yards per attempt (8.33, 4th), passing yards per game (295.6, 5th) and touchdowns (32, tied for 8th). Goff set career-bests, amassing 4,688 passing yards, the second-best single-season output in Rams history.

In the run game, former Running Back Todd Gurley II followed up an MVP-caliber 2017 season with an equally impressive 2018 campaign in which he led the NFL in touchdowns (21) and points scored amongst non-kickers (132) for the second-consecutive year. His 17 rushing touchdowns were a career-high and the second-most single-season rushing scores in Rams history.

Following his second season as an NFL head coach, McVay ranked 17th on Fortune Magazine's World's Greatest Leaders Top-50 List. McVay was joined on the list by the likes of Bill Gates and Jacinda Ardern and the Prime Minister of New Zealand. The complete rankings are found in the May 2019 issue of Fortune.

L.A. added star power to its defensive unit following the 2017 season. The Rams played stout defensive football down the stretch, securing a first-round bye in the 2018 playoffs. The Rams held the Patriots offensive attack to only 13 points in Super Bowl LIII. The defense was led by Donald, who posted a franchise-best 20.5 sacks, the most ever by a defensive tackle. Donald recorded 183.5 sack yards, the most ever by a defender in a single season. As a unit, the Rams ranked sixth with 1.6 takeaways per game.

In his first season guiding the Rams, McVay completed one of the greatest offensive turnarounds in NFL history. He helped the Rams move from the 32nd-ranked scoring offense in 2016 to the league's top-scoring team in 2017, marking the first time in league history a team has gone from last to first in scoring. The first-year head coach led the Rams to an 11-5 record and their first NFC West title since the 2003 season. McVay guided the Rams to their first playoff berth since 2004.

Following his first season in L.A., McVay was named The Associated Press Coach of the Year, becoming the youngest head coach to ever win the award. Gurley brought home Offensive Player of the Year honors, while Donald was named the Defensive Player of the Year, marking the first time in the 45 year history of the awards there was a sweep of three of the league's top awards. The Rams placed eight players in the 2018 Pro Bowl, the most in a single season by the franchise since the 1999 campaign.

Under McVay's guidance in 2017, Goff flourished earning his first Pro Bowl appearance. Goff completed 296-of-477 (62.1 percent) of his passes for 3,804 yards with 28 touchdowns and seven interceptions posting a 100.5 QB rating on the season. Gurley led the league in scrimmage yards finishing the year with 2,093 yards, including 1,305 rushing yards and 788 receiving yards. Additionally, Gurley was the league's highest-scoring non-kicker posting 19 total touchdowns on the season.

The Rams' defense posted the fourth-most sacks (48.0), tied for sixth in interceptions (18) and finished the 2017 campaign fifth in total takeaways (28). The takeaways directly resulted in 126 points for L.A., the second-best total in the NFL.

In his first season as head coach, the Rams' special teams unit played an integral part in the team's success and was rewarded with a total of four special teamers being named to the Pro Bowl. The L.A. special teams unit was a top-10 finisher in 18-of-22 statistical categories in the 2017 special teams rankings.

Before joining the Rams, McVay completed his third season as Washington's offensive coordinator in 2016 after initially being promoted to the position on January 15, 2014. Prior to his promotion during the 2014 offseason, McVay spent three seasons as the team's tight ends coach (2011-13) and one as an offensive assistant (2010).

The 2016 Washington offensive unit broke many franchise records and ranked in the top-three in a number of statistical categories. The Washington offense became the first unit in franchise history to average over 400 yards per game (403.4) and notched a franchise record 6,545 total net yards.

Washington Quarterback Kirk Cousins finished the year with single-season team records in completions (406) and passing yards (4,917) and matched his team record for 300-yard passing games (seven). His 4,917 passing yards ranked third in the NFL in 2016 and are the 15th-most in a season in NFL history. Cousins closed out the season ranked second in the NFL in passing yards per game (297.4), passing yards per play (7.84) and yards per play (6.4), in addition to being the league's third ranked offensive team, averaging 403.4 yards per game.

From 2015-16, Cousins threw for 9,083 yards, the fourth highest output by a quarterback trailing only Drew Brees (10,078), Matt Ryan (9,535) and Philip Rivers (9,178).

The Washington offense had eight players finish the season with at least 500 yards from scrimmage (DeSean Jackson, Pierre Garcon, Jamison Crowder, Rob Kelley, Chris Thompson, Jordan Reed, Vernon Davis and Matt Jones), tying the 2011 New Orleans Saints for the most in a single-season in NFL history. McVay's group posted a breakout campaign in his second year as offensive coordinator in 2015, including record-setting performances by Cousins and tight end Jordan Reed. McVay's scheme and tutelage helped Cousins break the Washington records for attempts (543), completions (379), passing yards (4,166) and 300-yard passing games (seven) in a single season. Reed was a direct beneficiary of McVay's work, spending 2013 as a member of his unit during McVay's time as tight ends coach and being a focal point of the offense in 2015 when Reed recorded 87 receptions for 952 yards (both team records for a tight end) with 11 receiving touchdowns (one shy of the team record) in 2015.

Collectively, McVay's 2015 offense recorded Top 10 rankings in third down percentage (43.5, fifth in the NFL), red zone scoring percentage (61.2, eighth), yards per play (5.6, 10th) and points per game (24.3, 10th). Washington also led the NFL with a team-record 69.5 completion percentage in 2015.

In his first season as offensive coordinator in 2014, McVay helped the Washington offense to a Top 10 league ranking in yards per play (5.7) despite starting three different quarterbacks. His work with the three passers was instrumental in setting a team record for completion percentage (66.5 percent, later broken in 2015) and helping facilitate the explosive debut season of wide receiver DeSean Jackson. Jackson averaged a league-best 20.9 yards per reception and became only the fourth player in team history to lead the NFL in that category.

In 2013, McVay played a crucial role in Reed's development, as the then-rookie compiled 45 receptions for 499 yards – both Washington's single-season rookie tight end records – despite Reed playing in only nine games. Under McVay's tutelage, Reed joined Chris Cooley (2004) as the only Washington tight ends named to the PFWA All-Rookie Team.

During Washington's NFC East championship season in 2012, McVay's unit was productive despite losing starting TE Fred Davis to a torn Achilles tendon in Week 7. Davis had led the team in both receptions (24) and receiving yards (325) through seven games before being placed on the reserve/injured list.

In 2011, McVay played an integral role in Davis' emergence, as the then fourth-year tight end surpassed his previous career highs despite playing in only 12 games. Davis caught 59 passes for 796 yards, the second-highest total on the team in both categories. Before missing the final four games of the season, Davis was on pace to set a franchise record in receiving yards by a tight end and was on pace to post the first 1,000-yard receiving season by a tight end in Washington's history.

McVay served as an offensive assistant for Washington in 2010 in addition to working with the tight ends during the final four weeks of the season. The Washington offense ranked eighth in the NFL in passing yards per game (244.6) and tight end Chris Cooley ranked second among NFL tight ends in receptions (77) and third in receiving yards (849). The offensive unit also set a franchise record for completions in a season (349), and registered a touchdown pass in 15 consecutive games for the first time in team history.

McVay joined the Washington coaching staff prior to the 2010 season after an undefeated regular season with the Florida Tuskers of the United Football League (UFL). The Tuskers finished a perfect 6-0 before losing in the UFL's inaugural championship game. McVay originally entered the National Football League as an offensive assistant with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers in 2008.

During his time in Tampa Bay, McVay worked closely with wide receiver Antonio Bryant, who recorded career highs in receptions (83), receiving yards (1,248), and touchdowns (seven), en route to winning The Sporting News Comeback Player of the Year Award.

McVay graduated from Miami University (Ohio) where he played wide receiver from 2004-07, earning Miami's Scholar-Athlete Award in 2007. McVay's statue was unveiled in the university's "Cradle of Coaches". His grandfather, John, served in various roles – including vice president/director of football operations from 1983-94 – for the San Francisco 49ers from 1979-95, overseeing five Super Bowl championship squads and earning induction into the 49ers Hall of Fame in 2013.

Defensive Coordinator

Raheem Morris

College: Hofstra

NFL Coaching Year: 21

Rams Coaching Year: 3

Raheem Morris enters his third season as the defensive coordinator for the Los Angeles Rams.

Morris reunited with Rams Head Coach Sean McVay for the third time in their coaching careers after working together with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers in 2008 and the Washington Commander from 2012-2014. Morris joined the Rams after serving as defensive coordinator for the Atlanta Falcons before being promoted to interim head coach from Week 6 through the conclusion of the 2020 season.

Last season, Morris spearheaded a Rams defense that ranked among the best in the NFL. The unit finished first in opponent red zone efficiency (44.4%), second in goal-to-go efficiency (53.3%), third in fewest missed tackles on the rush (51), and fourth in fewest missed tackles (103). The Rams defense also tied for seventh in interceptions (16), and ninth in defensive total rush EPA (42.97).

According to PFF, the Rams defense finished the 2022 season ranked first against the rush with an 87.0 grade, second in tackling with an 88.0 grade, and sixth overall with a 77.5 grade. The Rams also had 21 takeaways and 13 in their last seven games, which was fifth-most in the NFL during that stretch. The Rams only allowed two players to eclipse the 100-yard rushing mark last season. They were one of four teams to enter Week 17 without allowing a 100-yard rusher.

During the 2021 season that culminated with a Super Bowl championship, the Rams averaged 1.5 turnovers a game and recorded 25 during the regular season. Through 17 games, Morris' unit allowed only two teams to score more than seven points in the first quarter. The Rams' defense featured three players (Aaron Donald, Leonard Floyd and Von Miller) that ranked in the top 20 in sacks. Additionally, Morris' defensive unit ranked third in sacks (50.0) and fifth in tackles for loss (85) during the regular season.

Additionally in 2021, the Rams defense ranked sixth in the NFL in opponents rushing yards per game (103.2), sixth in opponents rush yards (1,754), and fifth in yards per rush (3.96). Morris' unit held opponents to a 51.8% red zone efficiency rate, which ranked eighth-best in the NFL.

Morris also led a secondary that ranked fifth-best in opponents passer rating (83.8) and third in interceptions (19). The secondary finished second in the NFL with 17 opponent passing touchdowns allowed and a 0.89 opponent pass touchdown to interception ratio.

In 2020, after an 0-6 start, the Falcons named Morris their interim head coach after entering the season as the defensive coordinator. In the final 11 games of the season, Morris helped the franchise win four games. Under the guidance of Morris, the Falcons defense finished the 2020 season tied for sixth in the league in red zone defense (82.1 %) and sixth in rush defense (104.8 yards per game).

Morris began the 2019 season focused on the receiving corps but turned his attention to the secondary after the bye week following a tumultuous start. Over the final eight games, the Falcons went 6-2 and the defense went from having the fewest takeaways in the first half of the season (four) to finishing with the second-most in the NFL (16) after Week 9. The defense also catapulted from the bottom of the league rankings to the top-10 in sacks (32nd to 10th), scoring efficiency (32nd to 9th), and red zone efficiency (31st to 6th) over the final eight weeks of the season.

In 2018, Morris' coaching played a part in helping the offense average 290.8 passing yards per game, which was the fourth-best average in the league. The passing attack continued to improve from 2017 to 2018, with the offense averaging 50 more pass yards per game and totaling 15 more passing touchdowns in the year span. Under Morris' guidance, first-round draft pick Calvin Ridley led all rookies in receiving yards (821) and touchdowns (10). He also helped Mohamed Sanu reach a career-high in receiving yards as well. Sanu's 838 receiving yards was the first time in his career topping 800.

He also played a role in another great year from six-time Pro Bowler Julio Jones. Jones recorded 1,677 receiving yards, which was the second-highest total in his career and hauled in 113 passes, which was the third time in his career that he posted 100-plus receptions in a season.

During Morris' second year as the wide receivers coach in 2017, his group hauled in 214 receptions for 2,848 yards and 13 touchdowns. Morris' leadership played a hand in Sanu achieving a career-high for receptions, a mark he set the previous year under Morris' tenure. Sanu finished the year with 67 receptions for 703 yards and tied a career-high with five touchdown receptions. Morris also played a crucial role in another impressive year from Jones, who was selected to go to his fourth straight Pro Bowl after hauling in 88 receptions for 1,444 yards and three touchdowns.

After spending his first season with the team as the assistant head coach/defensive passing game coordinator, Morris transitioned to the offensive side of the ball in 2016 and was named the assistant head coach/wide receivers coach. In his first season coaching the wide receivers, Morris worked with one of the best receivers in the game in Jones. Jones recorded 1,409 receiving yards, which was second in the NFL that season. His entire group teamed up for 223 catches for 3,226 yards and 22 touchdowns. The unit included Taylor Gabriel, who recorded a career-high six receiving touchdowns and Mohamed Sanu who tallied a then career-high 59 receptions.

During Morris' first year in Atlanta in 2015, he was named the assistant head coach/defensive passing game coordinator to help out with the secondary and their efforts to slow down the passing attack of the opposing teams.

The defense only allowed 19 passing touchdowns, which was tied for the third-lowest total in the NFL that season. The defense also forced 15 interceptions, which ranked within the top 10 in the league. The defense had a 1.27 touchdown to interception ratio, which was the seventh-best in the NFL that season.

Morris joined the Falcons after spending three seasons as the defensive backs coach for the Washington Commanders. In 2012, he helped Washington's defense finish tied for fifth in the NFL with 31 takeaways and oversaw a unit that tied a league-high with 94 passes defended and ranked fifth in the NFC with a 3.3 interception rate.

Prior to arriving in Washington, Morris spent three seasons as the head coach of the Tampa Bay Buccaneers from 2009-2011. He was the league's youngest head coach in 2009 and in 2010. The Buccaneers made their best turnaround in franchise history in 2010 going 10-6 after going 3-13 in 2009.

Morris served in multiple capacities with the Buccaneers during two different stints with the team before he was promoted to head coach. He spent two seasons as the team's defensive backs coach from 2007-08, when the Buccaneers ranked second in the NFL allowing 170.5 passing yards per game. During that span, the Buccaneers ranked among the league leaders with 22 interceptions.

He spent one year as the defensive coordinator at Kansas State in 2006, where he helped seven Wildcats earn conference honors. Morris' unit featured two first-team All-Big 12 selections and one second-team honoree.

Morris made his NFL coaching debut with Tampa Bay as a defensive quality control coach in 2002, when the club won Super Bowl XXXVII. The Buccaneers defense allowed an NFL-low 12.3 points per game, the third-best scoring defense since 2000. He served as a defensive assistant with the Bucs in 2003 and as assistant defensive backs coach from 2004-05.

In 10 seasons in Tampa Bay, the Buccaneers finished fifth in total defense five times, while leading the league in 2002 and 2005. He also helped the team finish as the top-rated pass defense three times (2002, 2004 & 2007).

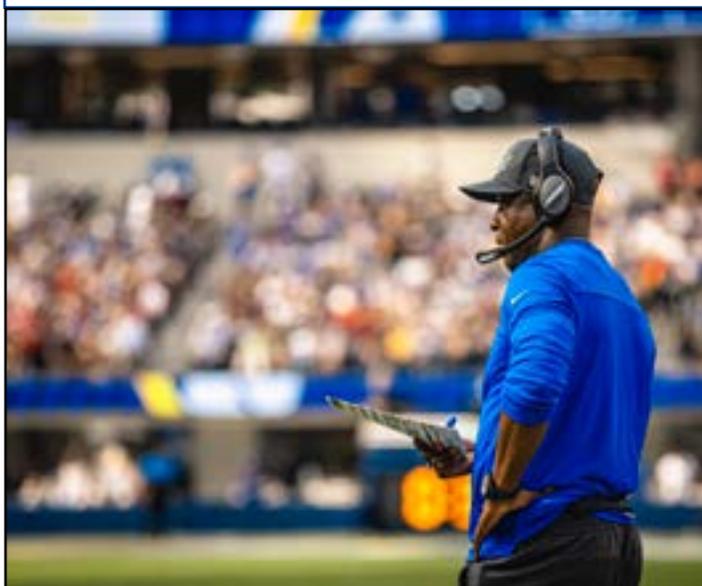

Morris began his collegiate coaching career as an assistant coach at Hofstra in 1998, where he was responsible for coaching the offensive scout team, developing scouting reports, and video breakdown. He moved on to Cornell University as a defensive backs coach and special teams assistant for the 1999 season. Morris served as defensive backs coach at Hofstra from 2000 to 2001 before joining the Buccaneers. He also held a defensive minority internship position with the New York Jets in the fall of 2001. Morris played safety at Hofstra from 1994-97 and received his Bachelor of Science degree in physical education. He is an Irvington, N.J. native.

Offensive Coordinator

Mike LaFleur

College: Elmhurst College

Rams Coaching Year: 1

Mike LaFleur joined the Rams coaching staff as the team's offensive coordinator this offseason after serving as the New York Jets offensive coordinator for the past two seasons.

In his second season as the Jets offensive coordinator, receiver Garrett Wilson became the first rookie in Jets history and one of 23 players in NFL history to record at least 1,000 receiving yards in his first NFL season. Under the guidance of LaFleur, the Jets offense tied for the most explosive plays in the fourth quarter (39) and recorded a league-best 41 explosive plays by rookies. Additionally, the Jets 10 offensive touchdowns by rookies last season was fifth-most in the NFL.

LaFleur also helped backup quarterback Mike White record a 369-yard passing performance in Week 13 and a 405-passing yard performance in Week 8 last season. White became the fifth player in NFL history with more than 350 passing yards in at least two of his first five starts. Despite facing injuries early in the season at the quarterback position, the Jets passing offense finished the 2022 season ranked 15th in passing yards per game (219) as well as 14th in receiving yards (4,040), yards per reception (11.32) and yards after the catch (1,850). The Jets offense also finished 11th in goal to go efficiency (76.2%).

In his first year in the offensive coordinator role, LaFleur worked with four different quarterbacks that threw for more than 290 yards in a game, the first team in NFL history to accomplish that feat. Each of the four quarterbacks also threw two touchdown passes in a game during the season, the first time that has happened since 1987. He oversaw a Jets offense that was one of the youngest in the league and became just the second team since 1970 with a rookie leader in passing, rushing and receiving yards.

LaFleur's offense also featured a rookie receiver, Elijah Moore, that finished in the top 10 among rookies in receiving yards in 2021. This marked the fourth consecutive season a rookie receiver in LaFleur's offense finished the year atop the league's rookie rankings in receiving yards. The Jets rushing attack also improved throughout the season. Over the final eight games, the offense increased their rushing output by more than 50 yards per game and averaged 5.2 yards per carry, which was second-best during that span. Under LaFleur's guidance, rookie fourth-round pick Michael Carter became the first rookie to lead the Jets in rushing since 2006.

Before joining the Jets coaching staff, LaFleur spent four seasons with the 49ers from 2017-20. In his final three seasons in San Francisco, he served as the passing game coordinator and helped the 49ers offense finish in the top 10 in scoring (24.9) and total offense (370.6) while George Kittle set a then NFL record for tight ends with 1,377 receiving yards in 2019 and became a two-time All-Pro selection. During the 2019 season that ended with a Super Bowl appearance, the 49ers offense had 13 different players record at least one touchdown catch, tying the NFL record for the most players with a touchdown catch in a single season. Quarterback Jimmy Garoppolo also finished fourth in yards per attempt (8.2), fifth in completion percentage (67.5%), and ninth in passer rating (98.6) among quarterbacks with at least 25 starts since 2018.

Before joining the 49ers coaching staff, LaFleur served as an offensive assistant with the Atlanta Falcons for two seasons, first working with the tight ends in 2015 and then the wide receivers in 2016. During his time working with the receivers, Falcons receiver Julio Jones finished second in the league in receiving yards (1,409) and averaged 17.0 yards per catch, which was the fourth-best average in the league among qualified receivers. As a group, the Falcons receivers totaled 3,226 receiving yards, the second-most in the NFL that season, which helped propel the Falcons to Super Bowl LI. In his one season working with tight ends, Jacob Tamme ranked in the top 10 for receiving yards amongst tight ends (657).

He began his NFL coaching career as an offensive coaching intern working with the Cleveland Browns offensive line in 2014. LaFleur and the offensive line helped the Browns running backs gain 1,648 yards, 12th most in the league, and rush for 16 touchdowns which was tied for the second most in the NFL.

Prior to joining the NFL ranks, LaFleur coached at the collegiate level for five seasons and started his coaching career at his alma mater, Elmhurst College, in 2009 as an offensive assistant working with the quarterbacks. He also served as an offensive coordinator at Saint Joseph's College from 2010-12 and then Davidson College in 2013.

A native of Mount Pleasant, MI, LaFleur was a team captain and three-time letter winner as a quarterback and safety at Elmhurst. He graduated with a bachelor's degree in physical education in 2009.

LaFleur and his wife, Lauren, have two children. His father, Denny, won a National Championship at Central Michigan in 1974, before later becoming an assistant coach at the school. His brother, Matt, is the head coach of the Green Bay Packers and served as the Rams offensive coordinator in 2017.

Special Teams Coordinator

Chase Blackburn

College: Akron

NFL Coaching Year: 8

Rams Coaching Year: 1

Chase Blackburn enters his first season with the Los Angeles Rams after spending last season with the Tennessee Titans as their assistant special teams coordinator.

Before joining the Titans in 2022, Blackburn spent six seasons with the Carolina Panthers, the final four as special teams coordinator.

Last year in Tennessee, the Titans' special teams unit finished first in yards per punt (53.1), fifth in opponent yards per punt return (10.78), seventh in opponent yards per punt (45.1), and tied for ninth in opponent field goals made (25). Under Blackburn's guidance, the special teams unit also ranked second in opponent average starting field position (24.5).

In his final year with the Panthers in 2021, Carolina's special teams unit ranked eighth in opponent yards per punt return (7.4) and field goal percentage (89.7). Despite using three kickers throughout the course of the season, the Carolina kickers converted 26-of-29 field goal attempts. The special teams unit also blocked a punt and returned it for a touchdown against the Vikings in Week 6.

During the 2020 season, Blackburn guided rookie punter Joseph Charlton to NFC Special Teams Player of the Week honors after tying a franchise-record with five punts inside the 20-yard line during a game at Washington in Week 16. The special teams unit also set a franchise-record that season for the most punts inside the 20 (46.7%), which ranked third in the NFL.

In 2019, Blackburn helped rookie kicker Joey Slye set a franchise record after making an NFL-best eight field goals from 50 or more yards. Carolina's punting unit also converted two fake punts for first downs and punter Michael Palardy landed 25 punts inside the 20-yard line with only three touchbacks all season.

During his first season as special teams coordinator in 2018, the Panthers ranked sixth in the NFL in field goal percentage. Kickers Graham Gano and Chandler Catanzaro combined to make 19-of-21 field goal attempts, including 5-of-6 from 50 yards or more. Gano's 63-yard game-winning field goal against the Giants tied for the longest game-winning field goal in NFL history and the second-longest all-time.

In 2017, Blackburn coached a Panthers special teams unit that produced a kickoff return touchdown and punt return touchdown in the same season for the first time since 2003. Gano also earned his first Pro Bowl appearance after setting a franchise-record and leading the NFL in field goal percentage (96.7), converting 29-of-30 attempts. In the NFC Wild Card Round against the Saints, Gano set a franchise playoff-record with a 58-yard field goal, which also tied an NFL postseason record.

He made his coaching debut with the Carolina Panthers in 2016 serving as a coaching intern. That season, the Panthers led the NFL and tied a team record with three blocked field goals.

Before beginning his coaching career, Blackburn played in the NFL for 10 seasons - eight with the New York Giants from 2005-12 and two with the Panthers from 2013-14. He entered the NFL as an undrafted free agent. Blackburn appeared in 132 career games (45 starts) and recorded 265 tackles, 4.5 sacks, four interceptions, 10 passes defended and four forced fumbles. He also tallied 123 tackles, two forced fumbles and three fumble recoveries on special teams. Blackburn became a Super Bowl XLVI champion when the Giants defeated the New England Patriots in 2011. He is one of two current NFL coaches to record an interception in a Super Bowl as a player.

During his collegiate playing days at Akron, Blackburn saw action at linebacker and defensive end. He played in 45 games (34 starts) for the Zips and totaled 293 tackles, 38 tackles for loss, 11.0 sacks and three interceptions. Blackburn earned second-team All-MAC honors as a junior in 2003 and played in the Gridiron Classic as a senior in 2004.

Blackburn attended Marysville (Ohio) High School and graduated from Akron with a degree in mathematics. He and his wife, Megan, have three sons Landyn, Bentley and Wyatt.

K.J. Black

College: Prairie View A&M

NFL Coaching Year: 2

Rams Coaching Year: 2

K.J. Black enters his second season on the Rams' coaching staff after participating in the Bill Walsh Diversity Coaching Fellowship with the team last season. He worked with the quarterbacks alongside Quarterbacks Coach/Pass Game Coordinator Zac Robinson.

As a coaching fellow during the 2022 season, Black played a pivotal role in the development of younger quarterbacks John Wolford and Bryce Perkins. During an injury-riddled season, both Wolford and Perkins saw playing time in the regular season and made significant improvements under Black's mentorship.

Wolford stepped in for Matthew Stafford to start three games and threw for 390 yards and one touchdown. He also added eight rushes for 32 yards. Perkins received his first career start in 2022 and saw action in four games. He finished the season with 161 passing yards and one touchdown while also rushing for 90 yards on 19 carries. In his first start in Kansas City against the Chiefs, Perkins rushed for 44 yards, which was the third-most rushing yards by a Rams quarterback since 2000 and the second-most by a Rams quarterback in their NFL debut.

Prior to joining the Rams, Black served at Florida A&M where he was co-offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach. He joined the FAMU coaching staff in 2019 to serve as the passing game coordinator and quarterbacks coach. In his first two years at FAMU, he helped propel quarterback Ryan Stanley to surpass multiple all-time FAMU passing marks. Stanley recorded 2,519 passing yards in 2018 and 2,566 in 2019, when Stanley was named the MEAC Offensive Player of the Year.

In Black's first season with the Rattlers, the passing game improved from 232.9 passing yards per game in 2018 to 291.1 passing yards per game in 2019. Additionally, the team's passing efficiency improved from 128.6 to 148.5, and passing touchdowns elevated from 17 to 30 in just one season with the program.

Following his senior season as a quarterback at Prairie View A&M, Black stayed with the program to begin his coaching career as a graduate assistant from 2011-14. During that time, he played a key role behind the scenes working with the quarterbacks and tight ends. Prairie View A&M quarterbacks Jerry Lovelock and De'Auntre Smiley had career-highs during their time under Black and both players set career and single-season passing records.

In addition to his on-field coaching duties, Black helped develop the team's offensive game plans and assisted in football and video operations. He became the passing game coordinator and quarterbacks coach from 2015-16 before being promoted to tight ends coach in 2017 for his final season at Prairie A&M.

Black played quarterback collegiately at Western Kentucky University before transferring to Prairie View A&M, where he passed for 4,187 yards and 35 touchdowns in his two years with the program. He led the Panthers to capture the 2009 SWAC Championship in a 30-24 win over Alabama A&M and was named MVP of the game. It was the school's first SWAC Championship since 1964.

He earned Offensive Player of the Year honors in 2009 after completing more than 70 percent of his passes for 2,033 yards and 22 touchdowns. He also ran for four touchdowns that season. Black holds several passing records at Prairie View A&M and also spent time playing professional indoor football.

He is married to Erin and the couple has one daughter, Peyton Dianne. Black was born in Jacksonville, Florida, and raised in Louisville, Kentucky.

Inside Linebackers Coach

Chris Beake

College: Air Force

NFL Coaching Year: 25

Rams Coaching Year: 2

Chris Beake enters his 25th season coaching in the NFL and his second with the Los Angeles Rams. He will coach the secondary during the 2023 season after serving as the inside linebackers coach last season.

The Rams' inside linebackers had a productive season under Beake's guidance in 2022. In his first and only season with the team, former Linebacker Bobby Wagner had a career year and finished three tackles short of setting the Rams' franchise record for tackles in a single season, which was set by James Laurinaitis (142) in 2011 and 2012. He was also Pro Football Focus' top ranked linebacker in the regular season with a 90.7 grade. Wagner finished tied for 10th in tackles against the rush (84), 13th in tackles (140), tied for 20th in stops (51), and tied for 38th in tackles for loss (10).

Beake has also played an instrumental role in the development of Ernest Jones, who finished 35th in tackles (113), which was second on the team behind Wagner. With the elite play from both inside linebackers, the Rams rush defense was among the best in the NFL and only allowed two players to eclipse the 100-yard rushing mark last season. The Rams were one of four teams to enter Week 17 without allowing a 100-yard rusher.

Beake spent nine years of his career in Denver working with the Broncos defense serving as pass game specialist (2021), defensive assistant (2019-20), defensive assistant/defensive line (2016-18), defensive assistant (2014-15) and defensive quality control (2013).

During Beake's nine seasons in Denver, the Broncos allowed the third-fewest total yards (327.4) and seventh-fewest points (21.8) in the league. The Broncos were also one of just two NFL teams to finish in the top eight against the run (seventh/106.4 ypg) and against the pass (second/221.0 ypg) during that span.

In his first year as defensive pass game specialist in 2021, Beake continued to push the Broncos secondary, working directly with safeties such as Justin Simmons and Kareem Jackson. Opposing offenses were challenged in the pass game as the Broncos defense ranked fourth in opposing completion percentage (60.7%), fifth in passing touchdowns allowed (22), sixth in opponent passer rating (85.0) and eighth in passing yards allowed (3,652). As a collective unit, the Broncos defense made 13 interceptions for 221 return yards.

In 2020, Beake took on increased coaching responsibilities in the secondary, stepping into an elevated weekly and gameday role with several coaches missing time due to the COVID-19 pandemic. Denver led the NFL in red zone defense (47.5%, 29-of-61) for the second consecutive season while outside linebacker Bradley Chubb and safety Justin Simmons were voted to their first Pro Bowls.

From 2013-20, the Broncos defense featured eight players who combined for 20 Pro Bowl selections, led by 2010's NFL All-Decade linebacker Von Miller, who led the NFL with 81.0 total sacks during that span. Beake worked extensively with the Broncos' outside linebackers in 2018 as Miller was selected to his seventh Pro Bowl and Chubb set the franchise rookie record for sacks (12.0).

In his two seasons (2011-12) with the Browns, Beake worked with one of the youngest offenses in the NFL, helping to develop a quarterback group that included draft choices Colt McCoy and Brandon Weeden.

Beake spent two seasons with Seattle, serving as the Seahawks' offensive quality control coach in 2008 and offensive assistant/assistant special teams coach in 2009. From 2004-06, he coached linebackers for the Atlanta Falcons, tutoring All-Pro Linebacker Keith Brooking, who earned the final two of his five career Pro Bowl selections in 2004 and 2005.

Beake started his NFL career with San Francisco in 1998 as a pro personnel assistant and spent the next five seasons with the 49ers coaching on both sides of the ball.

He is a graduate of the U.S. Air Force Academy, where he played quarterback from 1990-92 and majored in civil engineering. He began his coaching career as a defensive graduate assistant for his alma mater in 1994. Beake served as a Civil Engineer Officer in the Air Force from 1995-98 while earning his master's degree in business administration from the University of West Florida.

Beake's father, John, was the general manager of the Denver Broncos from 1984-98, part of a 44-year career as a coach or administrator at the high school, college or pro levels. Chris and his wife, Andrea, have a son, Colin (18) and twin daughters, Madeline and Emilie (12). He was born on Sept. 10, 1972, in Kansas City.

Tight Ends

Nick Caley

College: John Carroll

Rams Coaching Year: 1

Nick Caley enters his first season with the Los Angeles Rams after serving as the tight ends coach for the New England Patriots for the past six seasons. He also coached fullbacks from 2017-21.

In Caley's first season as the tight ends coach in 2017, Patriots star Rob Gronkowski earned his fifth career Pro Bowl invitation and was named an AP First-Team All-Pro selection. Gronkowski led all tight ends in receiving yards (1,084) and yards per reception (15.7). That same season, Caley also coached fullback James Develin, who earned his first Pro Bowl nod.

He has also mentored players such as Hunter Henry and Jonnu Smith during his time as the Patriots tight ends coach. Under Caley's guidance in 2021, Henry finished with the third most receptions (50), receiving yards (603) and yards per reception (12.1) in his career. Henry also set a career-high in touchdown catches that season with nine.

In his first two seasons in the NFL coaching ranks with the Patriots in 2015 and 2016, Caley served as an offensive coaching assistant.

Prior to joining the Patriots coaching staff, Caley spent 10 years coaching in the college ranks mainly on the defensive side of the ball. He spent time at seven different schools with multiple stints as a secondary coach.

He joined the Florida Atlantic staff as the secondary coach in 2014 and helped his unit flourish with five secondary players finishing amongst the team's top eight tacklers.

Caley was a defensive graduate assistant at Arkansas in 2013 where he assisted with the linebackers and special teams unit.

At Eastern Illinois as a secondary coach in 2012, Caley helped the defense finish second in the Ohio Valley Conference in pass efficiency. He coached safety Nick Beard, who was named first-team all-conference and helped Eastern Illinois finish the 2012 campaign as Ohio Valley Conference Champions.

As a defensive graduate assistant at Iowa State, Caley helped the defense finish eighth nationally in forced turnovers (32). He worked with Leonard Johnson, who was a second-team All-Big 12 selection and David Sims who was an honorable mention All-Big 12 selection. Both players spent time in the NFL as undrafted free agents.

In 2008, Caley served at Auburn as a defensive administrative assistant. He worked closely with defensive coordinator Paul Rhoads and the Tiger secondary unit that finished no.19 nationally in pass defense. The Auburn defense finished the season ranked 14th nationally in scoring defense and no. 29 in total defense. Caley worked with third round draft pick Jeraud Powers and fifth round selection Walt McFadden that season.

During his time as a defensive graduate assistant at Akron, Caley was part of a staff that captured the first Mid-American Conference Championship in school history and the school's first bowl game appearance in the Motor City Bowl. Caley worked with the secondary that featured Reggie Corner, who was selected by the Buffalo Bills in the fourth round of the NFL Draft, as well as Brandon Anderson who signed with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers as an undrafted free agent.

Caley began his coaching career at his alma mater, John Carroll, as a student coach for two seasons in 2005.

He earned his bachelor of arts in communications from John Carroll (2006) and a master of science, sports science and coaching from Akron (2008). He also received a master of education in educational leadership and policy studies from Iowa State (2011).

Caley was born on January 22, 1983 in Canton, Ohio which is home to the Pro Football Hall of Fame. He and his wife, Grace, have two daughters, Caroline and Vivian.

Assistant Defensive Line

Andrew Carter

College:

NFL Coaching Year: 2

Rams Coaching Year: 1

Andrew Carter enters his first season with the Los Angeles Rams as an assistant defensive line coach after spending the 2022 season as the defensive quality control coach for the Denver Broncos.

Carter coached for a top-10 defensive unit in Denver that finished the 2022 season seventh in yards allowed per game (320.0), sixth in yards per play (5.04), 10th in rush yards allowed per game (109.8), 11th in yards per rush (4.26), and 12th in pass yards allowed per game (210.2). The Broncos' defense also ranked second in opponent third down conversion rate (34.1%), seventh in opponent red zone efficiency (51.1%), and tied for 10th in interceptions (15).

Prior to joining the Broncos coaching staff, Carter spent two seasons as a graduate assistant and defensive assistant at the University of Kansas. He was set to become the defensive line coach at the University of Tennessee Martin before deciding to join the Broncos' staff.

Before his time with the Jayhawks, Carter coached the defensive tackles at Hampton University for one season in 2019. He mentored two All-Big South Conference players, Andy Matthews and Desmond Sturdivant, and his unit contributed to a defense that ranked second in fewest rushing yards allowed (1,788), third in sacks (29), and tied for third in yards per rush (4.5).

Carter spent two seasons at his alma mater, Eastern Illinois, in 2017-18 before coaching at Hampton. In 2017, he served as a graduate assistant and director of football operations before being promoted to defensive line coach in 2018.

During his tenure at Eastern Illinois, Carter guided two players to All-Ohio Valley conference honors. Defensive End David Johnson garnered all-conference nods on two occasions in 2016 and 2017, while defensive lineman Levi Watson earned the recognition in 2018.

In addition to his five years coaching at the collegiate level, Carter also spent two years coaching high school football in Louisiana. Prior to joining the Eastern Illinois coaching staff, Carter was an offensive line and tight ends coach at Riverdale High School after serving as assistant head coach/co-defensive coordinator at Sophie B. Wright Charter School for the 2015 and 2016 high school seasons.

Carter graduated from Nicholls State University in Thibodaux, Louisiana in 2015 with a bachelor's degree in human performance education. He also earned a master's degree in technology from Eastern Illinois in 2018.

Outside Linebackers

Joe Coniglio

Rams Coaching Year: 1

Joe Coniglio enters his first season with the Los Angeles Rams as their outside linebackers coach after serving at the Naval Academy for the past two seasons.

With the help of Coniglio, the Navy defense finished third in the nation against the run in 2022. The unit was the only defense ranked in the top 25 that faced three of the top 10 rushing offenses in the country. The Navy defense also finished third in fewest first downs allowed, 23rd in sacks, 22nd in fumble recoveries, and 32nd in total defense. Coniglio also mentored senior striker John Marshall, who finished third in the nation in sacks and tackles for loss per game while setting school records for single-season and single-game sacks. Marshall became the only unanimous First-Team All-American Athletic Conference selection in 2022.

Despite having one of the toughest schedules in the country in 2021, the Navy defense finished 32nd in the nation in run defense (130.4 yards allowed per game), 51st in passing defense (218.2 yards allowed per game), 34th in total defense (348.6 yards allowed per game), and 34th in red zone defense (.778).

He joined the Naval Academy from Kent State, where he coached the outside linebackers and served as the defensive recruiting coordinator for two seasons. During his second stint with the Golden Flashes, Coniglio helped lead the team to a 3-1 record in a COVID-shortened season and their first bowl win in school history with a 51-41 victory in the 2019 Tropical Smoothie Cafe Frisco Bowl.

He spent five seasons at Rhode Island, where he served as defensive line coach, special teams coordinator and recruiting coordinator. During his time with the Rhode Island Rams, they were among national (FCS) leaders in numerous defensive categories. In 2017, Rhode Island was the only defensive line in the nation to have five players register five or more sacks and 10 or more tackles for loss. The defense broke the program's sack record that season and produced their third different all-conference player during Coniglio's coaching stint. The following season in 2018, Rhode Island ranked 31st in the FCS in total defense.

Additionally on special teams in 2018, Rhode Island ranked in the top 20 in punt return defense, kick return average and punt return average.

From 2012-13, Coniglio was the defensive line coach at Northern Michigan.

He also spent three seasons at Kent State from 2009-2011 while earning a master's degree. His roles during his first stint at Kent State included special assistant to the head coach, defensive graduate assistant, video coordinator and defensive volunteer. Coniglio worked closely with the defensive line and helped develop future NFL players Roosevelt Nix, Ishma'ily Kitchen and Monte Simmons. During that period, Kent State's defense ranked in the top tier of numerous NCAA categories, including 10th in the nation in total defense in 2010. The following season in 2011, the Golden Flashes ranked 21st in total defense, and in 2009 the defense was fourth in tackles for loss and 17th in sacks.

A two-time All-Mid-American Conference defensive end at Miami (OH), Coniglio was a three-year starter and three-year winner of the RedHawks' Vic Waltz Defensive Lineman of the Year award. He also helped Miami (OH) win three MAC East titles and ranks fifth among the program's sack leaders.

Coniglio and his wife, Jessa, have a daughter, Anna, and two sons, Joseph and Matthew.

Running Backs

Ron Gould

College: Oregon

NFL Coaching Year: 1

Rams Coaching Year: 1

Ron Gould enters his first season with the Los Angeles Rams as the running backs coach after spending the last six seasons at Stanford leading the running backs.

Gould has 33 seasons of coaching experience, including four as a head coach at UC Davis and 24 years working in the Pac-12 Conference.

During his career, Gould has mentored some of the game's elite running backs and coached Super Bowl champions such as Marshawn Lynch, C.J. Anderson and Shane Vereen. Anderson spent time with the Rams in 2018 and appeared in Super Bowl LII against the New England Patriots.

Gould has also mentored college standouts Bryce Love and J.J. Arrington, as well as NFL players such as Jahvid Best and Justin Forsett. He has coached a total of seven Pro Bowl selections, three First-Team All-America picks, and six first-team all-conference honorees. Five of the past ten Super Bowls have featured a running back whom Gould has coached.

He spent the last six seasons at Stanford where he guided Bryce Love to a record-breaking season in 2017. Love set the school's single-season rushing record (2,118), single-game rushing record (301), and was named the 2017 Doak Walker Award winner. Love was also the Lombardi Award winner and Heisman Trophy runner-up as a junior. He set Stanford records for rush average (6.79) and consecutive 100-yard rushing games (9). The Pac-12 Offensive Player of the Year and unanimous All-American finished with the fourth-most rushing yards and fifth-most touchdowns in school history. Love was drafted in the fourth round of the 2019 NFL Draft by Washington.

Prior to joining Stanford, Gould was the head coach at UC Davis from 2013-16. During his time as head coach, the Aggies posted the Big Sky Conference's highest Academic Progress Rate (APR) from the NCAA all four years. On the field, Gould helped guide Gabe Manzanares to record the program's best rushing total (1,285 yards) in more than a decade during the 2013 season. Manzanares won Big Sky Newcomer of the Year honors and ranked among the conference and FCS leaders in several statistical categories.

Gould coached the running backs for 16 years at California from 1997-2012 and was eventually promoted to associate head coach in 2008 and had added responsibilities as run game coordinator in 2011. Gould developed several of the top running backs at Cal including NFL players such as Lynch, Arrington, Best, Vereen, Adimchinobe Echemandu, Forsett, Tarik Smith and Will Ta'ufou. Other players who worked with Gould and later signed NFL contracts include Chris Manderino and Byron Storer. Nine of the program's top 11 individual rushing seasons and six of Cal's all-time top rushers were coached by Gould.

Marshawn Lynch was the 2006 Pac-10 Offensive Player of the Year, J.J. Arrington was eighth in the 2006 Heisman Trophy voting after leading the country with 2,018 rushing yards, and Jahvid Best was a two-time All-Pac 12 first-team selection. Both Lynch and Best were first-round picks in the NFL Draft, while Arrington and Vereen were second-round selections.

He was a candidate for the 2010 American Football Coaches Association (AFCA) Assistant Coach of the Year Award and participated in NFL internships with the Atlanta Falcons, Arizona Cardinals, Green Bay Packers, Los Angeles Rams, San Francisco 49ers and St. Louis Rams.

Following his college graduation, Gould began his collegiate coaching career at his alma mater Oregon from 1990-91. He also coached the defensive backs at Portland State in 1992 and at Boise State from 1993-96.

A native of Scottsdale, Arizona, Gould played defensive back at Scottsdale Community College from 1984-85 before earning a scholarship to Wichita State. When the Shockers discontinued their football program, Gould chose to play at Oregon where he earned his bachelor's degree in human services.

Gould and his wife, Teresa, have two sons Tevin and Trae.

Rams Coaching Year: 1

Mike Harris enters his first season with the Los Angeles Rams as a defensive assistant after spending the 2022 season coaching safeties at John Carroll University.

Harris helped the John Carroll Blue Streaks finish second in the OAC conference with an 8-2 record. The Blue Streaks' defense also finished 20th in Division III in yards allowed per game (253.2). Harris helped defensive back Josh McLean finish fourth on the team in tackles and first among defensive backs (47). McLean recorded a season-high nine tackles, a tackle for loss and a forced fumble against Washington and Jefferson. He also returned an interception for a touchdown against Muskingum.

Harris joined the John Carroll coaching staff after spending three seasons with the Chicago Bears as an offensive assistant. During his time with the Bears, Harris played an important role in pregame preparation with scouting reports and film breakdowns of opposing defenses. On gamedays, he was responsible for charting plays and defensive schemes, assisting in receiver warmups, and providing insight to the Bears' passing game coordinator.

Before his first stint at the NFL ranks, Harris coached wide receivers at his alma mater, Muhlenberg College in 2018.

Following college graduation, Harris spent two years as an assistant coach at Wilkes University where he mentored tight ends and running backs. During his time coaching the tight ends for two seasons, standout tight end Garrett Armstrong earned consecutive all-region honors and was a 2017 preseason All-American.

Under the guidance of Harris, Armstrong registered back-to-back seasons with 30 or more receptions and over 330 yards in 10 games played. He had a combined eight touchdown receptions in his two seasons working with Harris.

As a collegiate player for four seasons at Muhlenberg College from 2011-14, Harris played in 25 games as a wide receiver and recorded 52 catches for 599 yards and nine touchdowns. He was the third-leading receiver in 2013 for a team that finished 8-3 and earned an ECAC bowl berth.

Harris graduated from Muhlenberg College with a major in business administration with a focus in entrepreneurial studies.

Defensive Line/Run Game Coordinator
Eric Henderson

College: Georgia Tech
Rams Coaching Year: 5

Eric Henderson is entering his fifth season with the Los Angeles Rams, his third season as the defensive line/run game coordinator. He joined the Rams after a two-year stint with the Los Angeles Chargers as an assistant defensive line coach.

With the leadership of Henderson last season, the Rams rush defense ranked among the best in the NFL. The defensive line helped the Rams finish third in fewest missed tackles on rush plays (51), eighth in percentage of opponent rushes that resulted in first downs (23.3%), ninth in defensive total rush EPA (42.97), ninth in opponent rushes for touchdowns (37.92), tied for 10th in total rushing touchdowns allowed (12), and finished 12th in total rushing first downs allowed (106).

According to PFF, the Rams defense finished with the highest grade against the rush (87.0) and only allowed two players to eclipse the 100-yard rushing mark on the season. The Rams were one of four teams to enter Week 17 without allowing a 100-yard rusher due to strong performances on the defensive line.

The Rams defense also finished 13th in total rush yards allowed (1,956), opponent rush yards per game (115.1), and successful play rate on defensive rushes (61.5%).

In 2021, the Rams defense ranked third in sacks (50.0) and fifth in tackles for loss (85) during the regular season. Henderson also helped the Rams' defense finish fifth in yards per rush (3.96) and sixth in opponent rushing yards per game (103.2).. The Rams' defense held opponents to a 51.8% red zone efficiency rate, which ranked eighth-best in the NFL.

Henderson's leadership has allowed perennial All-Pro Defensive Tackle Aaron Donald to continue stacking career accolades while also helping players such as Greg Gaines, A'Shawn Robinson and Marquise Copeland emerge as steady contributors. Gaines had a career season in 2021 with 13 starts and 55 tackles, 4.5 sacks, five tackles for loss, 14 quarterback hits and 34 pressures (including postseason).

Henderson also elevated the play of A'Shawn Robinson, who had a stellar performance in Super Bowl LVI with six tackles (five solo), 1.0 sack, one tackle for loss, three pressures and one quarterback hit. Robinson finished the 2021 regular season with 89 tackles (45 solo), 3.0 sacks, two forced fumbles, three tackles for loss, three quarterback hits and 17 pressures.

In his second season with the Rams in 2020, L.A. finished second in the league in sacks (53.0). The defensive front helped the No. 1 ranked defense finish third in the league in rush defense, while giving up the fewest points per game (18.5), passing yards per game (190.7) and total yards per game (281.9).

In Henderson's first two years with the club, the Rams ranked top-five in sacks back-to-back years. Under Henderson's guidance, Aaron Donald became the third player in league history to win Defensive Player of the Year three times. He was also named the PFWA Defensive Player of the Year award for the second time. Donald finished the season with a team-high 13.5 sacks, his fourth-straight season with at least 11.0 sacks.

In 2019, the defensive front powered its way to 50.0 sacks, the fourth-highest in the league. The unit also featured a stellar season from Donald, who recorded double-digit sacks (12.5) for the third-consecutive season and earned Pro Bowl and First-Team All-Pro honors.

With the fundamentals implemented by Henderson along the defensive line in 2019, the Rams rushing defense allowed only 3.74 yards per rush, the sixth-best average in the league. This improvement marked a more than 1.0 yard per rush improvement from the 4.86 yards per rush allowed during the 2018 season, prior to Henderson's arrival.

In Henderson's second season coaching the Chargers defensive line, the defense finished with 38.0 total sacks and DE Melvin Ingram led the team with (7.0). Ingram was also one of seven Bolts to be selected for the 2019 Pro Bowl. It was also his second consecutive appearance.

During Henderson's first season with the Chargers in 2017, the defense finished fifth in the NFL in total sacks with 43.0. DE Joey Bosa ended the season with a career-high 12.5 sacks, which ranked seventh in the league.

Henderson spent the 2016 season at the University of Texas - San Antonio where he was the defensive line coach. The Roadrunners went on to play in the Gildan New Mexico Bowl against New Mexico. Henderson coached Marcus Davenport, who recorded 6.5 sacks during the 2016 season. Davenport went on to be selected No. 14 overall by the New Orleans Saints in the 2018 NFL Draft, the highest Roadrunner ever drafted and only the second draft choice ever from UTSA.

Prior to joining the Roadrunners, Henderson spent three seasons at Oklahoma State from 2013-15. He was named defensive quality control coach during his third season after being a graduate assistant from 2013-14. During his three seasons at Oklahoma State, the Cowboys had a 27-12 record and made three bowl appearances. DE Emmanuel Ogbah earned All-America accolades and was named Big 12 Conference Defensive Player of the Year in 2015 with Henderson's guidance. Ogbah was also taken in the second round of the NFL Draft by the Cleveland Browns.

Henderson made his coaching debut in 2012 as a defensive assistant at Georgia Military College, where he primarily worked alongside the linebackers and secondary. The Bulldogs finished with a 7-4 record and made an appearance in the C.H.A.M.P.S. Heart of Texas Bowl.

Prior to becoming a coach, Henderson played three seasons (2009-11) for the Las Vegas Locomotives of the United Football League, guiding the team to two league titles. Henderson spent three seasons (2006-08) playing in the National Football League for the Cincinnati Bengals.

As a collegiate athlete, Henderson set a school record at Georgia Tech for career tackles for loss (59.5). He ranks fourth in school history in career sacks with 25.0, and finished with 175 tackles, eight passes defended and seven forced fumbles.

Henderson is a native of New Orleans, La. He earned a bachelor's degree in management from Georgia Tech and is working toward a master's degree in educational psychology. He and his wife, Shanea, got married in 2021.

Offensive Assistant

Nick Jones

College: Georgia

Rams Coaching Year: 3

Nick Jones enters his fourth NFL season and his third with the Los Angeles Rams as an offensive assistant.

During the 2022 season, Jones worked primarily with an offensive line unit that started 11 different combinations of players in each of the first 11 games as a result of injuries. The Rams offensive line was forced to play at least three players at every position except right tackle. Despite the adversity, the Rams offensive line unit stepped up later in the season and didn't allow a sack in Week 16 against the Broncos and allowed just one sack in three games during the 2022 season.

With the guidance of Jones, players such as Offensive Lineman Coleman Shelton and Tackle Alaric Jackson were able to emerge as starting-caliber players for the Rams last season. He has also played a role in the success of Center Brian Allen, Tackle Rob Havenstein and former Rams Guard David Edwards over the last few seasons. Jones was also part of the Rams' coaching staff that worked with Super Bowl Champion and Walter Payton Man of the Year Andrew Whitworth during the final year of his illustrious career.

In his first year with the Rams, the offensive line tied for sixth in the NFL for fewest sacks allowed (31), fifth in pressures allowed (173), and first in time to pressure allowed on offense (2.76 seconds). The Rams offensive line did not allow a sack in two games that season and allowed just one sack on seven occasions.

Prior to joining the Rams, Jones spent the 2020 season in the NFL as an Diversity Coaching Fellow working with the offensive line for the Atlanta Falcons.

Jones spent the 2019 season as the co-special teams coordinator and tight ends coach at Colorado State University. Under his tutelage, the CSU special teams units made major improvements from the previous season, including the program's net punting which elevated from 88th nationally to sixth, and punt return coverage, which moved from 129th nationally to 33rd. He directly oversaw the punt and kickoff units when Ryan Stonehouse was named to the first-team All-Conference at punter.

Additionally, Trey McBride was named first-team All-Conference after leading the league in catches by a tight end (45), yards (560) and touchdowns (four).

In 2018, he coached tight ends at The Air Force Academy and served as punt coordinator, as well as offensive tackles & tight-ends coach at Coastal Carolina from 2012-18.

Jones was a four-year letterman at the University of Georgia from 2003-06. He was named second-team All-SEC at center, was elected co-captain in 2006, and earned Offensive MVP and the Coaches Leadership Award for the Bulldogs as a senior. The Bowdon, Ga. native was also the recipient of the Leon Farmer Strength and Conditioning Award and was chosen for the Academic Roundtable for excellence in the classroom and on the field.

Following his collegiate career, Jones played for the Seattle Seahawks from 2007-09 before beginning his coaching career at the University of Georgia as an offensive graduate assistant in 2010. Jones and his wife, Katie, have one son, Deuce.

Assistant Offensive Line

Zak Kromer

College: Oklahoma

NFL Coaching Year: 8

Rams Coaching Year: 7

Zak Kromer enters his eighth NFL season and seventh with the Los Angeles Rams. He will serve as the assistant offensive line coach after spending the last two seasons as an offensive assistant.

During his first five seasons with the Rams from 2017-2021, Kromer primarily worked with an offensive line that anchored one of the most productive offenses in the NFL during that span.

In 2022, Kromer worked closely with the tight ends and helped Tyler Higbee sustain his productivity in McVay's offense. In Week 16 against the Broncos, Higbee eclipsed 3,000 career receiving yards and became the Rams' all-time leader in touchdowns for tight ends (20).

Higbee is currently the Rams' all-time leader in receptions (306), receiving yards (3,107) and touchdowns for tight ends. Under the guidance of Kromer, he tallied a career-best 72 catches for 620 yards and three touchdowns during the 2022 season. His 620 receiving yards were the second-most of his career. Additionally, his 404 yards after catch was a career-high, the fourth best amongst tight ends, and the 28th highest YAC total in the NFL last season.

Kromer also continues to develop young Tight End Brycen Hopkins, who set career-highs in catches (7) and receiving yards (109) last season.

In his fourth season in L.A. in 2020, Kromer helped a rushing attack that finished 10th in the league, averaging 126.1 rush yards per game. The team was led by rookie RB Cam Akers, who tallied a team-best 625 yards on the ground. Akers recorded a 61-yard rush against the 49ers in a Week 11 contest, which marked the longest rush of the McVay era.

In 2019, with the help of Kromer's adjustments throughout the season due to injury along the offensive front, the offensive line did not allow a sack in a franchise-best six games, while also allowing the fewest sacks in the league (22).

Kromer spent the 2016 season with the Buffalo Bills as an entry-level coaching assistant. Prior to the Bills, he spent four seasons at the University of Oklahoma as a student assistant for the football program.

Kromer earned a bachelor of arts degree in communications.

He is the son of the longtime NFL offensive line coach Aaron Kromer, who has 19 seasons of NFL experience.

Kromer and his wife, Emily, got married in June 2018 and they have a son, Beckham.

Assistant Head Coach

Jimmy Lake

College: Eastern Washington

Rams Coaching Year: 1

Jimmy Lake joined the Rams coaching staff as the assistant head coach this offseason after coaching at the University of Washington where he developed numerous NFL prospects and some of the nation's top defenses.

Lake became the head coach for the Huskies leading up to the 2020 season that was shortened due to the COVID pandemic after serving in other positions during his seven previous seasons with the program. In his first season at the helm, Lake's Huskies went 3-1 and won the Pac-12 North Division title. Four players - two on offense and two on defense - earned first-team All-Pac-12 honors and the Huskies also led the conference in total defense. The Huskies had a 7-6 record during Lake's time as the head coach.

Lake was Washington's defensive coordinator and defensive backs coach from 2018-19. In 2019, Lake lost nine defensive starters from the previous year and started as many as three true freshman in the secondary. His defensive unit limited opposing offenses to 19.4 points per game. Lake helped players such as Elijah Bolden earn second-team All-America and first-team All-Pac-12 honors while Myles Bryant was a second-team all-conference selection. Freshman defensive backs Trent McDuffie and Cameron Williams also earned Freshman-All-America honors.

In his first year calling the plays on defense in 2018, Lake continued the Huskies' reign as the top defense in the Pac-12. The Washington defense led the conference in points allowed per game (15.5) and total defense (301.8 yards per game). The Huskies also ranked second in the Pac-12 in rushing defense, passing yards allowed, and pass efficiency.

From 2016-17, Lake served as the co-defensive coordinator and defensive backs coach for the Huskies. In 2017, the Huskies led the Pac-12 in both total defense (eighth nationally), and scoring defense (fifth nationally). The defensive unit also led the nation in fewest yards allowed per completion (9.42). That season, Rams safety Taylor Rapp earned first-team All-Pac-12 honors and defensive back Zeke Turner eventually signed with the Arizona Cardinals at the end of the season and earned NFL All-NFL Rookie Team honors.

His first year in the co-defensive coordinator role, Lake helped the Huskies once again lead all Pac-12 defenses. Washington went 12-2 and earned a trip to the College Football Playoff that season. The Husky defense led the conference in total defense (316.9 yards per game), which ranked 12th in the nation, and scoring defense (17.7 points per game), which ranked eighth in the country. Lake's defense also led all FBS schools in turnover margin (1.29 per game) and takeaways (33). Washington finished the 2016 season first in the Pac-12 in first downs allowed and third down conversion rate, as well as second in red zone defense, rushing defense and sacks.

The Washington secondary also helped the defense lead the conference and finish eighth nationally in interceptions. Budda Baker and Sidney Jones both earned first-team All-Pac-12 honors while Kevin King was an honorable mention.

Baker, who earned a trip to the Pro Bowl his rookie season with the Arizona Cardinals, was a consensus All-America pick while Jones was a Scout.com first-team All-America and second-team selection of the Football Writers and Sports Illustrated. Additionally, Rams safety Taylor Rapp earned Pac-12 defensive freshman of the year, MVP of the Pac-12 Championship Game, and freshman All-America honors.

In 2015 as the defensive backs coach, the Huskies led the Pac-12 in scoring defense, total defense and red zone defense. The group also finished second in both pass efficiency and rushing defense. Two Husky sophomores, Budda Baker and Sidney Jones, earned first-team All-Pac-12 honors. Jones led the conference in passes defended and finished top five in interceptions, forced fumbles and fumble recoveries.

Lake rejoined the Washington coaching staff under Chris Peterson in 2014 and led a secondary that included three freshmen and a true sophomore as starters. At the conclusion of the season, Budda Baker earned freshman All-America honors and the UW defense ranked ninth in turnover margin and a top-40 mark in scoring defense.

During his time on the Boise State coaching staff in 2013, the Broncos ranked second in the Mountain West in points allowed (24.8) and interceptions (16), third in total defense (413.4 yards per game) and pass efficiency (129.7), and fourth in sacks (30). They also tied for a conference-low with just 17 touchdown passes allowed that season. Lake also mentored sophomore and former Rams player, Donte Deayon, who earned 2013 second-team All-Conference honors after finishing second in the league with six interceptions and fourth with 15 passes defended.

Lake began coaching the secondary at Boise State in 2012. The Broncos defense ranked fifth nationally in both pass defense (169.5) and defensive pass efficiency (101.4) that season. Boise State also ranked eighth nationally in scoring defense (15.8 points per game) and 12th nationally in total defense (315.6 yards per game). The Broncos defense intercepted 18 passes, which tied for the 12th-most in the country that season.

In his second stint with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers from 2010-11, Lake coached the defensive backs group which was anchored by five-time Pro Bowl selection Ronde Barber.

Lake spent his first two seasons coaching at the NFL ranks with the Buccaneers from 2006-07 serving as the assistant defensive backs coach before joining the Detroit Lions coaching staff in 2008 as the defensive backs coach.

At Montana State in 2005, Lake led a secondary on a defense that finished first in the Big Sky Conference and allowed a conference-low 165.6 passing yards per game.

In his first coaching stint at Washington in 2004 under Keith Gilbertson, Lake coached the secondary and helped the Huskies defense finish first in the Pac-10 and 17th-nationally in pass defense.

As a collegiate player at Eastern Washington, Lake was an All-Big Sky honorable mention as a strong safety and an academic all-conference selection. He graduated with a degree in business administration in 2000 and then coached the secondary at his alma mater from 2000-03.

Lake was born in Walnut Creek, Calif, and moved around as a child due to his father's service in the U.S. Air Force. He also lived in Turkey, the Philippines and other places before completing high school in Spokane, Washington. He and his wife, Michele, are parents of three children: Jimmy Jr., Faith and Bronson.

Pass Game Specialist

Jake Peetz

Rams Coaching Year: 2

Jake Peetz is entering his second year on the Rams' coaching staff and will serve as the pass game specialist after spending the 2022 season as an offensive assistant.

In his first year with the Rams, Peetz provided general support for McVay on the offensive side of the ball and handled game management. With the help of Peetz, the Rams' offense finished the season with the best fourth down conversion rate in the NFL, converting 15 of 19 fourth down attempts after finishing 17th in this category in 2021. Peetz also played an instrumental role in onboarding mid-season acquisition and quarterback Baker Mayfield, who had been with the team for two days before he led a 98-yard touchdown drive that marked the longest go-ahead touchdown drive to begin in the final two minutes of a game in the last 45 years, according to Elias Sports Bureau.

Peetz joined the Rams with 10 years of NFL experience and has worked with quarterbacks such as Bridgewater (Panthers), Derek Carr (Raiders), Kirk Cousins (Commanders), Chad Henne (Jaguars), Blaine Gabbert (Jaguars), Tua Tagovailoa (Dolphins), Jalen Hurts (Eagles) and Mac Jones (Patriots).

During his time as the offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach at LSU in 2021, Peetz helped guide the Tigers to the No. 5 passing offense in the SEC. Quarterback Max Johnson finished seventh in the conference with 2,815 passing yards, fifth in touchdown passes (27) and tallied the fifth-fewest interceptions (6, tied with two others). Johnson did not play in the team's bowl game appearance, and Peetz helped senior wide receiver and quarterback Jontre Kirklín throw for three touchdowns, which tied for the third-most for a "quarterback" in a bowl game for the Tigers. As a result of Peetz offensive guidance, Kirklín also had success at the running back position.

Peetz also spent two years with the Carolina Panthers coaching the running backs in 2019 when Christian McCaffrey put together a record-breaking season. McCaffrey led the NFL in scrimmage yards (2,392) that season and became just the third player in NFL history with over 1,000 rushing yards and 1,000 receiving yards in the same season. He also set the NFL record for receptions by a running back with 116 in 2019, becoming only the second player in league history with 1,000 rushing yards and 100 receptions in the same season.

In 2020, Peetz was the running backs coach and helped Carolina produce four players with over 1,000 scrimmage yards in a season as the Panthers became only the fifth team in the Super Bowl era to accomplish such a feat. Bridgewater completed 69.2 percent of his passes and threw for 3,733 yards and 15 TDs for the Panthers in 2020. The Panthers' offense also produced a pair of 1,000-yard receivers in 2020 with Robby Anderson and D.J. Moore both eclipsing the mark.

NFL stops for Peetz include the Oakland Raiders (2015-17), Washington Commanders (2014) and Jacksonville Jaguars (2012). Peetz spent the 2013 and 2018 seasons as an offensive analyst with Alabama. He also coached at Santa Barbara City College in 2006 and at UCLA in 2007. He was a scout for the Jacksonville Jaguars from 2008-11 before moving to an on-field coaching position with the franchise in 2012.

Peetz coached quarterbacks in his final two seasons in Oakland (2016-17), serving as assistant quarterback coach in 2016 and quarterbacks coach in 2017. Raiders quarterback Derek Carr earned two of his three consecutive Pro Bowl selections working with Peetz. He originally joined the team as a senior offensive assistant in 2015, working primarily with the running backs. He helped Latavious Murray earn Pro Bowl honors after rushing for 1,066 yards and six touchdowns, the first 1,000-yard rushing season by a Raider since 2010.

Peetz spent one year with Washington as the offensive quality control/assistant wide receivers coach in 2014. In his one season working with Peetz, receiver DeSean Jackson led the NFL with an average of 20.9 yards per reception and led the team with 1,169 receiving yards.

Peetz played defensive back and long snapper at Nebraska from 2003-05. While at Nebraska, he was twice named to the Brook Berringer Citizenship Team for his extensive community outreach work. He graduated from Nebraska in exercise science in December of 2005.

Peetz and his wife Maggie have seven children – Gianna, Julia, John, Robert, Emma, William, George and Andrew.

Defensive Backs/Pass Game Coordinator

Aubrey Pleasant

College: Wisconsin

Rams Coaching Year: 5

Aubrey Pleasant enters his fifth season with the Los Angeles Rams after serving as the defensive backs coach and pass game coordinator for the Detroit Lions the past two seasons. Pleasant also served an offensive consultant for the Green Bay Packers during the second half of the 2022 season.

In his first year with the Lions in 2021, Pleasant mentored undrafted rookie cornerbacks A.J. Parker and Jerry Jacobs, who led all NFL undrafted players in snaps played on either offense or defense that season. The young cornerback duo was the only pair of undrafted rookies to play at least 400 snaps on offense or defense and both players saw more than 500 snaps of action in the 2021 campaign.

Additionally, Jacobs and Parker each produced seven passes defended and a forced fumble, becoming the eighth and ninth undrafted rookies in NFL history to produce a season with at least seven passes defended and a forced fumble. They also became the first set of rookie teammates to accomplish this feat.

Pleasant joined the Detroit Lions coaching staff ahead of the 2021 season to serve as the team's defensive backs coach and pass game coordinator after his first coaching stint with the Rams from 2017-20 as the cornerbacks coach.

In that span, Rams cornerbacks ranked second in the NFL in interceptions (28), led the NFL in interception return yards (496), and led the NFL in interceptions returned for touchdowns with five. Pleasant also guided defensive back Jalen Ramsey to a First-Team AP All-Pro nod in 2020 and worked with cornerback Marcus Peters, who earned First-Team AP All-Pro honors in 2019.

Pleasant was also instrumental in the development of former Rams cornerback Darious Williams, who joined the team in 2018 after originally signing as an undrafted rookie free agent with the Baltimore Ravens. Williams had a strong 2020 campaign in his first full season as a starter with four interceptions and a pick-six in the postseason. During Pleasant's first four seasons in Los Angeles, the Rams earned two NFC West division titles, three postseason appearances and a trip to Super Bowl LIII.

Prior to his stint with the Rams, Pleasant spent four seasons with the Washington Commanders from 2013-16. In his first year with the team he was an offensive assistant and finished his tenure as a defensive quality control coach. Washington won the NFC East his final two seasons and he helped linebacker Ryan Kerrigan earn a Pro Bowl appearance after posting 11.0 sacks.

His first NFL position was as an offensive staff/head coach intern for the Cleveland Browns in 2013.

Prior to arriving in Cleveland, Pleasant spent two seasons at the University of Michigan where he served as a defensive graduate assistant (2011) and the program's defensive backs coach (2012). In 2011, the Michigan defense led the Big Ten in takeaways (29) and tied for first in the FBS with 20 fumble recoveries. The following season, Michigan ranked fifth in the FBS with an average of 169.5 passing yards allowed per game.

Following his collegiate playing career as a safety at Wisconsin from 2005-08, Pleasant coached defensive backs at Grad Blanc (Mich.) High School and was a behavioral specialist/special needs teacher in the Flint Community School District.

A native of Flint, Michigan, Pleasant earned his bachelor's degree in sociology from Wisconsin and a master's degree in education from Michigan.

Quarterbacks/Pass Game Coordinator

Zac Robinson

College: Oklahoma State

Zac Robinson enters his fifth season with the Los Angeles Rams in 2022, his second as the quarterbacks coach and pass game coordinator.

During the 2022 season, Robinson mentored four different quarterbacks who started games for the Rams due to injuries sustained by quarterbacks Matthew Stafford and John Wolford. Before he was sidelined for the remainder of the season, Stafford had the highest completion percentage of his career (68%), which ranked fourth in the NFL.

Robinson also played an instrumental role in the onboarding of mid-season acquisition and former Rams quarterback Baker Mayfield, who led the Rams on a game-winning drive against the Raiders in Week 14 despite joining the team only two days prior. That marked the shortest amount of time spent with a team before playing quarterback since 1995. With Robinson's guidance, Mayfield completed 82-of-129 passes for 850 yards and four touchdowns in five games played for the Rams. In his first start in Kansas City against the Chiefs, Robinson helped Perkins rush for 44 yards, the third-most rushing yards by a Rams quarterback since 2000 and the second-most by a Rams quarterback in their NFL debut.

Robinson spent the 2021 season as the assistant quarterbacks coach. Under his guidance, Stafford quickly settled in during his first year with the Rams finishing top five in the regular season in passing yards (4,886), passing touchdowns (41, matching a career-high), passing first downs (233) and yards per attempt (8.13). Stafford and the passing attack ranked third in the NFL with 65 completions over 20-yards and completions to eight different receivers.

In 2020 as the assistant wide receivers coach, the duo of WRs Cooper Kupp and Robert Woods led the Rams pass catchers finishing with 974 and 936 receiving yards, respectively. As a team, the Rams offensive unit finished just outside of the top-10 in total offense, amassing 377 yards per game (11th) and passing offense, averaging 250.9 yards per game (13th).

In 2019, Robinson was the assistant quarterbacks coach and was influential in the continued growth of QB Jared Goff, who became the first quarterback in franchise history to post consecutive seasons with over 4,000 passing yards. Goff also threw 20-plus touchdowns for the third-consecutive season and became just the seventh quarterback in franchise history to tally over 80 passing touchdowns as a Ram.

Prior to joining the Rams, Robinson served as a senior analyst for leading analytics website, Pro Football Focus. He was one of the site's primary pro and college quarterback evaluators dating back to 2016.

Following his professional playing career, Robinson began giving instruction to college and NFL quarterbacks in 2014. He helped prospective quarterbacks and skill players prepare for the NFL Scouting Combine and NFL Draft.

Robinson received his first coaching opportunity in November 2015 as an instructor at The Quarterback Ranch in Southlake, Texas. He led college and NFL instruction for the renowned quarterback development camp.

Robinson spent four seasons as an NFL quarterback, originally drafted by the Patriots in the seventh round (250th overall) of the 2010 NFL Draft. He later went on to have brief stints with the Seattle Seahawks, Detroit Lions and Cincinnati Bengals.

Between 2005-09, Robinson helped catapult Oklahoma State back into the national spotlight under Head Coach Mike Gundy, including consecutive 9-4 campaigns and bowl game appearances in his final two seasons in Stillwater.

A three-year starter, Robinson finished his collegiate career among the all-time offensive leaders in Oklahoma State program history, compiling 10,175 total yards (8,317 passing) and 88 touchdowns (66 passing).

During his sophomore season in 2007, Robinson's first as a starter, he threw for 2,824 yards and a 23-9 touchdown-to-interception ratio while rushing for a career-best 847 yards and nine scores. The dual-threat quarterback was named the Insight Bowl MVP after guiding the Cowboys to a 49-33 victory over Indiana in which he accounted for 372 total yards and five scores.

A native of Littleton, Colorado, Robinson was named an All-Colorado selection at quarterback while competing in both football and track at Chatfield Senior High School. Robinson and his wife, Mia, have a daughter, Madi, and they reside in the greater Los Angeles area.

Linebackers/Pass Rush Coordinator

Chris Shula

College: Miami (Ohio)

Rams Coaching Year: 7

Chris Shula enters his seventh season with the Rams, his first as the linebackers coach and pass rush coordinator, after serving as the defensive backs coach and pass game coordinator in 2022.

Under Shula's leadership, the Rams secondary shined in 2022, even with rookies stepping up to play significant snaps. The Rams' secondary finished last season tied for seventh in interceptions (16), and 12 of them were hauled in by players in the secondary.

Former Rams' Defensive Back Jalen Ramsey finished second in the NFL in passes defended (18) and tied for third in pass breakups (12) and 11th in interceptions (4) to earn his sixth-career Pro Bowl nod. Additionally, rookie Defensive Back Cobie Durant led the NFL in interception return yards (151) on three interceptions. He became the first Rams rookie, and eighth player in NFL history, to record a sack and interception in the same game within their first two NFL games during a Week 2 matchup against the Falcons. Former Rams Safety Taylor Rapp also had one of his best seasons under Shula and was ranked the 12th best safety during the 2022 season, according to PFF.

With the guidance of Shula in 2021, rookie Linebacker Ernest Jones became an instant contributor, starting 15 regular season games and tallying 58 tackles (33 solo), one sack, a tackle for loss, four pass breakups, two interceptions (50 interception return yards) and six quarterback pressures. Shula also helped Jones have a standout performance in Super Bowl LVI with seven tackles (six solo), 1.0 sack, one pass breakup, and four quarterback pressures.

Shula's unit supported the Rams' defense which finished sixth in the NFL in opponents rushing yards per game (103.2), sixth in opponents rush yards (1,754), and fifth in yards per rush (3.96) in 2021.

The Rams' defense was the top-ranked defensive unit in 2020, allowing the fewest points per game (18.5), passing yards per game (190.7) and total yards per game (281.9). The Rams also finished second in the league in sacks (53.0) that season.

Additionally in 2020, free agent addition OLB Leonard Floyd enjoyed a career-year under the guidance of Shula. Floyd posted a career-best 10.5 sacks in his first season with the Rams. OLB Samson Ebukam tallied 4.5 sacks, while OLB Justin Hollins added 3.0 sacks.

In his first season working primarily with the outside linebackers in 2019, Shula helped OLB Dante Fowler Jr. put together a career-year that featured a career-best 11.5 sacks to go along with career highs in tackles (58), forced fumbles (two), passes defended (six), tackles for loss (16) and quarterback hits (16).

Shula also assisted in a strong season for veteran LB Clay Matthews, who tallied 8.0 sacks in only 13 games played, his highest sack total since the 2014 season.

With the help of Shula, LB Cory Littleton put together a career year in his third pro campaign. His 125 tackles led the team and were tied-10th most in the NFL in 2018, in addition to posting the most passes defended (13) by any linebacker in the league. In 2017, LBs Alec Ogletree and Mark Barron each posted over 100 tackles. Barron, a converted safety playing his first season in former Defensive Coordinator Wade Phillips' system, posted a career-high and tied for a team-best three interceptions on the season.

Prior to joining the Rams in 2017, Shula spent the previous two seasons as defensive quality control coach with the Chargers.

In his capacity with the Chargers, Shula assisted with the defensive line, which saw a breakout season from rookie DE Joey Bosa, who finished the 2016 season tied for sixth in the AFC in sacks with 10.5.

Shula entered the NFL after spending one season as defensive coordinator at John Carroll University in 2014. During that season, John Carroll reached the quarterfinals of the NCAA Division III playoffs and finished 10th in Division III in scoring defense.

Prior to his time at John Carroll University, Shula spent three seasons as a graduate assistant, working primarily with defensive backs at Indiana University. Shula entered the coaching ranks as the assistant linebackers coach at Ball State in 2010.

Shula was a linebacker at Miami (Ohio) from 2004-08, where he was a teammate of Rams Head Coach Sean McVay for four seasons.

Shula is the son of David Shula, former head coach of the Cincinnati Bengals from 1992-96, and the grandson of Hall of Fame Head Coach Don Shula. The Shulas are one-of-two three-generation coaching families in NFL history. He and his wife, Jennifer, got married in 2021 and have a daughter, Avery.

Special Teams Assistant

Jeremy Springer

College: UTEP

Rams Coaching Year: 2

Jeremy Springer enters his second season with the Rams as a special teams assistant after spending eight seasons coaching at the collegiate level.

During his first season working with the special teams unit on Sean McVay's staff, former Rams kicker Matt Gay made 28 field goals, the second-most for a season in his career. His 93.3% field goal percentage was the second-highest of his career and ranked fourth in the NFL among kickers with at least 10 attempts. Last season, Gay kicked a 55-yard field goal in Week 15 against the Packers at Lambeau Field. This marked the third time in NFL history that a kicker converted a field goal of 50 or more yards at Lambeau Field when it was colder than 25 degrees.

Additionally, former Rams punter Riley Dixon finished 11th in the NFL last season with a career-high 48.4 yards per punt, which ranks second on the Rams' all-time single-season punting average list. In the return game, Springer helped former Rams receiver Brandon Powell finish eighth in total kick return yards (605) and seventh in kickoffs returned past the 20-yard line (76.7%) among players with at least 20 kickoff returns.

At Marshall, Springer oversaw a special teams unit that ranked seventh in Conference USA in total kickoff return yards with 421 and also tied with Old Dominion for the most kickoff returns for touchdowns (2), including a long of 99 yards. The Thundering Herd's 38.1 yards per kickoff return ranked fourth in the conference in 2018. He joined the Marshall coaching staff after serving as the special teams coordinator at the University of Arizona from 2018-20.

During a shortened 2020 season in Arizona, kicker Lucas Havrisik converted 90% of his field goal attempts. In 2019 under Springer, running back J.J. Taylor averaged 23.6 yards per kick return with 19 total returns for 448 yards. The year prior, Taylor averaged 24.5 yards per return with 22 total returns for 540 yards and one touchdown.

While at Texas A&M, Springer worked directly with Special Teams Coordinator Jeff Banks and assisted with the tight ends. He was also responsible for organizing recruiting efforts in South and West Texas.

Under Banks and Springer, the Aggies' special teams unit was one of the nation's leaders. In 2017, Texas A&M led the nation in blocked kicks and blocked punts.

In 2015 and 2016, the Aggies' special teams led the nation in punt returns and allowed zero blocked kicks in 2015. Prior to his three-year stint at Texas A&M, Springer was a graduate assistant at his alma mater, UTEP from 2011-13.

He began his professional career at UTEP in 2011 as an assistant in football operations. In the role, he assisted and analyzed monthly budgets relating to the finances of UTEP football. Additionally, Springer assisted with charter planes, summer camps, hotels, training camp, and administrative duties dealing with the UTEP football team's day-to-day operations.

In March of 2013, Springer became a graduate assistant coach where he worked with UTEP's defensive line and special teams. He helped coach the Miners to their 14th bowl game appearance in program history when they competed in the 2014 New Mexico Bowl. In addition to his coaching duties, he managed on-campus recruiting throughout the year and was a primary in-house recruiter for Georgia and Florida.

Springer played collegiately at UTEP from 2007-11, where he was a standout linebacker and also played special teams. In 33 games, he compiled 161 tackles, 10 tackles for loss and one interception. He was the recipient of a Conference USA Academic Medal (minimum 3.75 GPA) as a freshman and was a four-time member of the Conference USA Commissioner's Honor Roll.

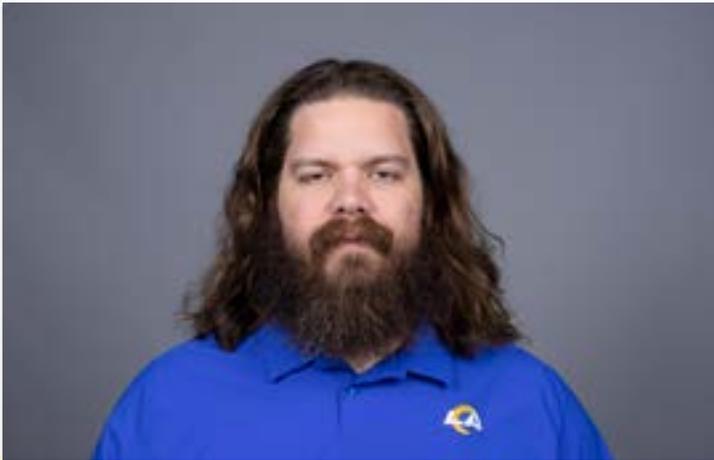

A native of Los Fresnos, Texas, Springer has a twin brother, Justin, who played football at Kansas.

Offensive Line

Ryan Wendell

College: Fresno State

Rams Coaching Year: 1

Ryan Wendell enters his first season with the Los Angeles Rams as the offensive line coach after spending the last three seasons as an assistant offensive line coach for the Buffalo Bills.

Last season, Wendell helped the Bills' offensive line finish eighth in fewest sacks allowed (23) and sack rate (5.4%), 11th in pressures allowed and 11th in average time to throw (2.86 seconds). Wendell's group also helped the Bills' offense finish fourth in yards per game (397.6), seventh in rush yards per game (139.5), second in yards per rush (5.2), seventh in pass yards per game (258.1), and third in offensive points scored per game (26.88). Bills' tackle Dion Dawkins received Pro Bowl honors under Wendell's mentorship last season.

In 2021, the Bills' offensive line finished second in fewest sacks allowed (27) and sack rate (4.0%), and fifth in average time to throw (2.9 seconds). The Bills' offense also finished the 2021 season sixth in rush yards (2,209) and yards per rush (4.8), and seventh in rushing touchdowns (20).

Under Wendell's guidance in 2020, the Bills' offensive line ranked ninth in sacks allowed (27), seventh in sack rate (4.3%), and 11th in rushing first downs (119). He served as a coaching assistant in his first year as a coach at the NFL ranks in 2019.

Wendell had a nine-year NFL playing career and appeared in 80 games (49 starts) with the New England Patriots from 2008-15 and the Carolina Panthers in 2016.

During his tenure as a player with the Patriots, Wendell won a Super Bowl (2014) and two conference championships (2011, 2014). Wendell also recorded back-to-back seasons starting every game during the 2012 and 2013 seasons. He appeared in 12 career postseason contests with seven starts and also started at three different spots along the offensive line - left guard, center and right guard.

He signed with the Patriots as a rookie free agent in 2008 after playing his collegiate ball at Fresno State where he was a four-year starter from 2004-07.

During his collegiate playing days at Fresno State, Wendell played center for an offensive line that set a school record for fewest sacks allowed (12). He played in nine games during his freshman season in 2004, when he helped the school finish as the nation's fifth-ranked offense. He also earned All-WAC and Academic All-WAC honors.

Wendell is a Southern California native and had his jersey retired by Diamond Bar High School, where he was elected to the school's Hall of Fame. He also was selected first-team All-CIF Southern Section as a defensive lineman as a senior and as an offensive lineman as a junior. As a student, Wendell was the winner of the California Governor's Scholar Share Award.

Wide Receivers

Eric Yarber

College: Idaho

Rams Coaching Year: 7

Los Angeles native Eric Yarber is in his seventh season with the Los Angeles Rams serving as the team's wide receivers coach.

Last season, Yarber helped Rams receiver Cooper Kupp sustain the success from his historic 2021 triple crown-winning campaign. Before he was sidelined with an injury in Week 10, Kupp was on his way to another stellar season. Prior to his injury, Kupp ranked second in the NFL in receptions (72), third in yards after catch (422), as well as fifth in receiving first downs (42), receiving touchdowns (6), and receiving yards (812).

Yarber has also played an instrumental role in the development of Van Jefferson, who returned to action in Week 8 last season and hauled in 21 catches for 308 yards and three touchdowns in 11 games. Since entering the league in 2020, Jefferson's 14.96 yards per reception rank tied for seventh in the NFL amongst receivers. Additionally, receiver Tutu Atwell became an explosive weapon in McVay's offense in 2022, hauling in 18 catches for 298 yards and a 62-yard touchdown in 13 games played.

Yarber has also helped players such as Ben Skowronek and former Rams receiver Brandon Powell become versatile playmakers on offense. Last season, Skowronek lined up as a receiver, fullback and running back and set career-highs in receptions (39), receiving yards (376) and yards after catch (137). Powell saw action at receiver, running back and returned kicks and punts throughout the season. He also set career-highs in receptions, receiving yards (156) and yards after catch (184) under Yarber.

In 2021 with the guidance of Yarber, Kupp became the fourth player in NFL history to win the receiving Triple Crown by leading the NFL in receptions, receiving yards, and receiving TDs. He led the second place receivers in all three categories by some of the widest margins of any receiving Triple Crown winner. Kupp's season was capped off by becoming the Super Bowl LVI MVP, the 2021 NFL Offensive Player of the Year and was voted to his first Pro Bowl. Kupp also was voted First-Team All-Pro.

Van Jefferson had a breakout 2021 season, starting all 17 games and hauling in 50 catches for 802 yards and six touchdowns. With Yarber's leadership, mid-season acquisition Odell Beckham Jr. was able to quickly acclimate to the Rams' offensive system and play a key role in the offensive production during the Rams' Super Bowl run.

In 2020, Kupp and former Rams receiver Robert Woods led the Rams pass catchers, finishing with 974 and 936 receiving yards, respectively. Woods added a team-high six receiving touchdowns, 155 rush yards and two rushing touchdowns.

As a team in 2020, the Rams offensive unit finished just outside of the top-10 in total offense, amassing 377 yards per game (11th) and passing offense, averaging 250.9 yards per game (13th).

The 2019 campaign saw a breakout year from Kupp, who returned from a season-ending injury during the 2018 season. Kupp recorded his first 1,000-yard season of his career with 1,061 receiving yards and led the team in receptions (94). Kupp finished with a career-high 220 yards on seven receptions against the Bengals in the Rams' International Series win in Week 8. His 220 yards were the most receiving yards in an international game in NFL history.

Woods also ended the season with over 1,000 receiving yards, giving L.A. consecutive seasons with multiple receivers totaling over 1,000 receiving yards since a run of four-straight seasons from 1999-2002.

With the tutelage of Yarber, the Rams quickly acclimated 2018 offseason acquisition Brandin Cooks into the league's No. 3 scoring offense. Cooks (1,204) and fellow wideout Robert Woods (1,219) posted career-highs in receiving yards while becoming the first Rams receiving duo to surpass 1,000 yards each since Torry Holt and Isaac Bruce in 2006.

During the 2017 season, the newly-acquired Woods recorded a then personal-best 781 yards receiving, which ranked third amongst the 2017 free agent wide receiver group. Rookie WR Cooper Kupp finished with a team-best 869 yards receiving, the second-most amongst all rookies and was named to the Pro Football Writers Association (PFWA) All-Rookie team.

Prior to joining the Rams in 2017, Yarber spent the previous five seasons with the UCLA Bruins in the same capacity. Yarber joined the Bruins staff as receivers coach in 2012. During his tenure, seven of Yarber's receivers were selected in the NFL Draft, including three in the 2016 NFL Draft.

The Bruins' pass offense ranked 18th in the nation (295.6 yards per game) in 2016. That season saw the emergence of receivers Darren Andrews, Jordan Lasley and Kenneth Walker. Andrews ranked 10th in the Pac-12 in receptions per game and led the team with 55 catches. Lasley came on strong over the course of the season and recorded 41 receptions and led the team with six touchdowns. Walker notched 22 catches and four touchdowns.

Jordan Payton was invited to the Senior Bowl and was selected by the Cleveland Browns in the 2016 NFL Draft. Payton became UCLA's all-time receptions leader during the 2015 campaign and the first Bruin to ever catch 200 career passes. He also moved up to third on the all-time receiving yards list and ranked among the nation's top 25 in receiving yards (1,106) and receiving yards per game (85.1). Thomas Duarte, a Miami Dolphins draft selection, earned second-team all-conference honors after registering 10 touchdown catches, which ranked fourth on the all-time school single-season list and was 17th in the NCAA. Devin Fuller, drafted by the Atlanta Falcons, moved up to the top six in career receptions.

In year two at UCLA, Yarber helped senior Shaq Evans, a fourth-round selection of the New York Jets in the 2014 NFL Draft, finish his career ranked tied for 10th on the school's all-time receptions list. Evans earned an invite to the Senior Bowl and the NFL Combine after catching nine touchdowns in 2013, tied for ninth on the all-time school list.

In 2011, Yarber worked as Tampa Bay's wide receivers coach for a promising young unit that included the development of second-round pick Arrelious Benn and fourth-round pick Mike Williams. Williams turned in one of the top seasons by a receiver in Buccaneers history, recording 65 receptions for 964 yards and 11 touchdowns. He led all rookie receivers in each of these categories, earning The Sporting News and PFW/PFWA All-Rookie Team selection while finishing second in voting for the Associated Press Offensive Rookie of the Year Award. Yarber also oversaw the emergence of Benn, who was becoming an important part of the Tampa Bay offense prior to a season-ending knee injury in Week 13.

Yarber joined Tampa Bay after spending three seasons (2007-09) at the collegiate level as the wide receivers coach at Arizona State. While at ASU in 2009, Yarber coached two standout wide receivers in Kyle Williams and Chris McGaha. Williams finished the 2009 campaign with 815 receiving yards on 57 catches and eight touchdowns before being invited to the Senior Bowl and becoming a sixth-round draft pick of the San Francisco 49ers in the 2010 NFL Draft. McGaha racked up 56 catches for 673 yards and four touchdowns on his way to earn second-team All-Pac 10 honors.

Prior to his work with the Sun Devils, Yarber coached wide receivers for two seasons (2005-06) under Tyrone Willingham at the University of Washington. With Yarber's assistance, two receivers, Sonny Shackelford and Anthony Russo, turned in strong performances, with Russo finishing third in the Pac-10 Conference with a 17.3 yards-per-catch average and Shackelford finishing fourth in touchdown catches (seven) and eighth in receptions (50) and receiving yards (666).

During the 2003-04 seasons, Yarber coached the San Francisco 49ers' wide receivers, and in his first year guided Pro Bowler Terrell Owens to a 1,000-yard season. During this time, Yarber was also instrumental in the development of wide receivers Cedrick Wilson and Brandon Lloyd, as the duo ranked first and second among 49ers' receivers in yards after the catch with a 13.6 and 13.1 average (min. 10 receptions) respectively in 2004.

From 1999-2002, Yarber coached at Oregon State, where he worked with the running backs for one season (1999) before switching to wide receivers (2000-2002). He coached Ken Simonton, who was inducted into the Oregon State Hall of Fame after setting program records that still stand today. Simonton posted records in career rushing yards (5,044), attempts (1,041); touchdowns (59) and 100-yard games (26). Simonton was the first Beaver to gain 1,000 or more yards in three seasons. His work with receivers Chad Johnson and T.J. Houshmandzadeh led to the two being selected in the second and seventh rounds, respectively, by the Cincinnati Bengals in the 2001 NFL Draft. Johnson also earned a Senior Bowl invitation.

Yarber coached his first year in the NFL in 1998, working as an offensive assistant/assistant running backs coach with the Seattle Seahawks, after spending the 1997 season coaching receivers at UNLV. His coaching career began in 1996 when he took a secondary coaching position at his alma mater, Idaho.

Yarber was selected by Washington as a 12th-round pick in the 1986 NFL Draft and spent three seasons as a wide receiver and punt returner. He was part of the Washington squad that defeated the Denver Broncos to win Super Bowl XXII in 1988, leading that team with 37 punt returns. At Idaho, Yarber was a Kodak All-American and the Big Sky Conference's Most Valuable Player during his senior year, catching 75 passes for 1,103 yards. As a junior, he finished 10th in the nation in punt returns and third in the conference with 817 receiving yards on 54 catches. He attended Crenshaw High School in Los Angeles.

Yarber earned a Bachelor's in general studies from the University of Idaho in 1995. He is married to Estevanica and has one son, Kameryon.

Taylor Morton embarks on his 24th season in the NFL and 12th with the Rams.

He is in his seventh season as senior personnel executive after transitioning into the role in 2017 after serving as director of player personnel for four seasons.

He originally joined the Rams in St. Louis as director of college scouting in 2012. Morton is involved in the Rams collegiate and professional scouting efforts and evaluates the top talent in the country in preparation for the NFL Draft. His efforts and experience have contributed to the Rams becoming a playoff team in the last four of six seasons, two-time NFC Champions (2018, 2021) and Super Bowl LVI Champions (2021).

Morton came to the Rams from the Atlanta Falcons, where he served 12 years in the player personnel department. He was responsible for scouting the Southeast region for seven seasons as well as the Southwest, West and Midwest areas respectively for the club.

Prior to becoming a college scout, Morton served in the pro personnel department as an advance scout working with the Falcons coaching staff scouting their opponents, as well as evaluating future free agent prospects for the team.

Taylor joined the Falcons after coaching eight years in the college ranks. His stints included Auburn University, Hinds Community College and Pearl River Community College. He began his coaching career at the University of Southern Mississippi, after a career-ending injury, as a student assistant earning both a Bachelor's and Master's degree in Sports Management/Coaching and Sports Administration.

Taylor is a native of the Destin, Florida area, where he attended Niceville High School and was a member of the 1988 4A State Championship football team. He and his wife, Carissa, have two sons, Thomas and Joshua. Thomas (24) played QB and TE at the University of Southern Mississippi and is currently on the coaching staff at Troy University. Joshua (22) is a senior Engineering student at Auburn.

The Morton family resides in Bluewater Bay, Florida. Taylor and Carissa are active in their community with FCA, Crosspoint Church and youth sports through the All Sports Association.

Brian Xanders

College: Florida State

Rams Year: 7

Brian Xanders is in his seventh season with the Los Angeles Rams. Xanders works with all areas of the club's player personnel department, including college scouting, pro personnel, coaching research, and game management/strategy.

The 2023 season marks Xanders' 30th year in the NFL working in a variety of player personnel, scouting, football operations and coaching staff roles during his time at four different teams (Los Angeles, Detroit, Denver and Atlanta). He has direct experience in player evaluations with the last 28 NFL Draft classes and 22 free agency periods.

Xanders joined the Rams organization in 2017, following a four-year stint with the Detroit Lions. Prior to his Lions' tenure, he served four seasons with the Denver Broncos as the team's general manager.

During his tenure as the Broncos' general manager, he engineered the personnel transformation, where 85 percent of the team's roster was turned over through the draft, free agency or re-signed by the club. The Broncos executed high-producing NFL Draft classes from 2009-12, with twenty-seven players earning careers of 4+ years, and there were 22 primary starters (1+ year) on NFL teams. The group included six Pro Bowl players with 20 total appearances: LB Von Miller, WR Demaryius Thomas, CB Chris Harris, DT Malik Jackson, TE Julius Thomas and OG Zane Beadles. Other long-term core starters included WR Eric Decker, DT Derek Wolfe, LB Danny Trevathan, T Orlando Franklin, T Mike Remmers and DE Robert Ayers. There were also eight other Pro Bowl players who were acquired, signed or extended during his tenure: QB Peyton Manning, SS Brian Dawkins, WR Brandon Lloyd, RB Willis McGahee, CB Champ Bailey, DE Elvis Dumervil, WR Brandon Marshall, and OT Ryan Clady.

Xanders also supervised the day-to-day operations of the Broncos' college scouting, pro scouting, labor operations/salary cap, equipment, medical, video, football systems and football operations departments. He served on the NFL College Advisory, NFL Combine Selection and the NFL Statistics Committees. Xanders was originally hired by Denver as assistant general manager in 2008.

Before joining the Broncos, Xanders worked 14 seasons (1994-2008) with the Atlanta Falcons in various scouting, player personnel, football operations, coaching staff (defense/offense/ST) and technology/systems roles. He was a member of the Falcons' defensive coaching staff on their 1998 team that became the first in franchise history to earn a Super Bowl appearance (XXXIII). Xanders was selected by the Falcons to attend Stanford University's NFL Program for Managers in 2005 and has given presentations at several universities on NFL player personnel issues.

A former linebacker who played for Bobby Bowden at Florida State University from 1989-92, Xanders was a member of four bowl-winning teams with the Seminoles that had a 42-7 combined record. He was an All-Atlantic Coast Conference academic team selection and graduated from FSU with a master's degree in business administration and a bachelor's degree in business management.

Xanders, Amy, Reid and Mary Claire and reside in Ponte Vedra Beach, Florida.

Tight End • Clemson • Calhoun, GA

 NFL Exp.: 1 (1st Rams)
 Birth Date: 2/3/2001
 Acquired: D5-'23 (No. 175 Overall)

Transactions: Selected by the Los Angeles Rams in the fifth round (175th overall) of the 2023 NFL Draft (4/29/23).

College: Appeared 54 games (25 starts) for the Clemson Tigers and recorded 88 career receptions for 951 yards and 12 touchdowns. Allen is one of six tight ends in Clemson history to record double-digit career touchdown receptions. His 12 career receiving touchdowns are tied with John McMakin (1969-71), Dwayne Allen (2009-11), and Brandon Ford (2009-12) for the second-most career touchdown receptions by a tight end in school history. During his senior season in 2022, Allen was voted as a team captain and was a Third-Team All-ACC selection. He posted career-highs in receptions (39), receiving yards (443), touchdowns (five) and offensive snaps (701) while starting all 14 games. His 701 offensive snaps were the fifth-most by a Clemson tight end. He was also an All-ACC Academic Team selection in 2022 and was recognized as the 2022 P.A.T. Man of the Year, which honors a scholar-athlete who is an exemplary citizen.

Allen's junior season in 2021, he caught 28 passes for 208 yards and tied for the team-lead with three receiving touchdowns. He appeared in 13 contests (10 starts) and was an ACC Honor Roll selection. As a sophomore in 2020, he saw action in 12 games and tallied 16 catches for 247 yards and four touchdowns. He became the sixth Clemson tight end under Dabo Swinney to catch four or more touchdowns in a season. Allen played 256 snaps in 15 games (one start) his freshman season in 2019 and hauled in five catches for 53 yards.

Personal: Allen was ranked as the 15th-best tight end in the nation by ESPN after a strong senior season at Calhoun High School. He was also a Region 6 AAA Defensive Player of the Year and a First-Team all-region honoree on both sides of the ball. He was a First-Team Chattanooga All-Area selection and the County Defensive Player of the Year. Allen earned his degree in marketing at Clemson and completed a microinternship with Elliot Realty in Myrtle Beach in spring of 2022.

Atwell is tied for fifth in school history with 21 touchdown catches, ranks fourth with ten 100-yard receiving games, and eighth with 2,307 receiving yards. As a junior in 2020, Atwell finished as the team's leading receiver with 46 receptions for 625 yards and seven touchdowns. He tied for third in the ACC in touchdowns (seven) and ranked 14th in the conference in receptions (46) and 16th in yards (625). Against Miami, he caught eight passes for 114 yards and two touchdowns and caught three passes for 129 yards and a touchdown, along with his first career rushing touchdown in the win over Florida State. Atwell played in 13 games (11 starts) during his sophomore year in 2019 when he led the ACC in receiving yards (1,276) and touchdowns (12). That year, he finished tops in the league with an average of 98.2 yards per game and led the nation with four receptions of 70 or more yards, setting the school record with 1,275 yards and tying a school record with 12 touchdowns. With 1,275 yards receiving, Atwell broke Harry Douglas' previous mark of 1,265 yards, which was set in 2007, tied the school mark with seven 100-yard receiving games, was named a Pro Football Focus First-Team All-American, and earned First-Team All-ACC honors. He became the first Louisville player with three touchdowns receptions since 2015 when he caught for 145 yards and three touchdowns against Western Kentucky. He finished with a career-best 152 yards on five receptions and two touchdowns, including one that was 90-yards against Syracuse. Atwell finished his collegiate career with the seventh-most receiving yards in Louisville's program history.

Personal: Atwell enrolled at Louisville in January 2018 and played his high school ball at Miami Northwestern High where he was a four-year starter. He was the recipient of the Miami-Dade County Player of the Year award in 2017. The three-star recruit was regarded as one of the top players in Florida after guiding Northwestern to the FHSAA 6A state championship. Atwell was a dual-threat quarterback with great athleticism and speed. He passed for over 4,000 yards in his career, while running for over 1,500 yards. He chose Louisville over offers from Florida Atlantic, East Carolina, Florida International, Illinois, Marshall, South Florida, UAB, McNeese State, Northern Colorado, Georgia State, Toledo, and Valdosta State. His father, Chatarius Atwell, played wide receiver at Minnesota. Atwell majored in Communications.

73 Steve Avila

Offensive Lineman • TCU • Arlington, TX

NFL Exp.: 1 (1st Rams)

Acquired: D2-'23 (No. 36 Overall)

Transactions: Selected by the Los Angeles Rams in the second round (36th overall) of the 2023 NFL Draft.

College: Avila's senior campaign at TCU in 2022 made him the school's first consensus All-American since wide receiver Josh Doctson in 2015. He was a team captain for a Horned Frogs team that competed in the College Football National Championship and the anchor of an offensive line that paved the way for one of the nation's most prolific offenses. He started all 15 games at left guard and didn't allow a sack for back-to-back seasons. He also led all TCU offensive players with 1,044 snaps played during his senior season. He was a 2022 First-Team All-Big 12 selection, an Outland Trophy Semifinalist, an Earl Campbell Tyler Rose Award Semifinalist, and an honorable mention for Big 12 Offensive Lineman of the Year. Avila participated in the Senior Bowl ahead of the 2023 NFL Draft.

In 2021, he started 11 games at center and saw action at right guard. He capped his junior season as a First-Team AP All-Big 12 and Second-Team All-Big 12 selection. He started all nine games played as a sophomore in 2020 and made starts at three different positions - six at center, two at right tackle, and one at right guard. He was the only player to start at three different spots on the offensive line that season. Avila saw action in 11 games his redshirt freshman year in 2019.

Personal: Was rated a four-star recruit by ESPN following his senior year of high school and ranked as the No.9 offensive guard in the state of Texas and No.42 in the country. He was named District 8-6A Co-Offensive Most Valuable Sophomore Player in 2015. Avila chose to play at TCU over Kansas State and Utah. He joins former TCU Offensive Lineman Joe Noteboom as well as college teammates and rookies Tre Tomlinson and Ochuan Mathis with the Rams.

13 Stetson Bennett

Quarterback • Georgia • Atlanta, GA

NFL Exp.: 1 (1st Rams)

Birth Date: 10/28/1997

Acquired: D4-'23 (No. 128 Overall)

Transactions: Selected by the Los Angeles Rams in the fourth round (128th overall) of the 2023 NFL Draft.

College: Bennett helped lead the Bulldogs to back-to-back championships his final two seasons at Georgia and was one of four finalists for the Heisman Trophy in 2022. He appeared in 42 career games and completed 601-of-923 passes for 8,428 yards and 66 touchdowns. He also tallied 141 carries for 530 yards and 14 touchdowns in his college career. During Bennett's senior season, he played in 15 games (all starts) and completed 310-of-454 of his passes for 4,127 yards and 27 touchdowns (QBR 160.8) and added 57 rushes for 205 yards and 10 touchdowns. He was the winner of the 2022 Burlsworth Trophy, as the country's outstanding player who began his career as a walk-on and was named the Offensive MVP of the College Football Playoffs. Bennett guided the Bulldogs to a come from behind win over Ohio State in the CFP Semifinal Chick-fil-A Peach Bowl and finished 23-of-34 for 398 yards, three touchdowns and a TD on the ground, earning Offensive MVP of the CFP Semifinal honors.

In 2021, he played in 14 games (12 starts) and completed 185-of-287 passes for 2,862 yards and 29 touchdowns. Bennett was also a threat on the ground that season as the team's fifth-leading rusher with 56 rushes for 259 yards and one touchdown. He led the Bulldogs to a national championship and was named Offensive MVP of the CFP Championship game, completing 17-of-26 passes for 224 yards and a pair of touchdowns. He was also the Offensive MVP of the Capital One Orange Bowl against Michigan and was one of three finalists for the 2021 Burlsworth Trophy. Bennett finished the 2021 campaign ranked fourth nationally in passing efficiency (176.7), fourth in yards per completion (15.5), and third in yards per attempt (9.97). He saw action in 10 games (five starts) in a shortened 2020 season and as the team's leading passer completing 86-of-155 passes for 1,179 yards and eight touchdowns. He earned the first starting assignment of his collegiate career in a win over Auburn. Bennett played in five of 14 games in 2019 and completed 20-of-27 passing attempts for 260 yards and two touchdowns. He saw his first action as a Bulldog against Murray State. Bennett redshirted in 2017 and eventually transferred from Georgia to Jones College in Ellisville, Miss. in 2018. He led Jones College to a 10-2 overall record, a Mississippi Bowl win, and the MACJC Conference Championship game. He completed 145 passes for 1,840 yards and 16 touchdowns while adding 148 rushing yards and four touchdowns on the ground.

Personal: Bennett attended Piece County High School where he earned All-State 3-A Second Team honors his senior year after registering 3,700 passing yards with 500 rushing yards and 40 total touchdowns. He was also the Region Offensive Player of the Year his final year of high school and earned Offensive Player of the Year Honors following his junior season. Bennett was a two-time Preseason All-State Academic Team honoree. Both of Bennett's parents graduated from UGA and his grandfather, Buddy Bennett, played quarterback at South Carolina. He majored in Learning Design and Technology and was the recipient of the Dr. Archie Sime and Bettye Rushton Family Scholarship, as well as the Irvin W. Wofford Football Scholarship.

99 Aaron Donald

Defensive Line • Pittsburgh • Pittsburgh, PA

NFL Exp.: 10 (10th Rams)

GP/GS, (Playoffs): 138/134, (10/10)

Birth Date: 5/23/1991

Acquired: D1B-'14 (No. 13 Overall)

Transactions: Signed contract extension with Rams (6/7/22)... Re-signed with Rams (8/31/18)... Selected by the Rams in the first round (13th overall) of the 2014 NFL Draft (5/8/14).

NFL Career:

- Has earned All-Pro and PFWA All-NFL Team honors in 2015, '16, '17, '18, '19 and '21.
- Became the third player in league history to win the Associated Press Defensive Player of The Year Award three times in their career, joining Hall of Fame LB Lawrence Taylor and DE J.J. Watt when he was with the Texans.
- Voted to the Pro Bowl in every one of his nine professional seasons.
- Has started 134 of 138 games played in the regular season and recorded 490 tackles (312 solo), 103.0 sacks, 160 tackles for loss, 24 forced fumbles, seven fumble recoveries, 233 quarterback hits, 705 pressures, 465 hurries, and 18 passes defensed.
- Has played in 10 playoff games (all starts) and tallied 21 tackles (18 solo), 6.0 sacks and one pass defensed.
- Has recorded 5.5 sacks in his last six playoff game appearances, including 2.0 sacks in the Rams' Super Bowl LVI victory.
- Became the first Rams defender to be named Associated Press Defensive Player of the Year following the 2017 season. Was Pro Football Focus' no.1 overall defensive player of 2021, the best pass rushing defensive lineman, and fourth-best run-stopping defensive lineman. He ranked second among all front-seven defenders in pass rush win rate during the 2021 season, according to Pro Football Focus.
- Has been selected to the Pro Bowl every year of his career.
- His 12.5 regular-season sacks tied for seventh-most in the NFL during the 2021 campaign.
- From 2017-22, Donald faced 1,797 double teams, 152 more than anyone else in the defensive field. Yet he still led all defensive tackles in pass-rush win rate during that span (26%).
- Despite an injury sustained in Week 12 that sidelined him for the remainder of the season, Donald was selected to his ninth straight Pro Bowl in 2022. According to PFF, he was the third-highest graded interior defensive lineman last season with a 90.5 overall defensive grade.
- Had a stellar primetime showing on the road against the Cardinals with 3.0 sacks (35 sack yards) and 14 pressures in 2021.
- Played one of the best defensive seasons in NFL history in 2018, finishing with 20.5 sacks, the most ever by a defensive tackle. The sack mark was a single-season franchise record. He broke Hall of Fame DE Michael Strahan's league record for defensive sack yards in a single season (183.5).
- Broke the record for career sacks in franchise history against Seattle in Week 5 of the 2021 season. The record was previously held by former Rams DE Leonard Little with 87.5 career sacks.
- Was the fastest Rams player to reach 60.0 sacks, achieving the feat in only 81 games played.

- Was the recipient of the club's Daniel F. Reeves Memorial Award as the Rams' Most Valuable Player in 2016, 2017, 2018, 2019 and 2021.
- Since 2014, leads the NFL with 103.0 sacks, 160 tackles for loss and 233 QB hits. He has 33 more tackles for loss and five more QB hits than any other player. He's the only defensive player with at least 95 sacks in that span.
- Joined Reggie White, Derrick Thomas, and DeMarcus Ware as the only four NFL players to record at least 8.0 sacks in each of their first six seasons in the league.
- The third Rams defensive tackle to be selected to three or more consecutive Pro Bowls.
- Posted 9.0 sacks in 2014, which led all rookies and was the most recorded by a Rams' rookie.
- Was the first Rams rookie selected to the Pro Bowl since RB Jerome Bettis in 1993 and was named PFWA Defensive Rookie of the Year.
- Leads the league in tackles for loss since the start of the 2014 season with 160 in 138 games played, including 10 TFLs during the 2022 regular season. Tallied 14 TFLs during the 2021 regular season and a league-best 20 tackles for loss during the 2019 campaign.
- According to Pro Football Focus, over the past three seasons, Donald leads all pass-rushers in pressures by 32 from the next best mark. He has a pass-rush win rate of 23.2%, which is also the best mark in the league. Donald is the best pass-rusher the NFL has seen over the past 16 seasons.
- Owns the five highest Pro Football Focus pass rush grades since 2015 (from 93.1-94.2), all of which are higher than any other player in the league in the last six seasons.

College: During his collegiate career, Donald was the recipient of the Bronko Nagurski Trophy (nation's most outstanding defensive player), Chuck Bednarik (defensive player of the year), Outland Trophy (nation's best offensive or defensive interior lineman) and Rotary Lombardi Award (nation's most outstanding lineman or linebacker). He was named Athlon Sports National Defensive Player of the Year, CBSsports.com National Defensive Player of the Year, Lindy's Sports National Defensive Player of the Year and named All-American first-team by The NFL Draft Report, American Football Coaches Association, Associated Press, Athlon Sports, ESPN.com, Football Writers Association of America, Lindy's Sports, SI.com, Sporting News, USA Today and Walter Camp Football Foundation. Donald was also the recipient of the Atlantic Coast Conference Defensive Player of the Year Award by the league's coaches, media and Athlon Sports and added All-ACC First-Team honors. He earned unanimous first-team All-American status and became the first Pitt defensive player to accomplish that feat since legendary defensive end Hugh Green in 1980.

He started 30-of-51 games at Pittsburgh, 25 at strong-side defensive tackle and five at strong-side defensive end. He recorded 181 tackles (115 solo) with 29.5 sacks for minus 200 yards, 66.0 stops for losses, 43 quarterback pressures, 11 pass deflections and six forced fumbles. He ranks fourth in NCAA FBS history with his 66.0 tackles-for-loss and his 29.5 sacks and 28 solo sacks both ranked third among active players. His lost yardage via sacks (200) placed fourth. His 66 tackles-for-loss are the most by a Panther since the NCAA began recognizing that category in 1999. In 2013, he earned Player of the Week honors for his performance vs. Virginia from the Bednarik Award and Athlon Sports. In 2012, earned third-team All-American honors from The NFL Draft Report after he led the team with 5.5 sacks for minus 36 yards, 18.5 stops for losses of 78 yards along with 11 quarterback pressures. In 2011, Donald received All-Big East Conference second-team honors from the league's coaches. He played in all thirteen games as a reserve defensive tackle in 2010.

Personal: Donald attended Penn Hills (Pa.) High School and was selected first team All-State Class AAAA by the Pennsylvania Sports Writers Association each of his final two seasons. He compiled 63 tackles, including 15 for loss, and 11.0 sacks as a senior. He also started at offensive guard and was a three-year starter on both sides of the ball. Donald helped lead his team to the WPIAL Class AAAA playoffs in each of his three years as a starter. He was selected to play in the Big 33 Football Classic and was rated one of the country's top 25 defensive tackles by Scout.com. He majored in communications and is son of Anita Goggins and Archie Donald. His brother, Archie, played linebacker at Toledo and his sister, Akita, is a dentist and graduated from Carlow College Masters program.

Community Impact: Donald has participated in many of the team's community outreach programs. He hosted a character development session for youth with Operation Progress, which was designed to help students recognize their full potential and inspire them to be positive contributors to society. Donald shared experiences and perspectives on personal responsibility, perseverance, self-discipline and integrity. He has also appeared in the NFL's Kickoff commercial with the Watts Rams youth football program and makes frequent volunteer appearances at tentpole events such as WalkUnited LA and annual Playground Builds. Donald also started his own foundation, AD99 Solutions, that prepares Pittsburgh's underprivileged youth for life-long success and aims to help provide access to quality education, good nutrition, and community involvement.

Transactions: Selected by the Los Angeles Rams in the fourth round (142nd overall) of the 2022 NFL Draft (4/30/22).

NFL Career:

- Played in 13 games with one start as a rookie in 2022. Made his NFL debut on special teams in Week 1 against Buffalo.
- Led the NFL in interception return yards as a rookie (151).
- Recorded 20 tackles (14 solo), three pass breakups, five passes defended, 1.0 sack, one pressure, one defensive touchdown, one tackle for loss, one quarterback hit, and three interceptions.
- In Week 2 against the Atlanta Falcons, Durant became the first Rams rookie, and eighth player in NFL history, to record a sack and interception in the same game within their first two NFL games.
- Recorded his first career start in Week 15 against Green Bay in 2022.
- Was voted as the 2022 Carroll Rosenbloom Memorial Award winner by Rams players, honoring the team's rookie of the year.

College: After his high school graduation, Durant spent a year at Palmetto Prep Academy before he walked on to South Carolina State in 2018. Not too long into his collegiate career, Durant received a scholarship to play as a Bulldog and saw playing time in his first season. He became a permanent starter during the 2019 season and was selected Second-Team All-MEAC. In his 2021 season, Durant was a First-Team Associated Press FCS All-American selection. He led his team with three interceptions and twelve pass breakups while making 12 starts in his last season as a Bulldog. Overall, he accumulated 38 total tackles and capped the season off with a Cricket Celebration Bowl Dennis Thomas Defensive MVP recognition in a win over Jackson state.

Personal: Cobie Durant was born on February 9, 1998. Durant's passion for football originated from his cousins Markee, Marquais, and Michael Hamlin. Michael Hamlin was drafted in 2009 by the Dallas Cowboys as a fifth-round pick. Durant was a multi-sport athlete at Lamar High School, playing football, baseball, basketball, and track.

 Birth Date: 7/19/2001
 Acquired: D&-‘23

Transactions: Selected in the seventh round (223 overall) of the 2023 NFL Draft (4/29/23).

College: Evans served as Wingate's starting punter and kickoff specialist from 2019-22. He saw action in 39 career games and registered 186 punts for 8,027 yards (43.2 avg.) with a long of 72-yards. Evans landed 89 punts inside the 20-yard line and tallied 53 punts of 50 or more yards. He increased his gross average each season at Wingate. During his senior season in 2022, Evans punted 77 times for 3,518 yards (45.7 avg.), which is a Wingate school record. He landed 39 punts inside the 20-yard line and tallied 30 punts of 50 or more yards. He also entered the scoring column that season, converting 10-of-18 field goal attempts, with a long of 41-yards, and converted 43 PATs.

Personal: Evans played his high school ball at North Surry High School. He is the son of Brendon and Kara Evans and majored in exercise science.

His senior campaign earned him First-Team Associated Press Division II All-American and All-South Athletic Conference honors. As a junior in 2021, Evans notched 36 punts for 1,535 yards (42.6 avg), landed 22 punts inside the 20-yard-line, and recorded 11 punts for 50 or more yards. In a shortened 2020 season, Evans punted 17 times in four games for 717 yards (42.2 avg.) with five kicks inside the 20-yard-line and three of 50-yards or more. In his first season at Wingate in 2019, he notched 56 punts for 2,257 yards (40.3) with nine of 50 or more yards and 23 landing inside the 20-yard-line. Evans helped Wingate win 10 games that season for the first time in school history. He was the first Division II player to be selected in the 2023 NFL Draft, the second player in Wingate history to be selected in the NFL Draft, and the first since 2007.

Running Back • Mississippi • Houston, TX

 NFL Exp.: 1 (1st Rams)
 Birth Date: 5/30/2001
 Acquired: D6-'23 (No. 215 Overall)

Transactions: Selected by the Los Angeles Rams in the sixth round (215 overall) of the 2023 NFL Draft (4/29/23).

College: Evans appeared in 12 contests during his junior season at Ole Miss in 2022. He finished the season with 936 rushing yards on 144 carries and nine touchdowns. Evans also hauled in 12 catches for 119 yards and one touchdown. His 6.5 yards per carry led the SEC and ranked tenth nationally, earning him Third-Team All-SEC accolades from Pro Football Focus. Before transferring to Ole Miss, Evans spent his freshman and sophomore seasons at TCU where he appeared in 15 career games with eight starts and averaged 7.3 yards per carry on nearly 150 rushing attempts. From 2020-21 with the Horned Frogs, Evans led all Power Five running backs in yards after contact per attempt (4.8). He led TCU in rushing yards (648) in 2021 despite playing only six games. He averaged 7.0 yards per rush with five touchdowns before being sidelined for the remainder of the season due to injury in 2021. His 7.7 yards per carry ranked second for a single season in TCU history and second nationally for a true freshman with a minimum of 50 rushes in the FBS in 2020. It marked the second-best average in the Big 12 for a true freshman dating back to 2008 and it was fourth nationally by a true freshman in a Power Five Conference over the last six seasons. He tallied 415 rushing yards as a true freshman and tied for second on the team with four rushing touchdowns.

Personal: Evans was the first five-star signee in TCU's football history. He was rated by ESPN as the nation's no. 16 overall prospect. According to 247Sports, he was the no. 2 running back nationally and the top recruit in Texas. He was selected to play in the Under Armor All-America Game after rushing for nearly 5,000 yards and 76 touchdowns in his high school career. He was the leading rusher for a North Shore team that won its second consecutive Texas 6A Division I state championship and was named 6A first-team all-state by the Texas Sports Writers Association. Evans shared MaxPreps Junior National Player of the Year honors after leading the Mustangs to a 16-0 record and the state title in 2018. That season, Evans helped North Shore become the first team from Texas to finish the year ranked no.1 nationally since 2015. As a junior, he rushed for more than 1,700 yards and 29 touchdowns. He was also named the Houston Chronicle Newcomer of the Year as a sophomore and the District 21-6A Newcomer of the Year. Evans also earned 2021 Second-Team Academic All-Big 12 and Academic All-Big 12 Rookie Team honors at TCU as a multi-disciplinary studies major.

College: Higbee played in 38 games with 15 starts at Western Kentucky, becoming a midseason addition to the Biletnikoff Watch List as a senior in 2015. He recorded a pair of 100-yard receiving games and four touchdowns through the first four games of the year and caught at least one touchdown in six of his nine games, including two multi-touchdown games. He was a C-USA First Team selection and a CBS Sports Midseason All-American in 2015. As a junior in 2014, he tallied 230 yards on 15 receptions, including four touchdowns. He had a breakout performance at No. 19 Marshall when he caught three-touchdowns on six passes for 99-yards, earning CFPA honorable mention National Tight End of the Week honors. He was also one of only three tight ends to catch at least three touchdowns in a game, joined by FIU's Jonnu Smith and Minnesota's Maxx Williams. Higbee became one of just four players in WKU history to catch at least three touchdowns in a single game and the first since 1978. In 2013, he saw action in seven games (three starts) after converting to tight end from wide receiver. He finished the year with 13 catches for 169 yards and a touchdown. He redshirted in 2012 and played in 11 games as a freshman in 2011 with a pair of catches for 92 yards. His first career catch at the collegiate ranks was a 63-yard touchdown.

Personal: Higbee was named team MVP and team captain his senior season at East Lake High School when he reeled in a county-high 42 receptions and over 540 receiving yards and eight touchdowns in his final season as a tight end. He finished his prep career with over 1,100 yards receiving and 18 touchdowns, earning first-team All-County honors. Higbee was rated a two-star recruit by Rivals.com after lettering all four years in football. He also earned a pair of letters on the baseball diamond at the varsity level in high school.

Community Impact: During his time with the Rams, Higbee has participated in the team's tentpole charity events such as WalkUnited LA to combat homelessness, Taste of the Rams to raise funds to end hunger in Los Angeles as well as the annual Night for Wishes event to help grant wishes of children battling life-threatening illnesses. Higbee has also celebrated Read Across America Day by reading to local students in classrooms. In 2020, he donated $5,000 to Think Watts and Communities in Schools Los Angeles to help support residents in the Watts community who are experiencing food insecurity and students who were lacking the technological resources to successfully engage in school assignments during the COVID pandemic. Higbee has supported Special Olympics of Southern California with appearances at local events and by raising awareness of their efforts through the NFL's My Cause My Cleats campaign.

 Acquired: UDFA-'21

Transactions: Placed on injury reserve (11/16/22)...Signed by the Los Angeles Rams as an undrafted rookie free agent (5/2/21).

NFL Career:

- Was the fourth-highest graded left tackle in Week 6 of 2022 against the Panthers (86.1), according to Pro Football Focus. This was a career-high rating for Jackson. He finished the game against the Panthers not allowing a single sack, hurry, or pressure.
- Before being injured last season following Week 9, Jackson hadn't allowed a single sack and only allowed 11 pressures on 305 snaps. This was fewest on the Rams among offensive linemen with at least 250 snaps.
- Saw action in a Week 2 contest against the Falcons playing 60 snaps at right guard for the first time in his pro career.
- Appeared in four regular season games and two playoff games during his rookie campaign.
- Played the majority of his regular season snaps (52) in a Week 16 victory at Minnesota in 2021.

College: Jackson was one of nine seniors named to the Iowa Hawkeye's 2020 leadership group and started all 42 games he played in during his collegiate career. Jackson was the only player in the 2021 NFL Draft to start more than 40 games at left tackle. During his 2020 senior campaign, Jackson started all eight games and was a Second-team All-America selection by AFCA, Third-Team All-America by Phil Steele, and voted First-Team All-Big Ten by league coaches and media. In 2019, Jackson started 10 games and was voted Second-team All-Big Ten by Phil Steele and Third-Team All-Big Ten by league coaches and players despite missing three games due to injury. He started 12 games during the 2018 campaign and earned Second-Team All-Big Ten by league coaches and media as well as Second-Team All-Big Ten by the Associated Press and Phil Steele. After redshirting in 2016, Jackson's 2017 season included honors such as Academic All-Big Ten, First-Team freshman All-America by FWAA and Big-Ten Conference All-Freshman team by BTN.com.

Personal: Jackson was born in Windsor, Ontario, Canada and majored in sports medicine at the University of Iowa. He was one of two players on the Iowa football team from Detroit, MI and was coached by Lou Beatty at Renaissance High School. He remained committed to Iowa throughout the recruiting process despite a late push from Michigan.

Waived by the Tampa Bay Buccaneers (8/31/22)... Selected by the Buccaneers in the fifth round (161st overall) of the 2020 NFL Draft.

NFL Career:

- Has appeared in 33 regular season games in his three-year NFL career and registered 48 receptions for 529 yards and two touchdowns.
- Caught 36 passes for 360 yards in his second season with the Buccaneers in 2021. Saw action in two postseason contests and notched five catches for 45 yards.
- Set career-highs against the Saints in 2021 with five catches for 65 yards.
- Appeared in 14 games his rookie season in 2020 and hauled in 12 catches for 169 yards and two touchdowns. Played in four postseason contests that year and recorded two catches for 31 yards.

College: Johnson played in 49 career games at Minnesota and recorded 213 catches for 3,305 yards and 33 touchdowns. His catch mark ranks second in school history and his yards and touchdowns rank first in school history. He caught a pass in 36 straight games, which is the second-longest streak in program history. His 16 career 100-yard receiving games is a school record. In 2019, Johnson registered seven straight 100-yard receiving performances, a school record. He also tied the school record the year prior with four straight 100-yard receiving outputs and became the first Gopher ever to do so in conference play. Johnson set single-season records in 2019 for receptions (86), receiving yards (1,318) and receiving touchdowns (13). Johnson also had three contests with three receiving touchdowns, a school record. He is the only receiver in school history to have two 1,000 yard seasons (2018 and 2019). His senior season, he started all 13 games and averaged 101.4 receiving yards per game and caught a touchdown in the final seven games of the season. He was named All-Big Ten First-Team for the second consecutive year. As a junior in 2018, he started all 13 games and became an All-Big Ten First-Team selection for the first time in his college career, becoming the first Gopher to receive that honor since 2009. Johnson started the first 10 games of the 2017 season before missing the final two with an injury. He still led Minnesota with 35 receptions for 677 yards and seven touchdowns. His receiving yard mark was the fifth-most ever by a Minnesota sophomore, while his seven touchdowns were the second-most ever by a sophomore. He was an All-Big Ten honorable mention that season. He played in all 13 games as a freshman in 2016 and started in one contest. He hauled in 14 catches for 141 yards and one touchdown.

Personal: He attended Minneapolis North High School, where he was a three-year letterwinner and played quarterback and defensive back for the Polars. He led them to an 11-2 record and a 7-1 mark in conference play in 2015. As a senior, he led the team to a state championship appearance and threw for 2,606 yards and 36 touchdowns, while totaling 1,100 yards and 20 touchdowns on the ground. He averaged a touchdown every six snaps taken in high school and added three interceptions at defensive back. He was invited to play in the Semper Fidelis All-American Bowl after his senior season. As a junior, he threw for seven touchdowns and added 12 tackles, including three tackles for loss and a fumble recovery on defense before earning 2014 Third-Team All-State honors. As a sophomore, he threw for 1,986 yards and 24 touchdowns to go along with 688 yards and 10 touchdowns rushing. Johnson also played basketball and led the school to a state championship as a senior. He was a three-star prospect by Rivals, Scout, 247 Sports and ESPN. Rivals ranked him as the no.3 prospect in the state of Minnesota.

- Appeared in 15 regular season games (seven starts) during his rookie season in 2021 and tallied 58 tackles (33 solo), 1.0 sack, one tackle for loss, four pass breakups, two interceptions (50 return yards) and six quarterback pressures.
- Saw action in two playoff games, including Super Bowl LVI, where he had a standout performance with seven tackles (six solo), 1.0 sack, one pass breakup and four quarterback pressures.
- Tallied a season-high 11 tackles (five solo) and one pass defended in a Week 15 victory over the Seahawks in 2021.
- In Week 14 of the 2021 season, Jones recorded seven tackles (five solo), a pass breakup and an interception with a return of 31 yards.
- Registered nine or more tackles in three regular season contests in his rookie campaign.
- Had nine tackles (seven solo) and an interception in his first start against the Houston Texans in Week 8 of the 2021 season.

College: As a junior in 2020, Jones played middle linebacker and was the vocal leader of the defense at South Carolina. He was named one of four permanent team captains and earned Fourth-Team All-SEC honors from Phil Steele. He started each of the first nine games and led the team in tackles for the second-consecutive year with 86 stops. He averaged 9.6 tackles per game, which ranked sixth in the SEC, and had four games with at least 11 tackles during the season. He notched a career-best 19 tackles at LSU, the most tackles in a game by a Gamecock since Roy Hart had 19 stops at Nebraska in 1987. He almost matched that total with 18 tackles at Ole Miss and had two of the top 17 single-game tackle performances recorded at the FBS level in 2020. Jones was one of 16 semifinalists for the Butkus Award after recording 199 tackles in just 26 games over the three seasons. He made 21 starts with 10.5 tackles for loss and a pair of sacks, two interceptions, five pass breakups, six quarterback hurries, three forced fumbles and a pair of fumble recoveries. During his sophomore campaign in 2019, Jones started all 12 games at middle linebacker, making a team-high 97 tackles, 20 more than anyone else on the squad. He ranked fourth in the SEC with 8.1 tackles per game and had 5.5 tackles for loss, 1.0 sack, two interceptions, five pass breakups, a quarterback hurry and a forced fumble. As a true freshman, Jones played in five games and was credited with 16 tackles (10 solo).

Personal: Jones graduated from Ware County High School in Georgia in December of 2017 where he logged 112 total tackles (70 solo) and six tackles for loss as a senior for the Gators. He also accounted for 2.0 sacks, three forced fumbles and five QB hurries in his final campaign. Jones was a First-Team all-state Class AAAAA selection and was the 59th-ranked outside linebacker prospect in the country and 84th-best overall prospect in Georgia, according to 247 Sports' national composite rankings. He was named to the PrepStar All-Southeast Region team. Jones majored in public health.

10 Cooper Kupp

Wide Receiver • Eastern Washington • Yakima, WA

NFL Exp.: 7 (7th Rams)

GP/GS, (Playoffs): 80/66, (6/5)

Birth Date: 6/15/1993

Acquired: D3A-'17 (No. 69 Overall)

Transactions: Signed contract extension with Rams (7/9/22)... Selected by the Rams in the third round (69th overall) of the 2017 NFL Draft (4/29/17).

NFL Career:

- Became the fourth player in NFL history to win the receiving Triple Crown by leading the NFL in receptions, receiving yards, and receiving TDs during the 2021 season. He led the second place receivers in all three categories by some of the widest margins of any receiving Triple Crown winner. He was the first modern-era triple-crown receiver without a previous Pro Bowl appearance.
- Was named Super Bowl LVI MVP, the 2021 NFL Offensive Player of the Year and was voted to his first Pro Bowl. Kupp also was voted First-Team All-Pro.
- Before he was sidelined following Week 10 in 2022, Kupp ranked second in the NFL in receptions (72), third in yards-after-the-catch (422), and fifth in receiving first downs (42), receiving touchdowns (6), and receiving yards (812).
- His 1,947 receiving yards in the 2021 season ranks second all-time in NFL history behind Calvin Johnson (1,964). His 145 receptions in 2021 season also rank second all-time behind Michael Thomas (149). Kupp tied Thomas for first place all-time in red zone receptions (27) and ranks fifth all-time in YAC in a single season (846).
- He ranks fifth all-time in first down receptions in a single season (89).
- Kupp sits alone as the only player who has caught at least 130 passes, had 1,800-plus yards and scored at least 20 touchdowns in a season (including playoffs).
- In the Rams' four postseason wins in 2021, he set a postseason record in receptions (33) for 478 yards and six touchdowns. His postseason receiving yards rank second behind Larry Fitzgerald when he recorded 564 receiving yards and seven touchdowns in 2018.
- In the 2021 regular season and postseason, Kupp totaled 178 catches, 2,425 yards and 22 touchdowns. He's the first player in NFL history with more than 2,000 receiving yards in a season, breaking the previous record of 1,977 yards held by Fitzgerald.
- He's only the fourth wideout in NFL history with 100 catches, 1,500 yards, and 15 touchdowns in a season (joining Jerry Rice, Marvin Harrison, and Randy Moss).
- Set a Rams' franchise records in single-season receptions with 145 and receiving yards with 1,947 in 2021.
- Kupp's 118 receiving yards during Week 18 of the 2021 season marked the 13th straight game with 90 or more receiving yards, an NFL record. That game also marked his 22nd career 100-yard receiving game, which tied for fourth in franchise history.
- Passed 5,000 career receiving yards with a 123-yard performance in Week 14 of the 2021 season. Kupp became just the fifth Rams WR to reach the 5,000-yard mark.
- Eclipsed 100 yards receiving 11 times in 17 games in 2021. Kupp recorded at least 100 yards receiving in three consecutive games during Weeks 6, 7 and 8, then again in four consecutive games from Week 13 through 16. Only HOF WR Isaac Bruce had a streak of four consecutive 100-yard games, as well as a separate streak of six consecutive 100-yard games in his Rams tenure.

- Has been named a team captain the past three seasons.
- Became the first player in the Super Bowl era (since 1970) with at least 800 yards and nine touchdowns in his first seven games of a season.
- Through seven weeks of the regular season in 2021, Kupp tied Davante Adams' record with the most games with 9+ receptions, 90+ receiving yards and 2+ TDs.
- Became the first Rams player with two games of at least 150 yards and two touchdowns since Isaac Bruce did it in 1995. The only other receiver besides Bruce and Kupp with two games of 150 yards and two touchdowns was Elroy Hirsch in 1951.
- Set a career high with 13 receptions in Week 14 of 2021 with 123 receiving yards.
- Has been one of the best receivers drafted in the 2017 NFL Draft, ranking first in touchdowns (40), and first in receptions per regular season game (6.1).
- Led the Rams in receptions (94) and was second in receiving yards (1,161) in 2019. His 2019 campaign marked his first regular season with over 1,000 receiving yards.
- Led the Rams in receiving yards (869) and ranked second in receptions (62) in his rookie season.
- Was named to the PFWA All-Rookie team in 2017.

College: Kupp was a consensus FCS All-American for four-straight seasons and earned First-Team All-America honors on all eight 2016 teams announced. He had a total of 30 All-America honors in four collegiate seasons (all First Team, including nine in 2013, six in 2014, seven in 2015 and eight in 2016). He earned 14 different national player of the year accolades and was a three-time Academic All-America selection. In 2016, Kupp became the first wide receiver and just the fourth player overall in the 54-year history of the Big Sky Conference to earn First-Team All-Big Sky honors four seasons. In 2015, Kupp became only the second wide receiver in 42 years to capture the Big Sky Conference Offensive MVP Award, then became one of only 10 repeat winners in league history in 2016. Kupp was also a two-time team co-captain, honored four times on the Big Sky Conference All-Academic team and was twice selected as an Academic All-Star by the FCS Athletic Director's Association. He was honored as Big Sky Conference Player of the Week six times in his career – four times on offense and twice on special teams. He established 15 FCS, 11 Big Sky and 26 EWU records in his illustrious 52-game Eastern career (all as a starter), and added a collegiate all-division mark. His 6,464 yards, 428 receptions, 73 touchdown catches, 124.3 average yards per game and 1.40 average touchdowns per game were all FCS records.

Personal: Attended Davis High School where he was a two-way All-State selection and earned First-Team 4A All-State honors as a defensive back and honorable mention accolades as a wide receiver from the Associated Press. Kupp finished his senior season with 60 receptions for 1,059 yards (17.7 per catch) and 18 touchdowns. He even scored 22 total touchdowns to set a school record. His parents are Craig and Karin Kupp, who were both inducted into the Pacific Lutheran University Hall of Fame in 2003. His father was a fifth-round draft pick by the New York Giants in 1990 and played in 1991 for the Phoenix Cardinals and the Dallas Cowboys. His grandfather, Jake Kupp, was an offensive lineman for the University of Washington and was drafted by the Dallas Cowboys in the 1964 NFL draft and played from 1964-75 with stints with the Washington Football Team, New Orleans Saints and Atlanta Falcons. He was named to the NFL All-Rookie team and was inducted into the New Orleans Saints Hall of Fame in 1991. Cooper earned his bachelor's degree in economics. He and his wife, Anna, have one son.

Community Impact: Kupp has been the Honorary Chair for the team's Annual Taste of the Rams event that raises funds to benefit the Los Angeles Regional Food Bank which provides nutritious meals to those experiencing food insecurity in Los Angeles County. Last year, Kupp also donated more than $30,000 worth of Nike product to support Inglewood Unified School District students and has participated in a five-week character development session with youth from Operation Progress. During the COVID-19 pandemic, Kupp made a $21,000 donation to purchase 84,000 meals for food banks in the Yakima and Richland areas of Washington, the LA Regional Food Bank and Food Share Ventura County. In 2022, Kupp chose to represent The Call of Duty Endowment during the NFL's My Cause My Cleats Campaign. The COD Endowment identifies and funds the most efficient and effective organizations that get unemployed veterans back to work.

53 Ochaun Mathis

Linebacker • TCU • Manor, TX

NFL Exp.: 1 (1st Rams)

Acquired: D6-'23 (No. 250 Overall)

Transactions: Selected by the Los Angeles Rams in the sixth round (250th overall) of the 2023 NFL Draft.

College: Mathis played his final collegiate season at Nebraska where he appeared in every game with two starts. He finished second on the team with 3.5 sacks and added five tackles for loss to go along with 50 total tackles and two pass breakups. Before transferring to Nebraska, Mathis played in 38 games (34 starts) in four seasons at TCU. He was a Second-Team All-Big 12 selection in 2020 and 2021 and tallied 135 tackles, 30.5 tackles for loss, 15.5 sacks and four pass breakups in his TCU career. In his final season at TCU in 2021, he started all 12 games and notched 45 tackles, 4.0 sacks and seven tackles for loss. He tied for the team lead in sacks, ranked second in tackles for loss, third in pass breakups (three) and fifth in tackles (45). Mathis had a breakout 2020 campaign, starting all 10 games in the pandemic-shortened season. He led the Big 12 and ranked 12th nationally in sacks per game, averaging nearly 1.0 sack per contest. He finished the year with 9.0 sacks, which was the most by a Horned Frog in three seasons. He totaled 46 tackles on the season, with 14 tackles for loss, a forced fumble and a fumble recovery. In 2019, he started all 12 games and finished fifth on the team with 40 tackles, second on the team with nine tackles for loss, and tallied 2.5 sacks. He appeared in four games and registered three tackles and a half tackle for loss in 2018 in a year he redshirted.

Personal: Coming out of high school, Mathis was a three-star prospect and ranked among the top 100 players in the state of Texas. He recorded 75 tackles with 13 tackles for loss and 7.0 sacks as a senior at Manor High School. As a junior, he was a First-Team All-District honoree. He chose to attend TCU over Oklahoma, Texas and Texas Tech. Mathis earned his degree in general studies from TCU and took graduate courses at Nebraska.

82 Lance McCutcheon

Wide Receiver • Montana State • Bozeman, MT

Ht./Wt.: 6-3/202

NFL Exp.: 2 (2nd Rams)

Birth Date: 2/28/1999

Acquired: UDFA-'22 (5/13/22)

Transactions: Signed by the Los Angeles Rams as an undrafted rookie free agent (5/13/22).

NFL Career:

- Appeared in 10 regular season games (one start) during his rookie season.
- Played 110 special teams snaps and recorded two tackles (all solo).
- Led all receivers in receiving yards in the 2022 preseason with 259 yards. This was the first time since 2016 that a Ram led the league in preseason receiving yards and the first time since 2019 that a Rams receiver ranked top 10 in yards during preseason (KhaDarel Hodge ranked 7th with 178).
- Finished the 2022 preseason with 15 catches for 259 yards, two touchdowns and a two-point conversion. His 60-yard touchdown pass from Bryce Perkins against the Chargers was the longest play for the Rams in the preseason since 2016, and the fifth-longest in the NFL during the 2022 preseason.

Personal: McCutcheon led Bozeman High to the 2015 Class AA State Championship and was a captain during his senior season, when he earned First-Team Class AA All-State honors at receiver and cornerback. As a senior, McCutcheon was First-Team All-Conference at receiver and cornerback and caught 40 passes for 780 yards with 12 touchdowns and 10 interceptions. He was twice named to the Academic All-State team and lettered in basketball as well as track and field.

College: McCutcheon finished at Montana State with a school-record 19.1 yards per catch, ranking tenth in school history in yards (1,741) and eighth in touchdowns (13). His senior year, McCutcheon also set the MSU and Big Sky single-season record averaging 19.3 yards per catch and his five 100-yard games ranked second in MSU history. Averaging 81.3 yards per game, McCutcheon ranked third in the Big Sky and had a league record in total yards (1,219), earning him First-Team All-Big Sky honors and a spot in the NFLPA Collegiate bowl. In 2019, he ranked fifth on the team with 197 yards and two touchdowns. In MSU's second round playoff win over UAibany, McCutcheon made two catches, both touchdowns, for 91 yards. During his sophomore season, McCutcheon played in all 13 games and made a season-high five catches vs Idaho. He also played in all 11 games his freshman season, catching three passes for 128 total yards and a touchdown. McCutcheon's first collegiate appearance was against Washington State and his first start came when the Bobcats defeated No.17 ranked North Dakota, both in 2017.

- Started a career-high nine games during the 2020 season and started six games his second year in the pros in 2019.
- Made his first career start at left tackle in a regular season contest at Tampa Bay during the 2020 campaign.
- Appeared in all 16 regular season contests and three postseason games as a rookie in 2018.
- Earned his first career start at left guard in the 2019 season opener at Carolina (9/8/19).
- Contributed on special teams during his rookie season in 2018.

College: Noteboom received Honorable Mention All-Big 12 recognition as a senior in 2017 after starting all 14 games at left tackle at TCU. He wrapped up his collegiate career with 40 consecutive starts over his final three seasons. He became a four-time Academic All-Big 12 honoree with First-Team recognition and was selected to play in the Reese's Senior Bowl before being invited to participate in the NFL Combine. As a junior in 2016, he started all 13 games at left tackle and was a Second-Team Academic All-Big 12 selection for the second consecutive year. He started all 13 games for the Horned Frogs as a sophomore in 2015 and was part of an offensive line that catapulted TCU to produce a 1,000-yard rusher and 1,000-yard receiver in the same season for the second time in program history. Noteboom played in all 13 games as a redshirt freshman in 2014 and was named First-Team Academic All-Big 12. He redshirted in his first season at TCU in 2013.

Personal: Attended Plano High School where he was a First-Team District 10-5A selection as a senior and was named to the Associated Press Class 5A honorable mention all-state. He was ranked as the no. 12 offensive tackle in the state of Texas and no.99 nationally. He chose to attend TCU over Texas Tech, Iowa State, Wake Forest and Purdue.

NFL Career:

- Appeared in eight games (one start) during his rookie season, mostly on special teams.
- Recorded nine rushes for 21 yards and five catches for 29 yards in 2021.
- In his lone start against the 49ers, Rivers had eight carries for 21 yards and four catches for 15 yards.
- Made his NFL debut in Week 6 against the Panthers and his first start against the 49ers in Week 8.

College: In his 53 games with the Fresno State Bulldogs, Rivers made 41 starts and left as the record holder in career touchdowns scored (52), rushing touchdowns (40), receiving touchdowns by a running back (12), receiving yards by a running back (1,417) and receptions by a running back (150). He also ranked second in career rushing attempts (672), third in program history with 3,417 career rushing yards, and fourth with 5,208 career all-purpose yards. He finished his senior season with 788 rushing yards on 162 attempts and 34 receptions for 364 yards. He totaled seven touchdowns, five rushing and two receiving, and 1,187 all-purpose yards. He was a preseason All-Mountain West selection, named to the Paul Hornung Award watch list, Maxwell Award watch list, Doak Walker Award watch list, and was a First-Team preseason selection by Athlon Sports and Phil Steele. Rivers received an invite to the 2022 NFLPA All-Star game and to the 2022 NFL Scouting Combine. He helped Fresno State to two wins over ranked opponents, both on the road. It was the first time Fresno State defeated two Top 25 opponents in a season for the first time since 2004, and the first time both wins came on the road in the 100-year history of the program. During the 2020 season, Rivers was named First-Team All-Mountain West and was the only Mountain West player to score four touchdowns in a game. He was a Phil Steele All-Mountain West First-Team selection and was named to three national preseason watch lists: Maxwell Award (presented annually to the most outstanding player in college football), Doak Walker Award (celebrates the nation's top running back) and Hornung Award (celebrates the nation's most versatile player). He was named Second-Team All-Mountain West after his junior season and was the Bulldog's leading rusher with 899 yards. He also led the Mountain West with 16 touchdowns. He also had two or more touchdowns in four consecutive games. During his sophomore season, Rivers posted a team-high 10 rushing touchdowns and was the MVP of the Las Vegas Bowl after posting the fourth-most all-purpose yards in school history with 286 (212 rush/41 punt return/33 receiving) in the Bulldogs' win over Arizona State on Dec. 15. He also rushed for 63 yards on 17 carries and scored the game-winning touchdown in overtime against Boise State in the 2018 Mountain West Championship on Dec. 1. Rivers started 7-of-13 games played during his freshman season, the most starts at running back by a Fresno State true freshman since 1984. He made his collegiate debut and his first start against Incarnate Word in 2017.

Personal: Rivers was one of six finalists for Cal-Hi Sports' Mr. Football State Player of the Year as a senior at Freedom High School. He was named the 2016 Bay Valley League's Most Valuable Player, The Mercury News East Bay Offensive Player of the Year, the 2016 MaxPreps All-NorCal Offensive Player of the Year, and the Prep2Prep All-North Coast Section Player of the Year. As a senior, Rivers rushed for 2,239 yards and scored 33 touchdowns. He posted 100-yard plus rushing performances in 11-of-13 games in 2016 and rushed for a school-record 387 yards and seven touchdowns to lift the unbeaten Freedom Falcons past Antioch 65-28. Rivers' seven rushing touchdowns tied a school record previously held by former Oklahoma running back Joe Mixon (2014-16). He led the BVAL with 38 total touchdowns in 2016 and also threw a touchdown pass and caught two TDs in addition to his 33 rushing scores as a senior. Rivers also returned an interception for a touchdown in a win over Liberty, and returned two kickoffs for scores, including one in the CIF Division 1 NorCal final against St. Mary's-Stockton. He guided Freedom to an 11-2 record in 2016 as well as the Bay Valley league championship with a perfect 5-0 record. Rivers was named the 2016 NCS Open Division Runner Up, the 2016 CIF Nor Cal D1AA Runner Up and was named an Impact Player by Junior Prep Sports Football Classic. Born in Castro Valley, CA., Rivers is the son of Ron and Myla. His father is Fresno State's second-leading rusher (3,473) in school history and played at Fresno State from 1991-93. His sister Malia is also a Bulldog alum who completed her senior softball season at Fresno State in 2017.

His senior year, Rozeboom was a consensus All-American, registering double digit tackles six times, including an 11-tackle performance in the season opener at Minnesota. He won the SDSU Defensive Player of the Week award four times in his senior season, and returned an interception for a 27-yard touchdown against Southern Utah. In a game against Illinois State, Rozeboom became the SDSU all-time leading tackler and finished with 475 for his career. He also was selected to play in the NFLPA Collegiate Bowl and was named to the STATS FCS All-America First-Team, Phil Steele All-America First Team, and The Associated Press All-America Second-Team. During his junior year, Rozeboom recorded double digit tackles in five games, including a 14-tackle performance in the FCS Quarterfinals at Kennesaw State. He recorded a total of 127 tackles his sophomore season and finished as a runner-up for the STATS FCS Jerry Rice Award, which recognizes the top freshman in the FCS. He was named Missouri Valley Football Conference Freshman of the year and made his collegiate debut and his first start against TCU on September 3, 2016. Rozeboom majored in animal science.

Personal: Rozeboom was a three-time all-district honoree who lead Sioux Center High School to the Iowa State title game in 2014. He was honored as Sports Spotlight Class 2A Defensive Player of the Year after registering 58 tackles, including 12 for loss and 3.0 sacks. He earned all-state recognition from the Iowa Newspaper Association and Des Moines Register, as well as all-region honors from the Sioux City Journal. As a senior, Rozeboom also played running back and rushed for 1,422 yards, averaging 7.8 yards per carry. He was an all-state selection in baseball, was a member of the 2014 state champion shuttle hurdle relay in track and field, and was an all-conference honoree in basketball. Rozeboom was also a member of the National Honor Society. He is the son of Arlyn and Beth. Rozeboom majored in animal science.

- From 2011-2020, Stafford had 36 game-winning drives, which is five more than second place Russell Wilson during that time, six more than Drew Brees and 16 more times than Aaron Rodgers. He led the NFL in game-winning drives in 2014, 2016 and 2017. In 2021 with the Rams, Stafford had four game-winning drives. In the fourth quarter, Stafford completed 71% of his passes, threw for 12 touchdowns and had a 126.4 passer rating.
- With 10 games of 400-plus passing yards, Stafford is seventh all-time in the category.
- Entering into the 2021 season and since he entered the league in 2009, Stafford led all quarterback with 31 fourth-quarter comebacks. Of his 74 career wins with the Detroit Lions, 31 of them featured fourth quarter comebacks.
- Has finished in the top 10 in passing yards eight times in his career. He was third in the NFL in passing yards during the 2021 campaign.
- Has finished the regular season with a completion rate above 63% in each of the last seven seasons.

College: Stafford played three seasons at Georgia (34 starts) and finished his collegiate career ranking third on the school's all-time record list for yards passing (7,731), pass attempts (987), completed passes (564), touchdowns passes (51), total touchdowns (57) and yards of total offense (7,944). In 2008, he started 13 games and completed 235-of-383 passes for 3,459 yards with a 61.3 completion percentage. Stafford set a Georgia season record with 25 touchdowns and averaged 9.0 yards per passing attempt. He recorded the third-best season in Georgia history and his 153.5 passing efficiency marked was the second-best in program history. He earned AP All-Southeastern Conference honors and received the team's Vince Dooley MVP of the Year Award. Stafford was 30-9 in his college career, including bowl game victories in the 2006 Chick-fil-A Bowl, 2008 Sugar Bowl and the 2009 Capital One Bowl. He is tied for first in Georgia history with five touchdown passes in a game and is second in school history in total offense.

Personal: Attended Highland Park High School in Dallas, Texas and was a USA Today All-American selection following his senior year. He was a three-time All-State selection and was the Gatorade Player of the Year after throwing for 4,018 yards and 38 touchdowns in his senior year to lead the school to it's first Class AAAA championship since 1957. He was ranked as one of the best high school football players in the country, ranking as the no.6 overall prospect and the no.1 quarterback in the 2006 recruiting class, according to 247Sports. He chose to attend Georgia despite receiving scholarship offers from Florida State, Michigan, Oklahoma, Oklahoma State and Texas.

Transactions: Selected by the Los Angeles Rams in the 7th round (234th overall) of the 2023 NFL Draft.

College: During his time at Oklahoma State, Taylor appeared in 51 games (26 starts) and finished his career ranked in the top ten active FBS players with three career non-offensive touchdowns. He also participated in the 2023 Reese's Senior Bowl. During his final campaign in 2022, he was named to the 2022 Walter Camp All-America Second-Team after having a career year. He was also named a Paycom Jim Thorpe Award semifinalist, First-Team All-Big 12 selection by both the coaches and the Associated Press, and an honorable mention for the Big 12 Defensive Player of the Year. Taylor finished the season ranked third among all FBS players with six interceptions and third with 6.2 solo tackles per game. He led the team with a career-best 99 tackles (80 solo) and 3.5 tackles for loss. As a junior in 2021, he appeared in all 14 games (13 starts) and was named a honorable mention All-Big 12 selection by the league's head coaches. Against Texas, Taylor had an 85-yard interception for a touchdown, the fourth-longest interception return in program history and the longest since 2001. He was the fifth-leading tackler on the team with 48 tackles (37 solo) and 6.5 tackles for loss, 2.5 sacks, four pass breakups, three quarterback hurries, and a forced fumble. During the 2020 season, he appeared in all 11 games rotating on defense and special teams. He was named Second-Team Academic All-Big 12 honoree. Against Texas Tech, he earned OSU's Special Teams Player of the Game with a 48-yard onside kick return for a touchdown, the longest play of OSU's season and was OSU's first kickoff return touchdown since Tyreek Hill in 2014. He finished the season with 12 total tackles (nine solo) and ranked second in the Big 12 and fifth in the FBS. As a redshirt freshman in 2019, he appeared in all 13 games, mainly on special teams. Taylor totaled 16 tackles (12 solo) and one tackle for loss. As a true freshman in 2018, he redshirted and appeared in one game.

Personal: A 2018 graduate of Carl Albert High School in Oklahoma City, OK., Taylor helped lead his team to his second state championship in 2017, with a perfect 14-0 record. As a senior, he was named the 2017 OKPreps Class 5A Player of the Year. On offense he caught 42 passes for nearly 800 yards and 14 touchdowns, and finished with nine interceptions on defense. He earned All-State and district MVP. Taylor also played basketball and helped his team to the state semifinalists as a junior. During his time at OSU, he majored in university studies.

23 Kyren Williams

Running Back • Notre Dame • Kirkwood, MO

Ht./Wt.: 5-9/194

NFL Exp.: 2 (2nd Rams)

GP/GS, (Playoffs): 10/0

Birth Date: 8/26/2000

Acquired: D5-'22 (No. 164 Overall)

NFL Career:

- Appeared in 10 games in his rookie season and recorded 139 rushing yards on 35 carries (4.0 yds/rush).
- Contributed in the pass game with nine receptions for 76 yards. He hauled in 75% of his targeted pass attempts.

College: As a junior in 2021, Williams appeared in 12 games (12 starts) and tallied 204 carries for 1,002 yards and a career-best 14 touchdowns. He also set career-highs in catches (42) and receiving yards (359), and receiving touchdowns (three). He eclipsed the 1,000-yard rushing mark for the second straight season, becoming the first Notre Dame running back to record back-to-back 1,000-yard seasons since 2005, and the fifth Irish back in program history to accomplish the feat. That season Williams also notched seven-straight games with a rushing touchdown and had three games with multiple rushing touchdowns. He was a team captain, a Paul Hornung Award Finalist, a Doak Walker Award candidate, a Phil Steele All-American honorable mention, and Phil Steele All-Independent First-Team honoree.

In his first-career start at running back as a sophomore in 2020, Williams recorded 112 rushing yards on 19 carries and two touchdowns, with two receptions for 93 yards. He eclipsed the 100-yard mark for the first time in his career and was the first Notre Dame player since at least 1996 to hit the 90-yard mark in both rushing and receiving yards in a single game. He also had the most all-purpose yards (205) among FBS players in Week 1. Williams saw action in 12 games (12 starts) and rushed 211 times for 1,125 yards and 13 touchdowns. He averaged a career-best 93.8 yards rushing per game to go along with 35 catches for 313 yards and one touchdown. In a contest against Duke, Williams rushed for 185 yards, which was the fourth-highest in a single game by any ACC player that season, and the most by any freshman or sophomore ACC player that season. It was also the highest total for a Notre Dame player since 2018. Against Clemson, he became the second Irish player to rush for three touchdowns in a single game that season. In the CFP Semifinal, Williams notched his 13th rushing score of the season, the most by an Irish running back since 1998. He tied for ninth all-time in single-season rushing touchdowns among all players in Irish history. He was a FWAAs Freshman of the Year Finalist, a member of the FWAAs Freshman All-America team, an All-ACC Second-Team honoree, and was named Associated Press Second-Team All-ACC. Williams also was named ACC Rookie of the Year, a Doak Walker Award Finalist, and a FWAAs Freshman of the Year Finalist. As a freshman in 2019, Williams saw action in the first four contests and rushed four times for 26 yards and caught one pass for three yards. He also returned a pair of kickoffs for 35 yards.

Personal: Williams' father, Larry, was a linebacker at Northern Illinois and his uncle James Gregory was a linebacker that won a national title at Alabama. During his time at St. John Vianney High School, Williams was ranked the No. 22 running back nationally and the No. 6 player from Missouri by 247Sports.com. In 2018, Williams earned the title of Missouri Football Coaches Association First-Team All-State after he registered 2,035 rushing yards, 725 receiving yards and 40 total touchdowns as a senior. He led St. John Vianney to the 2018 Class 5 Missouri State Championship and was responsible for 354 total yards, including a state championship game record 289 yards rushing. He notched 2,035 rushing yards, 725 receiving yards and 40 total touchdowns as a senior in 2018.

2022 Game Summaries

Weather: 88 degrees, cloudy - Attendance 73,846 - Time 2:46

The Rams defense was able to generate four takeaways, but it wasn't enough to come away with a win as Los Angeles fell to the Buffalo Bills 31-10 Thursday night at SoFi Stadium. Outside linebacker Terrell Lewis (one interception) and cornerback Troy Hill (one interception) accounted for two of those takeaways; linebacker Ernest Jones' forced fumble and outside linebacker Leonard Floyd's ensuing recovery represented the third. The fourth came via a forced fumble by safety Nick Scott and recovery by outside linebacker Justin Hollins. Wide receiver Cooper Kupp posted 13 catches for 128 yards and one touchdown in the loss, while quarterback Matthew Stafford completed 29 of 41 passes for 240 yards with one touchdown and three interceptions. Here is the complete game recap, presented by Verizon: The Bills struck first, concluding the game's opening drive with a 26-yard touchdown pass from quarterback Josh Allen to wide receiver Gabriel Davis for an early 7-0. The Rams were forced to punt on the ensuing possession. Just as it appeared the Bills were about to march downfield and add more points, Rams outside linebacker Terrell Lewis intercepted a short pass by Allen, giving Los Angeles the ball back at the Buffalo 24. Like its first series, L.A. was forced to punt again, but it would get the ball back shortly thereafter after Floyd recovered a fumble forced by Jones. However, two plays after that takeaway, the Rams would give the ball back to the Bills after Stafford was picked off by Bills cornerback Dane Jackson, which Jackson returned two yards to the Bills 32. Buffalo came away with a 41-yard field goal by kicker Tyler Bass off the takeaway to extend its lead to 10-0 with 8:48 left in the second quarter. Los Angeles answered on the ensuing series with a 4-yard touchdown pass from Stafford to Kupp to cut its deficit to three with 3 minutes left in the first half. A 57-yard field goal by Gay – his longest as a Ram – pulled the game to a 10-10 tie at halftime. A 3-and-out to open the second half by the Rams led to the Bills regaining the lead 17-10 on the ensuing drive via a 7-yard touchdown pass from Allen to wide receiver Isaiah McKenzie with 7:59 remaining in the third quarter. Buffalo extended its lead to 24-10 early in the fourth quarter on a 4-yard touchdown run by Allen, which had been set up by a 47-yard completion from Allen to Davis. With 11:10 remaining, Stafford fired a pass deep over the middle intended for Kupp, but it was intercepted by Bills safety Jordan Poyer. Three plays later, Allen found Diggs for a 53-yard touchdown pass to extend the Bills lead to 31-10 with 9:25 to go. After Stafford threw his third pick, the Rams defense got the ball back with 5:27 left via another forced fumble (this time by Scott) and recovery (this time by Hollins). However, the possession ended with a turnover on downs at the Bills 16 with 41 seconds left. The Bills took a knee to run out the remaining clock.

Wide receiver Allen Robinson II scored his first touchdown as a Ram, rookie defensive back Cobie Durant snagged his first career interception and first career sack, and wide receiver Cooper Kupp had another monster game as the Rams (1-1) held on to defeat the Falcons 31-27 Sunday afternoon at SoFi Stadium. Kupp had 11 catches for 108 yards and two touchdowns, while Robinson added four receptions for 53 yards in addition to his touchdown as Los Angeles jumped out to a 21-3 halftime lead that grew to 31-10 lead early in the fourth quarter. After quarterback Marcus Mariota threw an 11-yard touchdown pass to wide receiver Olamide Zaccheaus to make it 31-17 with 8:14 left, blocked punt returned for a touchdown and ensuing successful 2-point conversion cut the Rams' lead to 31-25 with 4:12 remaining in the fourth quarter. Atlanta got the ball back again shortly thereafter following a fumble after a catch over the middle by Kupp that it recovered and returned three yards to the Rams' 37. The Falcons reached the Rams' 20, but a sack by outside linebacker Justin Hollins moved them back to the Rams' 24. Then defensive back Jalen Ramsey intercepted Mariota in the endzone to prevent them from scoring. The Falcons reached Rams territory on the opening drive, but Bobby Wagner shot through the gap untouched to take down Mariota for the sack, forcing Atlanta to settle for a field goal. Atlanta kicker Younghoe Koo's ensuing 44-yard attempt missed wide left. Los Angeles capitalized and responded with a scoring drive capped off by a 1-yard touchdown pass from Stafford to Robinson for a 7-0 lead with 1:44 left in the first quarter. However, starting right guard Tremayne Anchrum Jr. sustained an ankle injury on the drive that sidelined him for the rest of the game. Anchrum was replaced by Alaric Jackson. The Rams extended that lead to 14-0 on an 8-yard touchdown run by Henderson with 9:34 left in the second quarter, on possession that began at midfield following a turnover on downs by the Falcons. A 26-yard field goal by Falcons kicker Younghoe Koo cut the Rams' lead to 14-3 late in the first half. The Falcons got another chance to cut into that lead when cornerback Casey Hayward Jr. intercepted a Stafford pass intended for Higbee in the endzone with 54 seconds left in the first half. The Falcons reached the Rams 44-yard line on the ensuing possession before Durant intercepted quarterback Marcus Mariota's pass that went in and out of running back Cordarelle Patterson's hands and returned it 51 yards, setting the Rams up at the Falcons 9-yard line. The Rams took advantage with a 3-yard touchdown pass from Stafford to Kupp extended their lead to 21-3 with 14 seconds left in the first half. Stafford connected with Kupp for a second touchdown – this time from 10 yards out – to give the Rams a 28-3 lead with 9:22 left in the third quarter. The Falcons used Stafford's second interception – on a pass intended for Kupp – to score their first touchdown of the game, as Mariota six plays later connected with wide receiver Drake London on a 4-yard touchdown pass to cut the Rams' lead to 18 with 3:24 to go in the third quarter. The pick by Mychal Walker was returned 21 yards and set the Falcons up at the Rams 20. A 20-yard field goal by kicker Matt Gay boosted the Rams' lead to 31-10 with 12:13 remaining, but the Falcons answered with an 11-yard touchdown pass from Mariota to wide receiver Olamide Zaccheaus a little over two minutes later to cut the Rams' lead to 14. The Rams' lead was reduced to six when the Falcons blocked a punt and returned it 26 yards for a touchdown with 4:57 left. While the Falcons reached Rams' 20 yard line on the possession following Kupp's fumble, a sack by Hollins followed by Ramsey's interception stymied their best shot at taking the lead. Wide receiver Brandon Powell ran out of bounds in the endzone for a safety with six seconds left for a safety. The Falcons got the ball on back at midfield on the ensuing kick, but Mariota was sacked again by Hollins, clinching the victory.

Execution on special teams and the defense keeping the Cardinals out of the endzone powered the Rams (2-1, 1-0 NFC West) to a 20-12 victory over the Cardinals (1-2, 0-1) Sunday afternoon at State Farm Stadium. Running back Cam Akers and wide receiver Cooper Kupp each rushed for a touchdown, as Akers paced the backfield with 12 carries for 61 yards. On special teams, a blocked Cardinals punt helped set up the Rams' first points, while kicker Matt Gay made 2 of 2 field goal attempts and 2 of 2 extra point attempts. Meanwhile, the defense withstood long drives by the Cardinals offense to hold them to four field goals. Quarterback Matthew Stafford completed 18 of 25 passes for 249 yards in the victory. Here is the complete game recap: The Rams defense and special teams got off to a strong start on the first series of the game, forcing Cardinals to punt after a 3-and-out with defensive lineman Michael Hoecht blocking the ensuing attempt and linebacker Jake Gervase recovering it at the Cardinals 35. It led to their first points, a 22-yard field goal by kicker Matt Gay for an early 3-0 lead. After forcing another 3-and-out by the Cardinals, the Rams extended their lead to 10-0 with 4 minutes left in the first quarter after Kupp raced 20 yards to the endzone for a touchdown after taking the handoff on a misdirection sweep. By the end of the first quarter, Los Angeles was outgaining Arizona 158-26 in total yards of offense while running having run 16 plays to the Arizona's 10. A 40-yard field goal by Gay early in the second quarter extended L.A.'s lead to 13-0. On the ensuing series, the Cardinals converted twice on 4th and short situations to keep the drive alive and score their first points via a 23-yard field goal by kicker Matt Prater. The Rams defense forced the Cardinals to settle for the field goal after the Cardinals reached the Rams 5-yard line. Another field goal by the Cardinals, this time from 43 yards out, cut the Rams' lead to 13-6 just before halftime. A 49-yard field goal by Cardinals kicker Matt Prater cut the Rams' lead to four with 5:10 left in the third quarter, but the Rams answered with a 14-yard touchdown run by Akers to go up 20-9 a little over four minutes later. Looking to respond, the Cardinals reached the Rams 26 but were forced to go for it on 4th and 4. It resulted in a turnover on downs, as Rams rookie defensive back Derion Kendrick broke up Cardinals quarterback Murray's pass intended for wide receiver Marquise Brown with 11:29 remaining in the fourth quarter. A 32-yard catch-and-run by wide receiver Ben Skowronek moved the Rams to the Cardinals 33; however, four plays later, Akers fumbled and the Cardinals recovered at their own 3-yard line. The Cardinals reached the Rams' 13-yard line on the following drive, but were once again forced to settle for a field goal, cutting the Rams' lead to 20-12 with 1:07 remaining. Arizona's ensuing onside kick was unsuccessful, recovered by Los Angeles tight end Tyler Higbee. From there, the Rams were able to take a knee to run out the remaining clock and secure the victory.

The Rams (2-2, 1-1 NFC West) fell to the 49ers 24-9 Monday night at Levi's Stadium. The Rams held the 49ers (2-2, 2-0) to a field goal at the top of the fourth quarter to keep their deficit a one-possession game at 17-9, but were forced to punt on the ensuing series after going 3-and-out. The 49ers had a chance to extend their lead to 20-9 following the change of possession, but kicker Robbie Gould's 42-yard field goal attempt missed wide left. Four plays later, the Rams reached the 49ers 44-yard line, then Rams quarterback Matthew Stafford's pass intended for wide receiver Cooper Kupp was intercepted by 49ers safety Talanoa Hufanga and returned 52 yards for a touchdown, giving the 49ers a 24-9 lead with 6:22 remaining that they would not relinquish. Here is the complete game recap: The Rams struck first with a 39-yard field goal by kicker Matt Gay on the opening drive, but the 49ers responded on the ensuing possession with a 32-yard touchdown run by running back Jeff Wilson to take a 7-3 lead with 2:46 left in the first quarter. After the teams traded punts on back-to-back possessions, the Rams reached the 49ers 9-yard line but were forced to settle for a 29-yard field goal by Gay, cutting the 49ers' lead to 7-6 with 6:22 left in the first half. The 49ers responded with a 57-yard catch-and-run touchdown by wide receiver Deebo Samuel to extend their lead to 14-6 nearly four minutes later, a lead they would also take into halftime. Rookie defensive back Derion Kendrick attempted to make a play on the ball but just missed. Los Angeles reached the San Francisco 7-yard line late in the third quarter, but was forced to settle for another field goal by Gay. This time, it was from 26 yards out and cut San Francisco's lead to five. Facing a 3rd and goal from their own 1-yard line, the 49ers thought they extended their lead to 12 on a 1-yard touchdown pass from quarterback Jimmy Garoppolo to tight end George Kittle, but the pass was ruled incomplete by the officials moments later. Thus, the 49ers, were forced to settle for a 25-yard field goal, making it 17-9 with 14:56 remaining. The 49ers had a chance to expand their lead to 20-9 midway through the fourth quarter, but were unable to as Gould's 42-yard field goal attempt missed wide left. Trailing 17-9 with a chance to potentially tie, the Rams reached 49ers territory but saw their deficit grow to 15 as Hufanga picked off Stafford and returned the interception 52 yards for a touchdown with 6:22 remaining. On the following series, the Rams reached the 49ers 24, but Stafford fumbled on a sack-fumble on 3rd and 10 and it was recovered by the 49ers. The officials upheld the original call of a fumble upon further review. The 49ers were forced to punt on the possession after the turnover, but the 45 seconds remaining when the Rams got the ball back left them without enough time to make a rally.

The Rams (2-3) fell to the Cowboys 22-10 on Sunday at SoFi Stadium. Dallas (4-1) returned a fumble for a touchdown and added a field goal following a blocked punt to gain an early 9-0 lead. While Los Angeles responded with 10 unanswered points – including a 75-yard, catch-and-run touchdown by wide receiver Cooper Kupp – to take a 10-9 lead, a 57-yard touchdown run by Dallas running back Tony Pollard on the ensuing possession gave the Cowboys the lead back 16-10. Cowboys kicker Brett Maher's 40-yard field goal increased their lead to 19-10 midway through the third quarter. Maher extended that lead further to 22-10 with a 36-yard field goal with 5:32 remaining in the fourth quarter, a deficit Los Angeles would not be able to overcome. Kupp finished with seven catches for 125 yards and one touchdown in the loss. Quarterback Matthew Stafford completed 28 of 42 passes for 308 yards with one touchdown, one interception and two fumbles. Meanwhile, defensive lineman Aaron Donald paced the Rams' defense with six total tackles, two sacks and one forced fumble. Here is the complete game recap, presented by American Airlines: The Cowboys got on the board early, scooping up a sack-fumble against Stafford and returning it 19 yards for a touchdown for a 6-0 lead 1 minute and 33 seconds into the game. The ensuing extra point attempt was missed by Dallas due to the snap ricocheting off the holder, who was not paying attention. After being forced to punt on their next possession, the Rams had that punt blocked, with the Cowboys scooping up and returning to the Rams 20-yard line. The Cowboys could only manage a field goal, though, to make it 9-0 with 8:43 remaining in the first quarter. Thanks to a 54-yard completion from Stafford to Tutu Atwell, the Rams quickly reached Cowboys territory on the ensuing possession, but had to settle for a 29-yard field goal. A 75-yard catch-and-run touchdown by Kupp gave Los Angeles its first lead at 10-9 with 9:31 left in the first half. However, Dallas responded on the following series with Pollard's 57-yard touchdown run to regain the lead 16-10. The Rams appeared to be punting just before the 2-minute warning of the first half, but instead faked it on 4th and 5 from their own 25, with punter Riley Dixon completing a 12-yard pass to linebacker Jake Gervase for the first down. While it momentarily kept the drive alive, they were still forced to punt again after reaching the Cowboys 45. The Cowboys extended their lead to 19-10 on a 40-yard field goal by kicker Brett Maher midway through the third quarter. Aided by Dallas being pinned deep into its own territory following a punt, Los Angeles managed to get the ball back after 35-yard Dallas punt was returned 14 yards by Brandon Powell, setting L.A. up at the Dallas 29. However, an incomplete pass on a tricky play, followed by a holding penalty, followed by 1-yard completion to wide receiver Allen Robinson II, put Los Angeles into a 3rd and long it could not get out of. Forced to settle for a field goal, kicker Matt Gay's 51-yard attempt missed wide right with 13:34 remaining in the fourth quarter. A 36-yard field goal by Cowboys increased the Rams' deficit to 22-10 with 5:32 left in the fourth quarter. The Rams reached the Cowboys 25 on the ensuing possession, but Stafford was intercepted by Cowboys safety Malik Hooker with 3:38 remaining. The Rams reached the Cowboys 28 with 1:39 remaining, but another sack-fumble of Stafford by the Cowboys was recovered by the Cowboys, allowing them to run out the remaining clock.

Behind touchdowns from wide receiver Allen Robinson II, wide receiver Ben Skowronek, running back Darrell Henderson Jr. and a stout defensive performance, the Rams (3-3) defeated the Panthers 24-10 Sunday afternoon at SoFi Stadium. Robinson's touchdown was his second of the season. In addition to the score, he finished with five catches for 63 yards overall – both single game season-highs. Meanwhile, Skowronek scored the first of his NFL career on a 17-yard sweep that helped the Rams regain the lead late in the third quarter. And Henderson's 2-yard touchdown run early in the fourth quarter helped give the Rams additional separation from the Panthers late in the contest. The Panthers threatened to make it a one-possession game reaching the Rams' 7-yard line with 2:25 remaining, but Rams safety Nick Scott intercepted backup quarterback Jacob Eason's tipped pass to end the drive. Carolina managed just 203 yards of total offense – the bulk of which was accounted for by running back Christian McCaffrey's 158 yards from scrimmage – and was 2 for 10 on third down. The Rams offensive line suffered another injury, as left tackle Joe Noteboom was carted off the field early in the second quarter with an ankle injury. Initially ruled doubtful to return, he would be downgraded to out early in the third quarter. Here is the complete game recap, presented by Cedars-Sinai: A 42-yard field goal by kicker Eddie Pineiro on the opening drive gave the Panthers an early 3-0 lead. Stafford connected with Robinson on a 5-yard passing touchdown to give the Rams a 7-3 lead with 3:34 remaining in the first half; the scoring drive took nearly eight minutes off the clock. However, the Panthers regained the lead 96 seconds later when cornerback Donte Jackson intercepted Matthew Stafford's pass intended for Kupp and returned it 30 yards for a touchdown to make it 10-7 Carolina. Los Angeles reached the Carolina 3-yard line with 4:38 remaining in the third quarter, but was forced to settle for a 21-yard field goal by Matt Gay to tie it 10-10. A 17-yard run on a sweep by wide receiver Ben Skowronek with 11 seconds left in the third quarter gave L.A. the lead back 17-10, and that lead expanded to 14 with a 2-yard touchdown run by running back Darrell Henderson Jr. midway through the fourth quarter. The Panthers threatened late in the fourth quarter, when a 49-yard catch-and-run by McCaffrey brought them to the Rams 17. Five plays later, backup quarterback Jacob Eason was intercepted by Scott in the endzone after Scott hauled in the tipped pass by Jones. Taking over following the takeaway, Los Angeles was able to drain the remaining 2 minutes and 25 seconds to secure the victory.

The Rams (3-4, 1-2 NFC West) fell to the 49ers 31-14 on Sunday at SoFi Stadium. While Los Angeles managed to grab a 14-7 lead midway through the second quarter, they were unable to maintain it as San Francisco (4-4, 3-0) pulled away by scoring 24 unanswered points the rest of the way. Running back Christian McCaffrey was responsible for three of the 49ers' of the four touchdowns Sunday afternoon, recording one passing, one rushing and one receiving; the rushing and receiving touchdowns both came in the second half. McCaffrey finished with 183 total yards overall in addition to those two scores; 94 rushing on 18 carries plus 55 receiving on eight catches in addition to the 34-yard touchdown pass. Quarterback Matthew Stafford completed 22 of 33 pass attempts for 187 yards and one touchdown in the loss; wide receiver Cooper Kupp was on the other end of Stafford's lone passing touchdown and finished with eight catches for 79 yards overall. Defensively, outside linebacker Leonard Floyd recorded his first sack of the season and finished with two overall. Here is the complete game recap, presented by Toyota: After the two teams traded punts, the Rams were on the doorstep of scoring on their second possession, and managed to punch it in on a one-yard run by Stafford for a 7-0 lead with nine seconds left in the first quarter. The drive erased 9 minutes and 21 seconds off the clock. However, the 49ers responded with a 34-yard touchdown pass from running back Christian McCaffrey to wide receiver Brandon Aiyuk on a trick to tie the game 7-7 early in the second quarter. The Rams answered in turn with a 15-yard touchdown pass from Stafford to Kupp on the ensuing drive to regain the lead 14-7 with 6:35 left in the first half. The 49ers reached the Rams 8-yard line on the ensuing drive, but Floyd's second-down sack of Garoppolo for a 4-yard loss, followed by a third-down pass breakup by Rams linebacker Bobby Wagner, forced the 49ers to settle for a 29-yard field goal by kicker Robbie Gould, making it 14-10 at halftime. Although the 49ers opened the second half with a 25-yard run by McCaffrey to quickly reach midfield, Rams defensive lineman Greg Gaines' third-down sack forced the 49ers to punt. San Francisco regained the lead 17-14 on a 9-yard touchdown pass from Garoppolo to McCaffrey with 1:51 remaining in the third quarter, a scoring drive that took nearly seven minutes off the clock. Los Angeles was unable to respond after a third-down sack of Stafford forced them to punt. On the ensuing possession, San Francisco used an 11-yard punt return to get to its 42-yard line, then reached the L.A. 36 following an unnecessary roughness penalty against linebacker Ernest Jones at the end of a 7-yard run by McCaffrey. Five players later, McCaffrey punched it in from 1 yard out to expand the 49ers' lead to 24-14 early in the fourth quarter. Facing a 3rd and 3 from their own 28, an incomplete pass from Stafford to tight end Tyler Higbee forced the Rams to punt; had Higbee caught it, he would've had plenty of field in front of him for the first down and potentially a touchdown. A 7-yard touchdown pass from Garoppolo to tight end George Kittle made it 31-14 with 6:41 remaining.

The Rams (3-5) fell to the Buccaneers 16-13 on Sunday at Raymond James Stadium, with quarterback Tom Brady's 1-yard touchdown pass to rookie tight end Cade Otton with 9 seconds remaining the difference. It was a tough result for Los Angeles which, up until that point, had generated multiple timely plays in all three phases to maintain a lead and keep Tampa Bay (4-5) at bay. Wide receiver Cooper Kupp had a 69-yard touchdown catch and added a 34-yard reception on his way to 127 yards on eight catches in addition to that score. Meanwhile, running back Darrell Henderson Jr. broke off Los Angeles' longest run of the season with a 23-yard gain on a drive that led to a field goal. On defense, the Rams had the Bucs to three field goals until the late touchdown, with linebacker Bobby Wagner blocking a 52-yard attempt on special teams. The Rams had initially denied the Bucs' first go-ahead touchdown try when defensive back Jalen Ramsey broke up Brady's fourth-and-goal pass intended for wide receiver Mike Evans in the back of the endzone. But the Rams were forced to punt on the ensuing possession that began at their own 7 after the turnover on downs, and that advantageous field position for the Bucs from their own 40 – along with the 54 seconds remaining – was enough for them to convert the second time around. Here is the complete game recap: After a 3-and-out by the Rams on the opening series, the Bucs used a 17-yard punt return by Jaelon Darden to bring them to their own 44 yard line. That field position translated to a chip-shot field goal for a 3-0 Tampa Bay lead midway through the first quarter after Tampa Bay marched to the Los Angeles 3-yard line but was stopped on 3rd down. The Rams got on the board with a 69-yard touchdown pass from Matthew Stafford to a wide-open Kupp to take the lead 7-3 early in the second quarter. A blocked field goal by Rams linebacker Bobby Wagner set Los Angeles up at its 40, but it was unable to take advantage of that field position and forced to punt. On the ensuing drive, a 38-yard field goal by Tampa Bay cut L.A.'s lead to 7-6 just before halftime. Using a pair of big runs by running back Darrell Henderson Jr., the Rams reached the Bucs 8, but three plays later were forced to settle for a 26-yard field goal by kicker Matt Gay after Stafford's incomplete pass intended for Robinson on 3rd and 7. That left the Rams with a 10-6 lead with 9:16 left in the third quarter. The Bucs used another good punt return by Darden – this time 15 yards, and also aided by the Rams having to punt from deep in their own territory after being pinned there – to gain strong field position at their own 47 with 5:21 left in the third quarter. However, they were also forced to go for it on 4th and 2 from the Rams 45, and ended up turning the ball over on downs as quarterback Tom Brady got sacked by Rams defensive lineman Aaron Donald for an 8-yard loss. Taking over at the Bucs 47, the Rams shortly thereafter used an explosive 34-yard completion from Stafford to Kupp to reach the Bucs 10. However, Stafford getting sacked for a 9-yard loss two plays later led to a 3rd-and-19 the Rams were unable to convert, forcing them to settle for a 35-yard field goal, making it 13-6 Rams with 9 seconds to go in the third quarter. A 50-yard field goal by Succop cut the Rams' lead to four with 8:07 remaining. And the Bucs would not go away quietly. Aided by a series of completions from Brady to wide receiver Scotty Miller, Tampa Bay reached the Rams 6 with 2:50 remaining. But back-to-back drops by Miller and tight end Cade Otton left it facing 4th and goal from the Rams 6 with 2:02 remaining. Brady looked for Evans, but the pass was incomplete as Ramsey broke it up in the back of the endzone. However, the Rams were forced to punt on the ensuing drive, doing so from deep in their own territory with 54 seconds left. Again, the Rams would need another stop. Starting at their own 40 off that punt, the Bucs quickly reached Rams territory via a 28-yard completion from Brady to Otton, then reached the Rams 1-yard line five plays later. With only 9 seconds left after that touchdown pass, there wasn't enough time for the Rams to answer.

The Rams (3-6, 1-3 NFC West) fell to the Cardinals 27-17 on Sunday at SoFi Stadium. A 4-yard touchdown run by running back Darrell Henderson Jr. cut the Rams' deficit from 17-3 to 17-10 late in the third quarter, but they were unable to capitalize after forcing a 3-and-out by the Cardinals on the following possession. Arizona (4-6, 1-3) extended its lead back to 14 midway through the fourth quarter via a 9-yard touchdown running by running back James Conner with 7:41 to play. A field goal following an interception by Cardinals safety Budda Baker increased the Cardinals' lead 17 with 3:44 remaining, effectively putting the game out of reach for the Rams. With Matthew Stafford (concussion) inactive, John Wolford got the start at quarterback for the Rams, completing 24 of 36 passes for 212 yards with one touchdown and one interception. The Rams mixed in some packages with Bryce Perkins at quarterback as well. Wide receiver Cooper Kupp left the game early in the fourth quarter with an ankle injury and was ruled doubtful to return. Here is the complete game recap: The Rams got on the board first with a near 9-minute scoring drive on the opening possession ended with a 36-yard field goal by kicker Matt Gay for an early 3-0 lead. The Cardinals answered with a slow, methodical drive themselves that reached the Rams 18 and ended with a 36-yard field goal by kicker Tristan Vizcaino to tie the game 3-3. That possession erased a little over six minutes off the clock. On the first play after the 2-minute warning, Arizona made it a 10-3 lead after a 13-play scoring drive that went for six and a half minutes and ended with a 4-yard touchdown run by running back James Conner. The drive was kept alive by Cardinals quarterback Colt McCoy scrambling for the conversion on 4th and 1 from the Rams' 6-yard line. On the ensuing possession, the Rams gave the ball back to the Cardinals via a fumble by Wolford which was recovered by the Cardinals at the Rams 30. Five plays later, Arizona capitalized with a 6-yard touchdown pass from McCoy to wide receiver A.J. Green for a 17-3 lead with 24 seconds until halftime. The Rams found some momentum late in the third quarter via a 4-yard touchdown run by running back Darrell Henderson Jr. to cut their deficit to 7 with 4:24 remaining in the third quarter, on a drive keyed by a 25-yard catch-and-run by tight end Tyler Higbee on a screen pass from Wolford as well as a pair of penalties against Cardinals defensive lineman J.J. Watt. However, that momentum would be short-lived. Facing a 4th and 3 from the Rams 41, the Cardinals went for it and converted on a 26-yard pass from McCoy to wide receiver Rondale Moore, setting them up at the Rams 15-yard line. Two plays later, Conner's 9-yard touchdown run put the Cardinals up 24-10 with 7:41 remaining. A 46-yard field goal increased the Rams' deficit to 27-10 with 3:44 remaining in the fourth quarter following Wolford's interception throw to Baker. Wolford connected with wide receiver Van Jefferson on a 3-yard touchdown pass with 14 seconds left, but at 27-17, it was too little, too late by that point.

The Rams (3-7) fell to the Saints 27-20 on Sunday at the Caesars Superdome. While the Rams held a 14-10 halftime lead, the Saints (4-7) would outscore them 17-6 in the second half to come away with the victory. Los Angeles rushed for a season-high 148 yards, wide receiver Tutu Atwell caught his first career touchdown (62 yards) and wide receiver Allen Robinson II caught his third touchdown of the season, but as has been the story of the season, the injuries continued to mount. Rams starting left tackle Ty Nsekhe left the game with 5:29 remaining in the second quarter with an ankle injury and was questionable to return. He was replaced by Bobby Evans. Starting defensive linemen A'Shawn Robinson sustained a knee injury in the first half and was questionable to return. Additionally, starting quarterback Matthew Stafford walked back to the Rams locker room late in the third quarter after being evaluated in the blue medical tent following a third-down sack with 9:38 remaining in the third quarter and was evaluated for a concussion. Prior to exiting the game, Stafford completed 11 of 18 passes for 159 yards and two touchdowns. Stafford was replaced by Bryce Perkins, who completed 5 of 10 passes for 64 yards and rushed five times for 39 yards. John Wolford (neck) was inactive. Here is the complete game recap: The Saints reached the Rams' 13 late in the first quarter, but a timely pass breakup in the endzone by safety Taylor Rapp, followed by back-to-back sacks by defensive lineman Greg Gaines (loss of 8 yards) and outside linebacker Leonard Floyd (loss of 7), forced New Orleans to settle for a 46-yard field goal to put it up 3-0. Los Angeles answered quickly, with Stafford firing a 62-yard touchdown pass to Atwell to give the Rams a 7-3 lead. A 14-yard touchdown pass from Dalton to tight end Juwan Johnson gave the Saints the lead back 10-7 with 12:11 left in the second quarter. The Rams later regained the lead 14-10 on a 6-yard touchdown pass from Stafford to Robinson just before halftime. The Saints opened the second half with gains of 18, 13, 15 and 18 yards en route to regaining the lead 17-14 on a 7-yard touchdown pass from Dalton to wide receiver Jarvis Landry. They extended that lead to 24-14 on a 53-yard touchdown pass from Dalton to wide receiver Chris Olave with 5:47 remaining in the second half. After getting sacked on 3rd down, Stafford was evaluated in the blue medical tent, then walked back to the locker room and was evaluated for a concussion. With Bryce Perkins taking over at quarterback, the Rams managed to reach the Saints 15-yard line, but the drive stalled there and forced them to settle for a 33-yard field goal by kicker Matt Gay to cut their deficit to seven early in the fourth quarter. The Saints responded on the ensuing drive with a 25-yard field goal to increase their lead to 27-17 with 9:06 remaining. After that, the Rams had three chances to make it a one possession game, but each series ended with them punting. The last of those opportunities came with 1:34 remaining, and the Rams reached the Saints 40 with 11 seconds left and got a 58-yard field goal from kicker Matt Gay. However, the ensuing onside kick with six seconds remaining was unsuccessful.

The Rams (3-8) fell to the Chiefs 26-10 on Sunday at GEHA Field at Arrowhead Stadium. The Rams defense held the Chiefs (9-2) in check in the redzone, holding them to a pair of field goals in their two trips in the first half, and also mostly limited explosive plays. The exception and difference was Kansas City quarterback Patrick Mahomes connecting with tight end Travis Kelce for a 39-yard touchdown pass in the first quarter, that contributed the Rams' 13-3 halftime deficit. The Chiefs extended their lead to 20-3 on a 3-yard touchdown run by running back Isiah Pacheco, but the Rams answered on the ensuing drive with a 7-yard touchdown pass from quarterback Bryce Perkins to wide receiver Van Jefferson to trim their deficit back to 10 early in the fourth quarter. Safety Nick Scott's interception in the endzone with 8:50 left gave the Rams a chance to further chip away at that deficit, but Perkins was intercepted by Chiefs cornerback L'Jarius Sneed two plays later. Sneed's 25-yard return on the pick set the Chiefs up at the Rams 10-yard line, and led to a short field goal that extended the Chiefs' lead to 23-10 with 6:39 remaining. Perkins was intercepted again on the following possession, and the Chiefs kicked another 22-yard field goal to go up 26-10. But with 1:44 remaining, there wasn't enough time for the Rams to overcome that 16-point deficit. Making his first career start, Perkins completed 13 of 23 pass attempts for 100 yards with one touchdown against two interceptions, and also rushed nine times for 44 yards. Meanwhile, the Rams defense held the Chiefs offense to 1-of-6 in the redzone. Here is the complete game recap: The Rams' first drive didn't get off to an ideal start. After forcing the Chiefs to punt on their first drive, they were backed up to their own 4-yard line and eventually forced to punt. However, they managed to make up for it by recovering a muffed Chiefs punt at the Chiefs 43-yard line. On that second drive, Perkins was sacked for a 10-yard loss on first down. His 8-yard scramble and 18-yard completion to Jefferson on 3rd and 12 appeared to get the Rams back into Chiefs territory, but the Chiefs successfully challenged and overturned the originally ruling of a catch by Jefferson, so the Rams were forced to punt. The next series, the Chiefs struck first with a 39-yard touchdown pass from quarterback Patrick Mahomes to tight end Travis Kelce for a 7-0 lead with 5:40 left in the first quarter. A 47-yard field goal by Matt Gay at the start of the second quarter cut the Rams' deficit to four, but the Chiefs went back up by seven after a 27-yard field goal with 9:50 left in the second quarter. They were forced to settle for that chip-shot attempt after reaching the Rams 4-yard line and having a touchdown nullified by a penalty, then three-straight incompletions by Mahomes. Los Angeles used a fake punt to keep its fourth drive alive, with punter Riley Dixon firing a 6-yard completion to wide receiver Jacob Harris. However, the series was derailed by Perkins getting sacked for 9-yard loss, and they would eventually punt anyway with 3:22 left in the first half. That punt by Dixon bounced out of bounds at the Kansas City 4-yard line, but the Chiefs still managed a 32-yard field goal at the end of the drive to extend their lead to 13-3 at halftime. The Chiefs extended their lead to 20-3 on running back Isiah Pacheco's 3-yard touchdown run with 6:32 remaining in the third quarter. Perkins' 7-yard touchdown pass to Jefferson on 4th and 2 pulled the Rams back within 10 at the beginning of the fourth quarter. The Chiefs reached the Rams 4-yard line on the ensuing drive, but Scott's interception of Mahomes in the endzone ended it. The Chiefs would get the ball back shortly thereafter with Sneed intercepting Perkins, but the Rams held them to a 22-yard field goal with 6:36 left. Perkins' second interception with 5:27 left effectively ended the Rams' last chance at erasing that 13-point deficit. While the Chiefs were held to a field goal again, the remaining 1:44 wasn't ample enough time for the Rams to mount a comeback.

The Rams (3-9) fell to the Seahawks 27-23 on Sunday at SoFi Stadium. Trailing 20-16 with 6:46 to play, the Rams regained the lead 23-20 on a 6-yard rushing touchdown by running back Cam Akers nearly four minutes later. However, the Seahawks (7-5) reached the Rams 9-yard line with 47 seconds left, and Seahawks quarterback Geno Smith connected with wide receiver DK Metcalf for the game-winning touchdown 11 seconds later. Linebacker Bobby Wagner finished with seven total tackles (three for loss), two sacks, one interception and two QB hits in his first game against his former team. Akers finished with 17 carries for 60 yards and two touchdowns. Here is the complete game recap, presented by Hyundai: The Rams struck first with a 1-yard touchdown run by Akers on the opening drive for an early 7-0 lead. The 10-play, 77-yard scoring drive took five and a half minutes off the clock. However, the Seahawks answered on the ensuing possession with a 36-yard touchdown pass from Smith to wide receiver Tyler Lockett to tie the game 7-7. Though a 40-yard field goal by kicker Matt Gay gave the Rams a 10-7 lead, the Seahawks once again had an answer, with Smith finding tight end Noah Fant in the back of the endzone for a 4-yard touchdown pass to give them their first lead at 14-10 midway through the second quarter. Cornerback Tariq Woolen intercepted John Wolford's pass intended for running back Kyren Williams, but Wagner's second sack of the game ensure Seattle would punt and not get any points off the takeaway. Los Angeles managed a 54-yard field goal by Gay following the third-down stop to cut its deficit to one with 55 seconds left in the first half, though it needed tight end Tyler Higbee recovering a Wolford fumble to keep the drive alive. The Seahawks got the ball to start the second half, but lost possession after reaching Rams territory when Rams outside linebacker Michael Hoecht's sack-fumble on Smith was recovered by safety Taylor Rapp at their own 29. However, the Rams were unable to take advantage, as Wolford was sacked for a 9-yard loss on 3rd down, forcing them to punt. Wolford nearly connected with Tutu Atwell deep down the left sideline, but Woolen was there to break up the pass on first and 10 with 7:25 left in the third quarter. The Rams ended up punting 80 seconds later, but got the ball back quickly via an interception by Wagner with 1:46 left in the third quarter. They reached the Seahawks 8-yard line, but were forced to settle for a 32-yard field goal after Wolford was sacked for a 5-yard loss on third down, making it 17-16 Seahawks with 12:57 remaining. The Seahawks answered with a field goal over their own to bring their lead back to four, but that scoring drive erased a little over six minutes off the clock. The Rams responded with a touchdown this time, as Akers' 6-yard run at the end of a 9-play, 75-yard scoring drive gave them back the lead 23-20 with just under three minutes to play. The lead would be short-lived. The Seahawks scored the game-winning touchdown with 36 seconds left on a 9-yard pass from Smith to Metcalf, and the Rams were unable to muster anything on the ensuing possession.

The Rams are back in the win column. Quarterback Baker Mayfield threw the game-winning, 23-yard touchdown pass to wide receiver Van Jefferson with nine seconds remaining, lifting the Rams (4-9) to a 17-16 victory over Raiders (5-8) Thursday night at SoFi Stadium. Running back Cam Akers' 1-yard rushing touchdown pulled the Rams within 6 with 3:19 to play, then the Rams got a third-down stop with 2 minutes remaining forcing the Raiders to punt. However, that punt landed at the Rams 2-yard line, pinning them deep with 1:45 remaining and without any timeouts left. Helped by a 32-yard catch by wide receiver Ben Skowronek and penalties against the Raiders along the way, Mayfield eventually found Jefferson for that 23-yard touchdown pass, which Jefferson caught over the shoulder, to give the Rams a 17-16 lead, their first of the game. On the first play of the Raiders' ensuing possession, Rams safety Taylor Rapp intercepted Raiders quarterback Derek Carr to clinch the victory. Mayfield took over for starter John Wolford after the first offensive series and completed 22 of 35 pass attempts for 230 yards plus the game-winning touchdown. On defense, linebacker Bobby Wagner paced the unit with a game-high 14 total tackles, while linebacker Ernest Jones recorded his first interception of the season. Here is the complete game recap, presented by QuidelOrtho: The Raiders took an early 7-0 lead via a 1-yard touchdown run by running back Josh Jacobs on the opening possession, then extended their lead to 10-0 on a 55-yard field goal by kicker Daniel Carlson late in the first quarter. Trailing by 10, the Rams put Mayfield in at quarterback on their second offensive series and managed to get a field goal out of it, as Matt Gay's 55-yard attempt cut their deficit 7 with six seconds left in the first quarter. Though the Raiders added another field goal to go back up by 10, the Rams appeared positioned to respond with at least that. However, after a 22-yard completion from Mayfield to wide receiver Ben Skowronek, running back Cam Akers fumbled at the Raiders 19-yard line, and it was recovered by the Raiders with 4:45 remaining in the first half. The Raiders likewise seemed poised to capitalize on that takeaway until the Rams generated one of their own via a one-handed interception in the endzone by linebacker Ernest Jones with 56 seconds left in the first half. However, the Rams were unable to manufacture anything off of the pick. A defensive pass interference penalty drawn by Atwell brought Los Angeles to the Las Vegas 30-yard line with 5:16 remaining in the third quarter. However, a holding penalty on 3rd and 10 on that drive made it difficult for L.A. to convert, and coupled with a personal foul penalty, left it attempting a 61-yard field goal that Gay missed wide left. The Raiders added a 36-yard field goal early in the fourth quarter to extend their lead to 16-3. A promising drive by the Rams ended with a 1-yard touchdown run by Akers to cut the Rams' deficit to six with 3:19 remaining. After a third-down stop on the ensuing possession, the Rams overcame beginning what would be the game-winning drive from their own 2 to score the game-winning touchdown, a 23-yard pass from Mayfield to Jefferson to go up 17-16. Safety Taylor Rapp's interception with 2 seconds left sealed the victory.

The Rams (4-10) fell to the Packers 24-12 Monday night at Lambeau Field. Despite a late third-quarter score and early fourth-quarter takeaway created by Los Angeles, long scoring drives helped Green Bay (6-8) gradually gain separation from L.A. over the course of Monday's contest. Its first, a 12-play, 52-yarder, ended with a 34-yard field goal by kicker Mason Crosby after taking 6:14 off the clock. Its second, an 11-play, 74-yarder, ended with an 8-yard touchdown run by running back A.J. Dillon after taking 6:15 off the clock. Its third, an 11-play, 68-yarder, ended with a 1-yard touchdown run by Dillon and took 6:56 off the clock. That third scoring drive came midway through the third quarter and put the Packers up 17-6. The Rams' deficit then reached 18 with 2:25 left after a 7-yard touchdown catch by Packers running back Aaron Jones, an amount that would prove to be insurmountable. Quarterback Baker Mayfield's 8-yard touchdown pass to tight end Tyler Higbee with 22 seconds left in the third quarter pulled the Rams within 12, but they were unable to get points off of defensive back Jalen Ramsey's forced fumble and fumble recovery which had given them a chance to cut further into that deficit. Besides Ramsey's takeaways, Los Angeles' defense also got two sacks from outside linebacker Leonard Floyd and safety Taylor Rapp's second interception in as many games in the loss. Rams starting center Brian Allen suffered a calf on the second play of the Rams' first offensive series and did not return. Here is the complete game recap: The Rams' opening drive showed promise with a 15-yard run by Cam Akers on the first play and later a 17-yard catch by Van Jefferson on third down, but they were ultimately forced to punt after a third-down sack of Mayfield. Green Bay got deep into L.A. territory, but a timely third-down sack by Rams outside linebacker Leonard Floyd forced the Packers to settle for a 34-yard field goal and 3-0 lead with 4:25 left in the first quarter. A Taylor Rapp interception just before the end of the first quarter set up the drive that ended with a 33-yard field goal by Gay with 10:41 left in the second quarter to tie the game 3-3. The Packers regained the lead 10-3 a little over six minutes later via an 8-yard touchdown run up the middle by Dillon, while the Rams answered with a 55-yard field goal by Gay on the ensuing possession to reduce their deficit to four just before halftime. Green Bay expanded its lead to 17-6 on a one-yard touchdown run by Dillon, which capped off its second-half opening drive that erased nearly 7 minutes off the clock. Working with shorter field position thanks to a penalty against the Rams punt coverage team, the Packers needed just 35 yards and a little over 3 minutes to make it 24-6 on a 7-yard touchdown pass from quarterback Rodgers to running back Aaron Jones. Quarterback Baker Mayfield's 8-yard touchdown pass to tight end Tyler Higbee with 22 seconds left in third quarter cut the Rams' deficit to 12; Gay missed the extra point attempt. On the ensuing kickoff, the Packers got ideal field position via a 52-yard return by Keisean Nixon that set them up at the Rams' 47, but Floyd's third-down sack for a 7-yard loss ensured the Packers would punt. But that Rams possession ended with Mayfield throwing an interception on third down, and the Packers taking over at the Rams 34.

A complementary performance powered the Rams (5-10) to a blowout 51-14 win over the Broncos (4-11) on Christmas Day at SoFi Stadium. Los Angeles snagged four interceptions against Denver – two from defensive back Cobie Durant (one returned 85 yards for a touchdown), one from linebacker Bobby Wagner and one from defensive back Jalen Ramsey – with its offense converting those takeaways into 17 points (Durant's pick-six made it 24 points overall off turnovers). Running back Cam Akers' three rushing touchdowns and Tyler Higbee's two receiving touchdowns propelled a Rams offense led by quarterback Baker Mayfield, who finished 24 of 28 for 230 yards in addition to those two passing touchdowns to Higbee. Meanwhile, kicker Matt Gay made both of his field goal attempts, including a 55-yarder that gave him a career-best sixth made field goal of 50 or more yards this season. Akers finished with 23 carries for 118 yards in addition to his career-high three rushing touchdowns, Higbee nine catches for 94 yards in addition to his two scores. L.A.'s defense also recorded a season-high six sacks in the victory and kept Denver out of the endzone until 8:31 remaining in the game. The four interceptions were also a season-high. Here is the complete game recap, presented by Nickelodeon: The Rams rode a steady dose of Akers on the opening drive before penalties forced them to settle for a 55-yard field goal by Gay, giving them a 3-0 lead midway through the first quarter. Four plays later, Los Angeles got the ball back via Durant's interception, and converted the takeaway into points with a 9-yard touchdown pass from Mayfield to Higbee to expand that lead to 10-0. The Rams picked off Wilson a second time, as Wagner jumped in front of a pass intended for Dulcich over the middle to set the Rams up at the Broncos 15. Two plays later, a 3-yard rushing touchdown by Akers put them up 17-0 with 4:45 left in the first quarter. Although the Broncos added a 54-yard field goal early in the second quarter, the Rams answered with Higbee's second touchdown catch of the day to go up 24-3. A 2-yard run by Akers late in the first half extended the Rams' lead to 31-3, though the Broncos added a 49-yard field goal just before halftime to make it 31-6 Rams. On the drive set up by Ramsey's pick, Gay's 30-yard field goal late in the third quarter put the Rams back up by 28. Akers' third touchdown of the day – a 4-yard run – put the Rams up 41-6 with 12:35 left in the fourth quarter. The Broncos did not reach the endzone until midway through the fourth quarter via Wilson's 11-yard touchdown pass to tight end Greg Dulcich. With two additional opportunities via penalties against the Rams, their ensuing 2-point attempt was eventually successful on their third try. On the ensuing possession, the Rams replaced Mayfield with backup Bryce Perkins, with the Rams' starters at the other skill positions replaced by their respective backups as well. The Broncos likewise inserted backup Brett Rypien at quarterback on the ensuing possession, but it didn't make much of a difference as Durant jumped his pass intended for tight end Fred Swain and returned it 85 yards for the touchdown to put the Rams up 51-14.

The Rams (5-11) fell to the Chargers 31-10 on Sunday at SoFi Stadium. While the Rams played a clean game offensively, their only points of the contest came via a 23-yard field goal by kicker Matt Gay and a 23-yard touchdown run by running back Malcolm Brown. The Chargers (10-6) also used big plays in the run game and the pass game to gradually gain separation from the Rams. Running back Cam Akers had another productive game for the Rams in the loss with 19 carries for 123 yards, giving him back-to-back 100-yard rushing games for the first time in his career. Here is the complete game recap: The Rams got on the board first late in the first quarter. Aided by a 42-yard run by Akers, they eventually reached the Chargers 5-yard line before being forced to settle for a 23-yard field goal for a 3-0 lead. The Chargers answered with a scoring drive capped off by running back Austin Ekeler's 10-yard touchdown run to gain the lead 7-3 with 13:40 remaining in the second quarter. A 72-yard touchdown run by Ekeler increased the Rams' deficit to 14-3 midway through the second quarter. Brown ensured the Rams would respond with a 23-yard rushing touchdown on the ensuing possession to pull them within four, but the Chargers added a 40-yard field goal just before halftime for a 17-10 lead. The Rams' deficit grew to 14 after a 6-yard touchdown pass from Chargers quarterback Justin Herbert to tight end Gerald Everett midway through the third quarter. The Rams appeared well-positioned to answer on the ensuing drive, but lost the ball after reaching the Chargers' 35 when Baker Mayfield was stripped of the ball by Chargers linebacker Kyle Van Noy and the Chargers recovered. A 3-yard touchdown pass from Herbert to tight end Donald Parham made it 31-10 Chargers with 12:12 remaining, effectively putting the game out of reach.

The Rams (5-12) fell to the Seahawks 19-16 in overtime on Sunday at Lumen Field. A 22-yard field goal by Seahawks kicker Jason Myers tied the game 16-16 with 2:19 remaining, but it was Myers' 46-yard, would-be game-winner bouncing off the right upright that sent the game into overtime. The Seahawks (9-8) punted on the first possession overtime, but on the ensuing possession, Rams quarterback Baker Mayfield was intercepted by Seahawks safety Quandre Diggs on a deep pass intended for wide receiver Van Jefferson. Seattle capitalized on the takeaway, using explosive big gains by wide receiver Tyler Lockett and running back Ken Walker III to get into field goal range. Five plays later, Myers converted a 32-yard field goal to seal the Seahawks' victory. Defensive back Jalen Ramsey snagged two interceptions in the game, the first of which set up the Rams' first points. Kicker Matt Gay surpassed 100 career field goals made by going a perfect 3-for-3 on those attempts on Sunday. Additionally, running back Cam Akers eclipsed the 100-yard rushing mark for the third-straight game, becoming the first Rams running back to do so in the same season since Todd Gurley in 2015. Akers posted 21 carries for 104 yards in the loss. Rookie safety Russ Yeast left the game in the first half with a chest injury and was ruled out for the remainder of the game in the third quarter. Here is the complete game recap: Ramsey set the tone early with an interception on the first play of the game, returning it 28 yards to the Seahawks 11-yard line. The takeaway ultimately set up a 22-yard field goal by Gay for a 3-0 lead. The Seahawks answered with a chip-shot field goal of their own on the ensuing series to make it 3-3. Though Seattle had advantageous field position late in the first quarter, they couldn't capitalize on that short field to work with and ended up settling for a 36-yard field goal to take the lead 6-3 with 15 seconds left in that period. A 32-yard run by Cam Akers quickly got Los Angeles into Seattle territory early in the second quarter, but L.A. was still forced to settle for a 45-yard field goal by Gay to tie the game 6-6. The Rams regained lead with the next and last score of the first half, an 11-yard touchdown run by wide receiver Tutu Atwell for a 13-6 advantage with 39 seconds left in the second quarter. The Seahawks again tied the game midway through the third quarter with a 36-yard touchdown pass from quarterback Geno Smith to wide receiver Tyler Lockett, though the Rams responded with a 38-yard field goal by Gay to regain the lead 16-13 nearly five minutes later. Ramsey snagged his second interception with 2:33 left in the third quarter, but the Rams were forced to punt on the ensuing possession. Midway through the fourth quarter, the Seahawks were forced to punt, but got a fresh set of downs and the ball back after the Rams were flagged for running into the kicker. The Seahawks chewed the next 6 minutes and 20 seconds off the clock, only to be stalled at the Rams 1-yard line when running back Ken Walker II was stopped for a 3-yard loss on third down. The Seahawks were forced to settle for a 22-yard field goal, tying the game 16-16 with 2:19 left. On the ensuing possession, the Rams were forced to punt, and that punt nearly rolled to a stop at the Seahawks 1-yard line after cornerback Robert Rochell narrowly missed touching it. Instead, it was a touchback that gave the ball to the Seahawks at their own 20. A 10-yard completion from Smith to wide receiver Cade Johnson, a 25-yard scramble by Smith – and ensuing unnecessary roughness penalty against the Rams – quickly moved the Seahawks into field goal range, reaching the Rams' 30-yard line. Three plays later, Myers' 46-yard, would-be game-winning field goal bounced off the upright, sending the game into overtime. In overtime, Seattle got the ball first, but went 3-and-out and was forced to punt. However, it got the ball back shortly thereafter via Diggs' interception. A 17-yard pass from Smith to Lockett and 20-yard run from Walker moved the Seahawks into Rams territory and field goal range, then Myers made a 32-yard field goal to give Seattle the victory.

Training Camp

The Rams returned to their familiar home for Training Camp at UC Irvine in 2022. It was the 52nd training camp in Southern California for the franchise. The 2020 season marked the first time the Rams held training camp at their team facility (on the campus of California Lutheran University), after the NFL mandated its teams conduct training camp from their own facilities in 2020 due to the COVID-19 pandemic. Over the course of Rams' history, the team has held training camp at several locations in the Southern California area, including: Compton College (1946), Loyola University (1947-48), University of Redlands (1949-60), Chapman College (1961-66), California State-Fullerton (1976-71, 1973-90, '93), California State-Long Beach (1972), UCI (1991-92, 1994, 2016, 2021, 2022) and their team facility on the campus of CLU (2020).

SoFi Stadium and Hollywood Park has transformed the site of the former Hollywood Park Racetrack into a year-round sports and entertainment destination for the enjoyment of people throughout Southern California, as well as visitors to the region.

SoFi Stadium is the centerpiece of the near 300-acre mixed-use development, Hollywood Park, and has a seating capacity of 70,000, expandable up to 100,000, with 260 luxury suites, more than 13,000 premium seats, and approximately 3.1 million square feet of usable space, making it the largest stadium in the NFL. Hollywood Park also includes the 2.5 acre American Airlines Plaza and the 6,000-seat performance venue, YouTube Theater, both of which are located under the same roof canopy as the stadium. SoFi Stadium is the home field for the Los Angeles Rams and Los Angeles Chargers. The state-of-the-art venue hosted Super Bowl LVI and the 2023 College Football National Championship game, WrestleMania 2023, and will host the World Cup in 2026, and the Opening and Closing Ceremonies of the Olympic Games in 2028.

Located just six miles off the coast, a short drive from LAX and the City of Inglewood's future Crenshaw/LAX Line, Hollywood Park is an iconic global destination for millions to enjoy. This privately funded development is 3.5 times the size of Disneyland park and twice as big as Vatican City. It is also the largest urban mixed-use development under construction in the Western United States. In addition to SoFi Stadium, YouTube Theater, American Airlines Plaza and Lake Park, Hollywood Park's Phase 1 includes 500,000 square-feet of retail, a 450,000 square-foot office building, the NFL Media Building, and 314 residences. When complete, Hollywood Park will have up to 2,500 residences, a hotel, a retail district reaching up to 890,000 square feet, up to 5 million square feet of creative office space and more than 25-acres of public parks and open space.

The NFL opened their new West Coast Headquarters at Hollywood Park in September 2021, and it houses operations for NFL Media, which includes NFL Network, NFL RedZone, the NFL app, NFL.com, NFL Fantasy and the NFL's social media lab, plus staff across a variety of departments including marketing, club business development, and media sales. In addition to office and studio space situated next to SoFi Stadium, the facility features NFL Media's first outdoor studio, which hosts audiences and includes an outdoor field for filming purposes as well as public use.

One of the hallmarks of SoFi Stadium and Hollywood Park is the long-term impact it will have on the city of Inglewood and the surrounding region. More than 17,000 jobs were created over the course of SoFi Stadium's construction period. During the construction, Inglewood businesses earned more than $105 million in revenue and Inglewood residents earned more than $38 million in wages. SoFi Stadium and Hollywood Park held about 45 community and other events, with an emphasis on Inglewood, in 2021 through community engagement efforts focused on four areas. These areas include: STEAM education, sustainability, financial empowerment and health and wellness.

The open-air SoFi Stadium is the first indoor-outdoor stadium to be constructed. It has a seating capacity of approximately 70,000, expandable up to 100,000. It features 260 luxury suites, more than 13,000 premium seats and approximately 3.1 million square feet of usable space.

Adjacent to the stadium and under the same canopy are a 2.5-acre open-air American Airlines Plaza and the 6,000-seat YouTube Theater.

Across the three spaces, SoFi Stadium has the flexibility to host anywhere from one cohesive event to three separate events concurrently in each of the venues.

The roof canopy features a single-layer of Ethylene Tetrafluoroethylene (ETFE), which creates a semi-clear cover that protects from weather elements. The ETFE has a 65 percent frit pattern, which reflects 40 percent of visible and solar rays and 42 percent of UV rays. As a result, the temperature is approximately 4 degrees cooler inside the building than outside.

Each panel on the roof canopy is covered in a special LED light system. The LED roof screen is 12 acres long or 6.5 city blocks. With over 216,000 LEDs, the roof turns into a dynamic display for passengers flying in and out of LAX.

The 120-yard-long Infinity Screen by Samsung video board is the first HD video system ever built into a stadium. The Infinity Screen is the first-of-its-kind and the only dual sided, center-hung 4k videoboard ever created. It is a 70,000 square foot, high-definition television that spans from one end of the field to the other, the biggest in sports.

The Infinity Screen's oval display features approximately 8 million pixels, spaced 8 millimeters from center to center and can be uniquely or congruently programmed with statistics, live and/or animated content.

In addition, SoFi Stadium features five levels of an additional 20,000 square feet plus ribbon board throughout the bowl. SoFi Stadium has 90,000 square feet of digital LED in its seating bowl alone.

The first-ever soccer event at the stadium was the 2022 Leagues Cup Showcase featuring four of the continent's most popular clubs – Los Angeles Football Club, LA Galaxy, Club Deportivo Guadalajara and Club América.

Grupo Firme is the first band to perform for two consecutive years at SoFi Stadium (2022, 2023) and broke the record for most tickets sold by a Latin band or artist (May 28-29, 2022 & May 27, 2023). Additionally, TWICE is first female group to perform and sell out SoFi Stadium (June 10, 2023).

Unique Elements of SoFi Stadium

SoFi Stadium is the first indoor-outdoor stadium to be constructed. It has a seating capacity of approximately 70,000, expandable up to 100,000. It features 260 luxury suites, more than 13,000 premium seats and approximately 3.1 million square feet of usable space.

Adjacent to the stadium and under the same canopy are a 2.5-acre open-air plaza named American Airlines Plaza and the 6,000-seat YouTube Theater.

SoFi Stadium and Hollywood Park utilizes 26m gallons of reclaimed water a year for landscape irrigation and maintenance, saving an equal amount of drinkable water for the region.

There are approximately 5,000 trees onsite.

SoFi Stadium was named "Best New Concert Venue" in 2021 by Pollstar Magazine, a leading industry trade publication.

On a clear day, you can see the Pacific Ocean to the West, the Santa Monica Mountains, and the Hollywood Sign to the North. To date, SoFi Stadium has hosted over 4.3 million fans.

SoFi Stadium features the first-ever dual-sided video board, the Infinity Screen by Samsung. Consisting of 70,000 sq. ft. of digital display, the experience is similar to watching a 55"-60" television, from every seat in the stadium.

The Infinity Screen by Samsung is comprised of multiple screens, allowing the event host to show consistent or varied content.

Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum Renovations

The University of Southern California and United Airlines announced a new agreement to name the field at the Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum. Under this 10-year deal commencing in August 2019, the field at the historic landmark, memorial to World War I veterans and home of the USC Trojans, will be referred to as United Airlines Field at the Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum.

USC and United worked together to reach an agreement that retains the original venue name while still providing funding to support a $315 million project to restore and preserve the Coliseum and upgrade its facilities for fans, athletes and the community.

The Coliseum Renovation Project will restore one of the most iconic sports and entertainment venues in the world, the Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum.

During the 2019 season, the Rams played their home games at a renovated Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum. Upgraded features included Wi-Fi connectivity, new stadium seats with cupholders, additional aisles, improved concession stands, more ADA seating and a new Scholarship Tower which includes a press box and sky deck, as well as premium seating options.

In Week 11 of the 2018 season, the Rams defeated the Kansas City Chiefs 54-51 in a shootout thriller, ending on CB Troy Hill picking off Chiefs QB Patrick Mahomes II in the final moments of the game.

The game hosted in the Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum marks as the highest scoring game in the 49-season history of Monday Night Football.

Community Outreach

Rams in the Community

LEVERAGING OUR PLATFORM TO INSPIRE CHANGE AND IMPACT LIVES

The Los Angeles Rams organization recognizes its unique ability to help raise awareness and funds for causes and issues relevant to our fans and community members. The Rams focus substantial resources on efforts to engage and impact the Los Angeles community through a commitment to support youth education and mentoring, promote health and wellness, and help address the issues of poverty. The team also participates in special events to raise awareness and funding for numerous local nonprofit organizations. Since the team has moved back to Southern California, the Rams have partnered with various school districts and nonprofits including After-School All-Stars, Agoura Hills Teen Coalition, American Cancer Society, American Heart Association, American Red Cross, A Place Called Home, Beyond Differences, Big Brothers Big Sisters of Greater Los Angeles, Big Sunday, Boys & Girls Club of Orange County, Cedars-Sinai, Children's Hospital of Los Angeles (CHLA), Children's Miracle Network Extra Life, City Year, Club 21, CollegeSpring, Conejo Valley Unified School District, Covenant House, Educators 4 Excellence, Exceptional Children's Foundation, FirstBook, FOODShare of Ventura County, Habitat for Humanity of Greater Los Angeles, Habitat for Humanity of Orange County, Habitat for Humanity of Ventura County, Heart of Los Angeles (HOLA), Homeboy Industries, HomeLight Family Living, I Have A Dream Los Angeles, Inglewood Unified School District, Inner City Arts, Green Dot Public Schools, L.A. Komen, The Souper Bowl of Caring, The Midnight Mission, Tragedy Assistance Program for Survivors (TAPS), UCLA Operation Mend, United Way of Greater Los Angeles, Union Rescue Mission, Uplift Family Services at Hollygrove, US Vets Inglewood, Vision Zero, Wags & Walks, Watts Rams, World Police and Fire Games, Wounded Warrior Project, YMCA and YWCA.

Watts Rams

Designed to bridge the gap between communities of color and law enforcement, the Watts Rams is a coed youth football program coached by Los Angeles Police Department (LAPD) officers. This unique program allows young student-athletes to see police officers as human beings and mentors, while allowing the officers to get to know the youth and families they serve. Rams head coach Sean McVay announced the partnership at Rams Training Camp in 2019.

Beyond the game of football, the Rams provide the Watts Rams with educational opportunities, access to players, coaches and staff, and enrichment activities throughout the year. The program also emphasizes character development and community service. More than 125 youth currently participate in the Watts Rams football program's Mighty Mites, 10U, 12U and 14U divisions. The program also features a flag football team.

In December 2022, the Rams hosted an inaugural Inspire Change Bowl for the Watts Rams and North East Lincoln Tigers youth football and cheerleading programs to celebrate their 2022 seasons. The bowl featured divisional matchups between the Watts Rams and North East Lincoln Tigers Mighty Mites, 10U, 12U and 14U teams. In addition, leading up to the 2022 season, the Rams rookie class joined the Watts Rams to kick off their five-day summer camp at SoLa's Tech and Entrepreneurship Center, which offers high-quality educational programming alongside leadership and entrepreneurship development. The tech camp, hosted by the Rams, focused on web design and other tech skills.

Kenny Washington Memorial Scholarship

The Rams created the Kenny Washington Memorial Scholarship to celebrate Kenny Washington and his impact on the Rams and the NFL. The scholarship provides up to four years of financial support and advisement from Fulfillment Fund (FF), a partner of the Los Angeles Rams, for 13 students from lower-resourced communities who are among the first in their families to pursue post-secondary education. Each student selected embodies Kenny Washington's core values – perseverance in the face of adversity, dedication to their goals and the Los Angeles community, fortitude through breaking barriers and inspiring others around them to make a difference.

Following the 2021 season, the Rams recognized the 13 Kenny Washington Memorial Scholarship recipients at Fulfillment Fund's Sip & Celebrate event at SoFi Stadium. Scholarship recipients received a Kenny Washington-Rams stole, a Rams game ball and a scholarship certificate.

Cleats for Character

The Rams Cleats for Character program for local high school football players features group discussions about goal setting and the values of good character. Following the discussions, the student-athletes are sized and provided with cleats and/or shoes previously worn by Rams players. Since 2017, the team's Cleats for Character program has impacted more than 3,500 student-athletes from over 150 different schools throughout Los Angeles.

Pathways to Success Mentorship Program

In 2021, the Rams launched the Pathways to Success Mentorship Program, a tailored approach to support professional development and exploration of careers in the sports industry among high school students. The program offers local students mentorship from Rams front office staff members and features virtual workshops designed to discuss goal setting, self-discovery, social etiquette, interview preparation, financial literacy, leveraging technology and building a personal brand. In addition, the Rams host the program participants for multiple in-person sessions including a job-shadowing opportunity with their mentor at a Rams home game at SoFi Stadium.

North East Lincoln Rams

In December 2022, the Rams launched a partnership with the North East Lincoln Tigers, a youth football program coached by Los Angeles Police Department (LAPD) officers serving youth in the Ramona Gardens public housing development in Boyle Heights, that included renaming the youth football program the North East Lincoln Rams. As part of the partnership, the Rams fund all football components of the program, including uniforms and equipment. The team also provides engagement opportunities with current players, alumni, coaches, scouts and the football operations staff, as well as develop programs that focus on character development and community service to expand their knowledge and ignite their passions beyond the playing field.

Rams Readers and Ride with Rampage

To kick off the Rams Readers literacy program and in celebration of Read Across America Day, the Rams announced "Ride with Rampage," a book that takes readers on a journey throughout Los Angeles before reaching SoFi Stadium for game day. As part of the announcement, the Rams hosted outdoor reading sessions of the book for local first through third grade students. Additionally, first through third grade students in Inglewood Unified School District (IUSD) and Los Angeles Unified School District (LAUSD) received a copy of Ride with Rampage, Rams Readers crayons and an activity guide. The Rams Readers program encourages students to explore the excitement that reading can provide while helping improve literacy rates among students in the Los Angeles community. Since launching the program, the Rams have visited more than 35 schools and distributed over 7,000 copies of Ride with Rampage to first through third grade students in IUSD and LAUSD. In addition, the program has expanded to serve schools in Conejo Valley Unified School District, Las Virgenes Unified School District, Lawndale Elementary School District, Lennox Elementary School District, Pleasant Valley Elementary School District and West Covina Unified School District.

LA Promise Fund Internship Program

In 2018, the Rams created a summer internship program for students from Inglewood Unified School District. In 2019, the Rams broadened the internship program to include additional public high schools from various districts. As part of the internship selection process, interested students submit their resumes and participate in professional interviews with team executives. The Rams' summer internship program exposes students to opportunities in a professional setting, while expanding their skills, experiences and network as they prepare for college or to enter the workforce following high school or college graduation. The LA Promise Fund Internship has provided more than 40 local students, 72 percent were first generation college students, with work-based learning opportunities.

Paid Internship Program for Formerly Incarcerated Young Adults

The Rams Fellows program was created jointly by the Rams and Bank of America and is designed to support young adults from under-resourced communities by providing access to mentorship and workforce experience to develop critical job skills, a professional network and career pathways. Bank of America's funding not only provides monthly stipends to the fellows, but also covers the costs of corporate housing, subsidized transportation, and financial education coaches for each fellow. Over the past two years, both organizations have worked with Brotherhood Crusade, Anti-Recidivism Coalition and The RightWay Foundation to identify candidates for this unique opportunity.

Kickoff for Charity

Every year, the Rams host a Kickoff for Charity event to celebrate the start of the football season and raise funds to benefit the Los Angeles community. This signature event features a "State of the Rams" address from Rams COO Kevin Demoff, a community chat with a Rams charitable partner, and a season preview from Rams Head Coach Sean McVay. Kickoff for Charity allows fans and sponsors to be seated at tables alongside their favorite Rams players. Attendees have the chance to bid on unique auction items and receive autographed gifts.

WalkUnitedLA

In 2022, the Rams and United Way of Greater Los Angeles teamed up to host the 15th annual WalkUnitedLA 5K at SoFi Stadium. The largest annual event to end homelessness, WalkUnitedLA works to address the intersectional causes of poverty and benefit the diverse community organizations working to build a more equitable Los Angeles. The event included live entertainment featuring Rams Cheerleaders, team mascot Rampage, DJ Mal-Ski and stories from those who formerly experienced homelessness. In addition, Rams Legend Andrew Whitworth, 2022 Walter Payton Man of the Year and Super Bowl LVI Champion, was the honorary chair for WalkUnitedLA. Last year, WalkUnitedLA rallied together 10,000 Angelenos and raised more than $1.3 million.

Taste of the Rams

In 2016, the Rams introduced Taste of the Rams, an annual event where attendees can sample food from top Los Angeles restaurants, bid on an array of items, and meet the participating chefs as well as Rams players and cheerleaders. All proceeds from Taste of the Rams benefit the Los Angeles Regional Food Bank in support of their mission to combat hunger in LA County.

The Food Bank helped in kicking off the 2022 Taste of the Rams event, presented by Don Lee Farms and Bank of America, with recurring honorary chair, receiver and Super Bowl LVI MVP Cooper Kupp, joined by members of the Rams' 2022 rookie class. NFL Network's Andrew Siciliano hosted guests as the emcee throughout the event. Attendees enjoyed samples of LA's finest food from our city's award-winning chefs. Since the event's inception, Taste of the Rams has raised more than $1.2 million and provided more than four million meals for food insecure Angelenos.

Rams partner with City Year

City Year is a national organization that places young adult AmeriCorps members alongside teachers in systemically under-resourced schools to improve academic outcomes and provide social and emotional support for students. The "student success coaches" serve full-time for a year. Since 2017, the Rams have funded a City Year student success team to support students at Grape Street Elementary in Watts, Crozier Middle School in Inglewood and Florence Griffith Joyner Elementary in Watts. The Rams also have led school beautification projects at Dymally High School, Crozier Middle School and Woodworth-Monroe K-8 Academy in partnership with City Year.

A Crucial Catch

After nearly a decade of supporting breast cancer, the NFL and the American Cancer Society (ACS) continue to expand their efforts to support the fight against cancer. The NFL's Crucial Catch campaign aims to fight cancer through early detection and risk reduction. Every season, each NFL team raises awareness during their Crucial Catch game. Last season, during the week leading up to the Rams' Crucial Catch game, presented by Cedars-Sinai Medical Center, against the Carolina Panthers at SoFi Stadium, team mascot Rampage surprised 11 cancer fighters and survivors at their homes to present them with personalized jerseys and tickets to the game. As part of the effort, Rams Legend Chris Draft joined a few of the surprises. During the Crucial Catch game, the 11 "Crucial Catch Captains" were recognized on the field during halftime. Since 2009, the league has raised more than $24 million for the American Cancer Society.

Salute to Service

As part of the Rams' year-round military appreciation efforts, Salute to Service Week returned for a fifth consecutive year with activities that culminated with the team's Salute to Service game against the Arizona Cardinals last season. Throughout the week, the Rams partnered with veteran service organizations and nonprofits to support the military community and honor, empower and connect with service members, veterans and their families.

The Rams and Rocket Mortgage teamed up to renovate the group room at U.S. VETS-Inglewood. Rams mascot Ramage, Rams Cheerleaders and front office staff joined Rocket Mortgage volunteers and U.S. VETS staff to repaint, update and redecorate the group room. The Rams and Rocket Mortgage provided new flooring, lighting and furniture for the space. Following the beautification project, the Rams provided lunch from Dickey's Barbecue Pit for veterans, their families and community supporters. The refurbished group room was unveiled with a Camo Ribbon-Cutting Ceremony. In addition, veterans in attendance received tickets to Sunday's Salute to Service game, courtesy of Rocket Mortgage.

In partnership with Bob Hope USO, members of the Rams' 2022 rookie class joined Rams Cheerleaders and mascot Ramage to deliver Operation Gratitude Care Packages to more than 150 U.S. Coast Guardsmen at the Los Angeles/Long Beach base. The care packages contained handwritten letters of gratitude, snacks, hygiene products and handmade items.

In continuation of the team's 2022 Salute to Service Week efforts, Rams Cheerleaders and mascot Ramage packed welcome home kits for 50 veterans experiencing homelessness who were soon moving into 11010 smB, the Weingart Center's newest permanent supportive housing development for seniors and Veterans experiencing homelessness. Each welcome home kit included pillows, courtesy of Sleep Number, as well as household essentials and cleaning supplies provided by the Rams.

On Saturday, Nov. 12, the Rams hosted TAPS families of fallen service members, LCpl Matthew Ehrlich and SPC Luis E. Llamas, Jr., at the team's walkthrough. The following day, the Rams recognized the two families as the 'Heroes Among Us' honorees during the first quarter.

For the team's Salute to Service game on Sunday, Nov. 13, more than 50 members of Merging Vets & Players (M.V.P.) and the 211th Inland Cargo Transportation Company held the full field American flag during the national anthem.

PLAY 60

PLAY 60 is an NFL initiative that aims to create a healthier next generation and tackle childhood obesity by encouraging kids to be active for at least 60 minutes every day. Through the Rams' year-long engagement of youth fitness initiatives with in-school, after-school and team-based programs, the club is committed to expanding this platform and improving health and wellness for local youth. A key component of the Rams' PLAY 60 platform is the team's PLAY 60 Field Days. Designed to take the Rams to school campuses and parks throughout the region and get students excited about exercising, the PLAY 60 Field Days are a fun way to get the entire student body active and moving. The day kicks off with a character education chat, followed by 60-90 minutes of physical activity.

Make-A-Wish® Foundation

The Rams and the Make-A-Wish® Foundation have a longstanding partnership dating back to 1995. Over the years, the two organizations have hosted the “LA Rams Night of Wishes” to raise money to help grant the wishes of children who are battling life-threatening medical conditions. In 2022, former Rams kicker Matt Gay, offensive tackle Rob Havenstein, tight end Tyler Higbee, and wide receiver Van Jefferson co-hosted the fundraiser’s VIP cocktail reception. Following the reception, NFL Network’s Andrew Siciliano hosted the onstage programming. The event featured a silent auction, VIP cocktail reception, dinner and entertainment. Rams wide receiver Ben Skowronek, former tight end Jacob Harris and members of the Rams’ 2022 rookie class were in attendance to participate in the event’s programming. Over the past four years, the “Rams Night for Wishes” has raised more than $2 million and helped to grant over 200 wishes for children.

In April 2022, the Rams teamed up with Make-A-Wish® Tri-Counties to grant the wish of a local high school student and cancer fighter, Diego Garcia. Former Rams running back Jake Funk, receiver Ben Skowronek, tight end Jacob Harris, Director of Strength and Conditioning Justin Lovett as well as members of his staff surprised Diego with a new home gym to help his journey to recovery. The Rams also provided Diego with a TV, Bluetooth speaker, weight belt, team-branded gear, and a $500 Dicks Sporting Goods gift card.

Fuel Up to PLAY 60

Created in partnership with the NFL and National Dairy Council, Fuel Up to PLAY 60 is a leading national in-school health and wellness program with a primary focus on helping schools meet their wellness goals and encouraging youth to consume nutrient-rich foods. Developed by Fuel Up to PLAY 60 and the National Football League, the ‘Hometown Grant’ program provides teams and farmer-funded dairy organizations the opportunity to identify deserving schools and districts to provide with funding to help meet their health and wellness needs and goals. Since returning to Los Angeles in 2016, the Rams have helped award more than $70,000 in FUTP 60 Hometown Grants to schools throughout the Los Angeles region.

In September 2022, the Rams and Dairy Council of California teamed up to present Culver City Unified School District (CCUSD) with a $10,000 Fuel Up to Play 60 Hometown Grant during the Dairy Council of California’s Mobile Dairy Classroom Assembly at Farragut Elementary School in celebration of World School Milk Day. The original farm-to-school program, the free Mobile Dairy Classroom Assembly originated in Southern California in the 1930s and teaches students about where their food comes from in a unique way – by bringing a real-life cow to students. In February 2021, the Rams and FUTP provided Los Angeles Unified School District (LAUSD) with a $10,000 Hometown Grant to expand student health and wellness in partnership with America’s Dairy Farmers. The grant was awarded during a virtual school assembly for 96th Street Elementary students and featured former Rams punter Johnny Hekker.

Academic Challenge

The Rams know that football develops strong character, as well as physical and mental health and wellness. The same standard holds for excellence in the classroom. Since 2017, the Rams have collaborated with USA Football to host the Los Angeles Rams High School Football Academic Challenge to encourage academic achievement amongst more than 45 local varsity high school football programs. Throughout the Academic Challenge, each team participates in weekly study halls and monitors their academic progress. The teams with the highest grade point average and most improved grade point average receive an equipment grant on behalf of USA Football.

Last season's Rams Academic Challenge, in partnership with Los Angeles Unified School District (LAUSD), featured more than 315 participants from nine varsity high school football programs. In October 2022, the Rams hosted a Leadership Workshop for eight Academic Challenge participants from each school in the team's locker room at SoFi Stadium. The workshop featured a leadership conversation led by motivational speaker Eric Thomas and Rams defensive back Cobie Durant. At the end of the season, the teams with the highest grade point average, Helen Bernstein High School, and most improved grade point average, MaCES Magnet School, received a $2,500 equipment grant on behalf of USA Football. Verdugo Hills High School and Caesar E. Chavez Learning Academies were the runners-up for both categories and both programs received $1,500 equipment grants. Since its launch, the Academic Challenge has provided varsity football programs from Los Angeles Unified School District (LAUSD) and Inglewood Unified School District (IUSD) with more than $30,000.

Los Angeles League of Champions Girls Flag Football

In 2021, the Rams and Chargers launched the Los Angeles Girls Flag Football League of Champions. The Rams and Chargers co-sponsored high school teams and provided uniforms (courtesy of Nike), stipends for coaches, coaching manuals, officials, athletic trainers, equipment and transportation for the season. The program was created to offer more opportunities for young women to engage in football. The program started with eight teams and 96 players, and expanded to 16 teams and more than 400 players during the second season.

The Rams and Chargers culminated the second season of the Los Angeles Girls Flag Football League of Champions with a co-hosted Super Bowl, supported by USA Football and Nike, and fueled by Gatorade, earlier this year. A total of 14 teams competed in a 7-on-7 single-game elimination tournament with Junipero Serra High School coming out victorious.

On Friday, February 3, 2023, California Interscholastic Federation (CIF) sanctioned girls' flag football in high schools across California. This achievement allows young women across our state to continue to pursue their passion, elevate football to the next level, and become future leaders in sports and in the community.

Beyond the Bell Rams Flag League

In 2021, the Rams partnered with Beyond the Bell (BTB) after-school sports league to launch a flag football league for Los Angeles Unified School District (LAUSD) middle school students. The league operates at 110 LAUSD middle schools and has more than 5,000 student-participants. The Rams provided reversible jerseys, flag football kits, footballs, flag belts and kicking tees to each school participating in the Beyond the Bell Flag Football League. In addition, the Rams host free flag football clinics throughout the season.

Inglewood Rams

The Rams adopted the Inglewood Parks and Recreation Flag Football League in 2019, renaming the program the Inglewood Rams. The league consists of four divisions and 26 teams with 300 youth participants (ages 5-12). Each team is named after one of the Rams' current players (i.e. Team Stafford, Team Donald, Team Kupp). The Rams fund all football components of the Inglewood Rams program, including uniforms and equipment.

RISE with the Rams

For the past six seasons, the Rams have teamed up with RISE for a season-long leadership and community building program featuring local high school football programs with a cross-section of ethnic and socioeconomic backgrounds. The initiative is designed to harness the unifying power of sports and build relationships, leadership, understanding, acceptance and cultural competency for student-athletes and coaches. In 2022, the program featured six sessions for varsity football teams from Bell High School, Los Angeles High School, Oaks Christian School and Simi Valley High School. Since 2018, the Rams and RISE have engaged more than 20 high school football teams throughout the greater Los Angeles region through the RISE with the Rams program.

Sean McVay's Chalk Talk

In 2021 for the second consecutive year, Rams head coach Sean McVay led a virtual Chalk Talk leadership summit for over 150 high school football coaches from schools throughout Southern California and more than 2.7k viewers. During the hour-long session, McVay discussed his coaching journey and leadership philosophies while encouraging the high school coaches to establish a sound culture for their programs and realize the impact they have on their athletes. Since June 2020, McVay has engaged with more than 370 Southern California high school football coaches with his Chalk Talks.

Virtual Mental Health Series

The Rams partner with EVERFI's Character Playbook to host a virtual Mental Health Series for students in the Los Angeles region. The students (grades 6-9) join multiple 45-minute virtual panel discussions featuring Rams players, Rams Cheerleaders, Rams Legends and Rams Sports Psychologist Carrie Hastings. The series focuses on defining mental health, differentiating between stress and anxiety, and learning tips on managing mental health in everyday life.

Free Youth Football Camps and Clinics

The Rams partner with local nonprofits and youth football programs to host free football clinics throughout Southern California. Youth participate in football-related drills and competitions. The clinics also feature character education sessions that focus on transferrable life skills attained through sport and teamwork.

In celebration of Women's History Month, the Rams hosted nine free girls' flag football clinics for local elementary, middle and high school students. During the clinics, attendees participated in football-related drills and competitions led by women from the Los Angeles Legends Sports Organization. Additionally, Rams staff members and Nike representatives participated in panel discussions about their experiences playing sports and how the skills they gained as athletes translate to working as women in professional sports.

In 2022, the Rams, Health Net and LA Care partnered with Los Angeles Unified School District (LAUSD) and Los Angeles Department of Public Health to promote COVID-19 vaccination awareness and education for students and faculty. Throughout the 2021 season, the team hosted football clinics, grab-n-go food distributions and COVID-19 vaccination clinics for LAUSD students.

Rams partner with Watts-Native STIX

For the fourth consecutive year, a Watts native, rapper, producer and the founder of the Thinkwatts Foundation, Brandon "STIX" Salaam-Bailey, teamed up with the Rams to address social injustices. Last season, the Rams and the NFL worked with the Thinkwatts Foundation to host an event for community members in the Watts neighborhood. As a part of the evening, the NFL and Little Caesars recognized the great work being done by local community leaders by providing the Thinkwatts Foundation with a $125,000 grant to support programs and initiatives led by the community leaders in Watts and surrounding areas. In addition, during the Rams Week 16 Inspire Change game against the Denver Broncos, the team announced STIX as their recipient of the inaugural 2022 Inspire Change Changemaker Award. The league's Inspire Change Changemaker Award recognizes individuals who are making a difference in their communities through social justice work, either individually or as part of a nonprofit organization, across each of the NFL's 32 club markets.

In 2020, STIX produced an original song titled "It Takes All Of Us," which was one of the phrases highlighted by the NFL for their continued commitment to social justice. Rams team captains selected the phrase to be on the helmet sticker for the 2020 season. The music video, filmed in Inglewood, Watts and South Los Angeles, debuted during the Rams virtual Kickoff for Charity event. All proceeds generated by the event supported the team's efforts to help bridge the digital divide disproportionately impacting under-resourced students in Los Angeles. In addition, the Rams and STIX produced a PSA featuring players reading an original spoken-word piece written by STIX. The PSA debuted before the opening game at SoFi Stadium against the Dallas Cowboys on Sunday Night Football. Last season, the Rams partnered with Stix, Sisters of Watts, Eastside Riders and the Watts Rams to host a holiday distribution event for families in need.

My Cause My Cleats

For the seventh consecutive season, Rams players brought awareness to charitable causes as part of the NFL's My Cause My Cleats campaign. During the 2022 season, 28 Rams players and 16 coaches supported the league's initiative. Organizations supported include American Cancer Society, Down Syndrome Foundation, Make-A-Wish Foundation, RISE, Special Olympics of Southern California and many more.

Los Angeles Rams Community Service Team

In partnership with UNIFY Financial Credit Union and City Year of Los Angeles, the Rams led a school beautification project at Inglewood Unified School District's Woodworth-Monroe K-8 Academy in March 2022. The beautification project kicked off the Rams Community Service Team, powered by UNIFY, which unites Rams fans through service opportunities and encourage civic engagement in the Los Angeles community. Throughout the year, the Community Service Team coordinate service events that include support from Rams players, coaches, staff and volunteers who serve shoulder to shoulder to inspire change and make a lasting impact in Los Angeles.

Staff Days of Service

Each month, the Rams front office staff takes time out of the office to volunteer with local nonprofits. Since returning home to Los Angeles in 2016, Rams staff members have provided more than 11,000 hours of community service, impacting 50 local nonprofits and 70 schools (as of May 2023) through the Staff Days of Service program.

Community Involvement Project

The cornerstone volunteer effort of the Staff Day of Service program is the team's Annual Community Improvement Project. Rams players, coaches, Rams Cheerleaders and staff unite to assist a local nonprofit, school or community in need. Since returning home to Los Angeles, the team has funded and built a new playground and completed mural projects for elementary schools in Inglewood, Watts, South Central and East LA.

Annual Community Blitz Day of Service

The cornerstone volunteer effort of the Staff Days of Service program is the team's annual Community Blitz. Since 2018, Rams players, cheerleaders, mascot Rampage, and front office staff have participated in annual Community Blitz days of service that have helped distribute holiday meals and gift cards to more than 10,000 Southern California residents battling food insecurity, host shopping sprees for hundreds of children served by local nonprofits and hospitals, as well as host holiday parties and gift distributions for communities in need.

Last season, the Rams partnered with Nickelodeon to host a shopping spree for 100 youth (ages 5-14) served by The Salvation Army. Rams players, Rams Cheerleaders and staff members were paired with a child and take them shopping to purchase up to $200 in holiday gifts, courtesy of the Rams. In addition, the team partnered with Albertsons/Vons/Pavilions, Pepsi and the Los Angeles Regional Food Bank to host a large-scale, walk-up food distribution at Ted Watkins Memorial Park in Watts. Holiday meals and nutritious food were displayed on tables and more than 700 Angelenos in need had the opportunity to select the items they wanted to take home. During the event, Rams tight end Tyler Higbee, Rams Cheerleaders, Rampage, front office staff members, LA Regional Food Bank, Albertsons/Vons/Pavilions and Pepsi volunteers greeted visitors and helped replenish the food tables. To close out the team's Community Blitz efforts, Rams players, Rams Cheerleaders and staff members served a holiday meal to more than 300 St. Joseph Center clients.

Rams Official Auction Site

In 2020, the organization launched Rams Auctions, an official auction site where fans can bid on Rams memorabilia, game-worn gear, autographed items and more. All proceeds from the auction sales and donations benefit the Los Angeles Rams Foundation to support the team's community outreach programs. To kick off bidding on the site, fans had a chance to bid on a replica of the Knot Standard suit designed by running back Cam Akers that he wore to his NFL debut at SoFi Stadium. The auction site has raised $150,000 (as of May 2023).

Certified #RamsHouse

In 2020, the Rams launched the Certified #RamsHouse program to support businesses throughout the Los Angeles region. The Rams focus efforts on the small businesses of Season Ticket Members and Black-owned businesses in Inglewood and throughout Los Angeles. Each Certified #RamsHouse receives branded window decals, banners, shirts, hats and other items to showcase their Rams pride. As part of the program, Rams fans are encouraged to visit Certified #RamsHouse businesses on preferred days and share their experiences on social media using #RamsHouse. Since the launch of the Certified #RamsHouse program, the team has supported 83 local businesses and 41 small businesses in Inglewood.

50/50 Raffle

Since 2017, Rams fans have had the opportunity to purchase 50/50 raffle tickets on game day. The winner receives half (50%) of the jackpot total from the game's raffle ticket sales and the other half (50%) benefits the Los Angeles Rams Foundation. When the Rams clinched the NFC West division during the 2021 season, the team's 50/50 Raffle raised a total of $342,975, which set the new NFL record and broke the previous record of $332,110 set during Super Bowl LIV. The Rams also broke the league's single-season 50/50 Raffle record by surpassing $1.7 million in 2021. Previously, the record was $1.6 million set by the Eagles three years ago.

Rams Commitment to Social Justice

Addressing Community-Police Relations and Mentorship

The Rams goal in the following programs is to spark a healthy relationship with communication between the people of Los Angeles and those in law enforcement roles. By having more communication outside of law infraction and emergency situations, the hope is that an avenue of communication without fear involved will be given to these two groups.

The Watts Rams

The Watts Rams, a youth football program coached by LAPD officers, was adopted by the LA Rams in 2019. The Rams fund all football components of the program, including uniforms and equipment. The Rams also provide engagement opportunities with current players, alumni, coaches, scouts, as well as business and football operations staff. The two football organizations develop joint programs that focus on character development and community service.

Operation Progress and "Fighting For Light, The Concrete Rose"

On December 28th 2020, The Los Angeles Rams and Pepsi, in partnership with Albertsons/Vons/Pavilions, Operation Progress and content creators Shamrock Studio / DLP Media Group, launched "Fighting For Light, The Concrete Rose," a short film that tells the inspiring story of amateur boxer Meryland Gonzalez, a 14-year-old Watts Native and nine-time national boxing champion determined to thrive in the face of difficult surroundings. The film tells the story of a rose growing in Watts, California. A rose that blooms in the most adverse of conditions, but blooms, nonetheless. Helping along the way is Operation Progress (OP), a non-profit organization whose mission is to empower underserved youth to become educated, ethical and productive adults who reach their full potential and positively contribute to society. Watts-native Brandon "Stix" Salaam-Bailey composed and performed the vocal track for the film. This film builds on the work the Rams and Operation Progress have done together, including a virtual five-week character development series for middle school students in Watts that was hosted this past fall. Each week, Rams players joined Operation Progress scholars to explore different character traits such as personal responsibility, perseverance and self-discipline. The Rams' head of security, Dave Love, who spent 28 years with LAPD and served as an Operation Progress mentor, conceived and spearheaded the program. The Rams players also awarded Operation Progress with a $30,000 social justice grant to help fund their monthly grocery program. One of the film's highlights shows Love with Los Angeles Rams Head Coach Sean McVay surprising Meryland with a game ball over Zoom.

Addressing Homelessness

With more than 66,000 homeless Angelenos, homelessness is a defining issue of Los Angeles and something the Rams refuse to turn a blind eye to. That's why the team has chosen to join the fight against homelessness. Whether it's single mothers and families, military veterans or people who have fallen on hard times because of a loss of job or medical crisis, homelessness has many faces. Unfortunately, many of those faces are Black. While blacks represent only 9 percent of Los Angeles County, they represent 1/3 of the homeless population in Los Angeles. In addition to serving as the presenting sponsor of United Way's HomeWalk, the nation's largest event to end homelessness, we work with local non-profits throughout the year to serve our homeless neighbors in need.

Los Angeles Rams And Rocket Mortgage Kick Off Partnership By Supporting Local Vets

To introduce the partnership to the Los Angeles area, and build on both organizations' long-standing commitments to honoring servicemen and women, the Rams and Rocket Mortgage teamed up around the NFL's Salute to Service platform. On Friday, November 13 the Rams and Rocket Mortgage worked together to beautify the Inglewood, Calif., location of U.S. VETS, the nation's largest veteran services nonprofit which has decades-long roots in the LA area. As part of the effort, the new partners completely refreshed the location's outdoor space and brought the spirit of the Rams House to U.S. VETS. U.S. VETS provides housing, counseling, career services and comprehensive support to 5,500 veterans and their families.

Te'LA'thon

The Los Angeles Rams hosted a virtual "Te'LA'thon," on Tuesday March 24th, 2020 to assist Southern California response efforts during an unprecedented global health crisis. All contributions benefitted the United Way of Greater Los Angeles' Pandemic Relief Fund in direct support of community partners including Los Angeles Regional Food Bank. The UWGLA's Pandemic Relief Fund also provided immediate relief to low-income individuals, students and families at imminent risk of homelessness as well as the unsheltered residents across LA County who are experiencing disproportionate hardship due to health and economic impacts of coronavirus (COVID-19). Relief programs include providing low-income students crucial access to technology for continued academic instruction, supplying medical and hygiene materials to shelters and healthcare providers and working to meet the city's evolving demand for food assistance.

Addressing Food Insecurities

The Rams have partnered with Los Angeles Regional Food Bank in countless ways, including introducing the Taste of the Rams in 2016 to raise money to address the food insecurity of 1 in 5 Angelenos (prior to COVID-19). The fifth annual Taste of the Rams event went virtual this year, attracting more than 400 Angelenos and raising more than $100,000 to benefit the Los Angeles Regional Food Bank. To date, this annual event has raised $750,000, which is enough for the Food Bank to provide 3 million meals to neighbors in need. Rams Receiver Cooper Kupp served as this year's Honorary Chair and recruited teammates such as Quarterbacks Jared Goff and John Wolford, Receiver Van Jefferson and Safety Terrell Burgess to virtually come together to help raise funds in support of the Food Bank's mission to combat hunger in Los Angeles. NFL Network's Andrew Siciliano hosted the virtual event and longtime supporter of the LA Regional Food Bank, Rossoblu and Superfine Pizza Chef Steve Samson, served as the evening's chef. 1 in 5 people in LA County are faced with food insecurity. It's estimated that 2 million people in our community may not know where their next meal is coming from. Thanks to financial and food donations, volunteers and community events such as the Taste of the Rams, the LA Regional Food Bank can feed more than 900,000 LA residents every month.

Rams Commitment to Social Justice

Addressing Social Change Through Sport With A1liance: Los Angeles

In a historic collaboration to pursue change in communities of color and develop meaningful programs, the 11 professional sports organizations in Los Angeles County and Orange County joined together to launch - The ALLIANCE: Los Angeles, a comprehensive five-year commitment to drive investment and impact for social justice through sport. Following the recent protests nationwide, the 11 teams united to address racial injustice, develop educational opportunities, and support other important issues facing communities of color, particularly Black communities. The 11 teams will advocate for social justice, address disparities and take actions to help end racial inequality. This commitment includes supporting the Play Equity Fund's social justice movement in Los Angeles, and in Orange County amplifying the work of Accelerate Change Together (ACT) Anaheim, which was formed in 2013. These innovative and positive models of engagement are aimed to inspire similar actions throughout the nation.

Rams and Corona Extra Celebrate Frontline Healthcare Heroes for Superbowl LVI

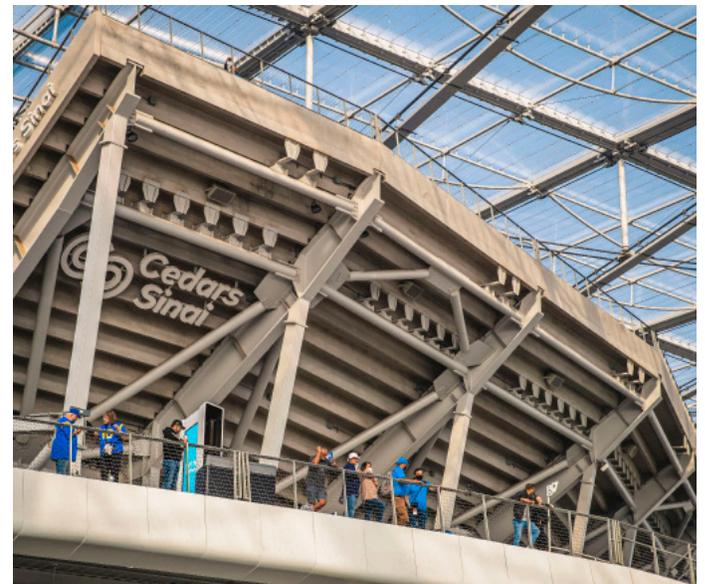

On Super Bowl Sunday, the Rams teamed up with Corona Extra to donate meals and gameday watch kits to frontline healthcare heroes at Cedars-Sinai. As part of the effort, Corona Extra collaborated with the Rams to provide meals for more than 1,000 doctors, nurses and other staff as they continue to work around the clock combating the spread of COVID-19. Rams Defensive Lineman Michael Brockers and team mascot Rampage recorded their own "thank you" video message that was delivered to 16 Cedars-Sinai healthcare heroes along with gameday watch kits that featured personalized Rams jerseys, t-shirts, co-branded hats, a Postmates gift card and more.

Hollywood Park Opens as Vaccination Site for Teachers and District Staff

Hollywood Park alongside Los Angeles Unified School District (LAUSD), Cedars-Sinai, and Anthem Blue Cross partnered together for the opening of the Hollywood Park vaccination site for teachers and district staff. The site was available to all teachers and education staff from LAUSD, who serve nearly 650,000 students across more than 700 miles, as well as LA County charter schools in efforts to reopen schools in the safest way possible. Rams Left Tackle Andrew Whitworth and Linebacker Kenny Young attended the event and shared a few remarks about their passion for assisting the Los Angeles community during this time.

Story of the

LOS ANGELES RAMS

1937 On Feb. 13, the National Football League granted a Cleveland franchise to Homer Marshman and Associates, a prominent group of local businessmen. Another Rams team in Cleveland played in the American Football League in 1936 and finished with a 5-2-2 record, second best in the league. Hugo Bezdek was named head coach of the new NFL franchise. Rams finished with 1-10 record. Their home games were played in Municipal Stadium and League Park. Bob Kelley was the radio play-by-play announcer.

1938 The assistant coach Art Lewis took over the team after three losses at the start of the season. The Rams won the first three under Lewis but finished with a 4-7 record. The home games were played in Shaw Stadium, named after the high school on Shaw Avenue in Cleveland.

1939 Earl (Dutch) Clark became the Rams head coach. The Rams finished with a 5-5-1 record. Parker Hall joined the team as a rookie tailback and won the Joe Carr Trophy as the NFL's official Most Valuable Player. The trophy was named after the NFL president. Hall was the first Ram to earn First Team All-Pro Honors.

1940 Rams finished with a 4-6-1 record. Fullback Johnny (Zero) Drake was voted the All-NFL First Team.

1941 Daniel F. Reeves and Fred Levy Jr., purchased the Rams in June and hired Billy Evans as the general manager. The Rams won the first two games but lost the next nine. They finished fifth in the NFL West.

1942 Evans resigned before the season. Charles (Chile) Walsh replaced Art Lewis as the assistant coach. Bob Kelley was named the club secretary. After three seasons in the Municipal Stadium, the Rams returned to play all home games in the League Park. The team finished with a record of 5-6. Clark resigned as the head coach after the season with a record of 16-26-2.

1943 Chile Walsh was named the head coach. The NFL granted the Rams permission to suspend operations for one season due to wartime restrictions and shortages. On April 16, Reeves bought out Levy. Riley Matheson was an All-NFL selection.

1944 Chile Walsh became the general manager. Chile appointed Aldo (Buff) Donelli as the head coach. Donelli previously was the Pittsburgh Steelers' head coach and Duquesne University's head coach at the same time. The Rams finished the season with a record of 4-6-0.

1945 Donelli joined the military. Walsh named his brother, Adam Walsh, as head coach. Bob Waterfield, a third-round future draft choice in 1944 from UCLA, joins the team as quarterback. He led the Rams to 9-1 season and to their first NFL West title. The Rams defeated the Washington Redskins for NFL championship. Waterfield became the first player to receive e unanimous vote for the NFL Most Valuable Player award. Walsh was named coach of the year. Riley Matheson, Jim Benton, Eberle Schultz and Jim Gillette received All-Pro Honors. Eddie Kotal joined the team as the NFL's first, fulltime college scout. Benton caught 10 passes for a record of 303 yards in Detroit. Benton's mark stood as the NFL's record for 40 years. It was broken by Chiefs' Stephone Paige, who had 309 yards in 1985 game against San Diego.

1946 Reeves received approval to move the franchise to Los Angeles on January 11th. The Rams signed halfback Kenny Washington and end Woody Strode. They were the first African-American players in the modern NFL. They joined the team one year before Jackie Robinson broke baseball color barriers with the Brooklyn Dodgers. After 6-4-1 season, both Walshes resigned.

1947 Reeves conducted the duties of the general manager. Bob Snyder was named the head coach with Joe Stydahar as the new assistant. The team finished the season with a 6-6 record. Reeves sold part interest to former partner Levy, Edwin, Harold Pauley, and Hal Seley.

1948 Clark Shaughnessy joined the staff as the advisory coach. Snyder resigned September 3rd and Shaughnessy became the head coach. Rams were the first professional franchise with a team insignia or logo on their helmet. They introduced the headgear with painted Rams horns. This was designed by halfback Fred Gehrke, an industrial design artist in the off-season. By 1960, All Pro Teams except Cleveland have logos on their helmets. The team won four of the last five games with a 6-5-1 record.

1949 The Rams won the first six games of the season, capped by a 27-24 victory over the Chicago Bears. They won their first NFL West title since moving from Cleveland. They lost to the Philadelphia Eagles in the NFL title game.

1950 The NFL added the All-America Football Conference. The Rams was the lone Pro Team in Los Angeles after four years of the two-league existence. In February, Stydahar became the head coach, replacing Shaughnessy. The team set 22 league records and tied in the conference for the title. Waterfield and Tom Fears led the Rams to a 24-14 Divisional Playoff win over the Chicago Bears. The following week the Rams lost to Cleveland after Lou Groza's late field goal attempt (30-28). Waterfield was named the NFL Player of Year by Washington D.C. Touchdown Club.

1951 The Rams won the third straight NFL West title on the final day of season. They defeated Cleveland at the Coliseum, 24-17, on a 73-yard pass. This marked the first NFL Title since moving to Los Angeles.

Wendell Tyler rushes for 1,074 yards and ties Elroy Hirsch's club record of 17 touchdowns in a season. Rams sell out first seven regular season games at Anaheim Stadium.

1982 The NFL players' strike cancelled seven games. The Rams finished last in the NFC with 2-7 record. QB Bert Jones was acquired on a Draft Day trade from Baltimore but missed the last five games due to a neck injury. In Jones place, Vince Ferragamo threw for 509 yards vs. Chicago. This marked the second highest passing yards in the league's history. Following the season Ray Malavasi was dismissed as the head coach.

1983 The Rams owner Georgia Frontiere hired former USC Coach, John Robinson in February. Robinson engineered a dozen off-season trades. Eric Dickerson was drafted in the first round in April. Robinson installed a new offense (single back) and a new defense (3-4-4). The Rams finished the season 9-7 and entered the playoffs as a wild card team. Dickerson broke the NFL rookie rushing record (1,808 yards), set five Ram records, and was All-Pro. Robinson was named the NFC coach of the year.

1984 The Rams made the playoffs in back-to-back seasons after they finished with a 10-6 record. The Rams hosted their first playoff game at Anaheim Stadium. Eric Dickerson rushed for 2,105 yards which broke O.J. Simpson's NFL record (2,003). Jack Youngblood set the Ram's record for most consecutive games played (201). QB Jeff Kemp replaced injured Vince Ferragamo in Week 3 and led the team to nine wins during the season. Dickerson was named the NFC Player of the Year.

1985 The Rams' lost to the Chicago Bears in the NFC Championship Game. The defense and special teams played prominent roles in the 11-5 regular season. Ron Brown had two kickoff returns for touchdowns against Green Bay. This tied the NFL record in Week 12. Eric Dickerson rushed for 248 yards. This set a NFL playoff record and marked the Rams' first playoff win at Anaheim Stadium. Nine Rams made the NFC Pro Bowl team.

1986 The Rams made the playoffs for the fourth consecutive year after a 10-6 regular-season record. The Rams acquired rookie QB Jim Everett from Houston. Everett threw three touchdown passes in his debut against the Patriots. Eric Dickerson surpassed former Ram RB Lawrence McCutcheon as the team's All-Time leading rusher with 6,968 yards in only four seasons.

1987 The Rams failed to make the playoffs for the first time since 1982 with 6-9 record. The NFL players' strike shortened the season by 1990 Henry Ellard, (most receptions with 412 and yards with 7,037), and Jackie Slater (most games played with 209) set Ram records as the team finished with a 5-11 record.

1991 The Rams finished a 3-13 season. The franchise lost a record of 10 games in a row to close out the season. John Robinson resigned as the head coach prior to the organization's last regular season game. T Jackie Slater became the first player in Ram history to play 16 seasons. The Rams failed to have a player named to the NFL Pro Bowl for the first time since the game's inception in 1950.

1992 The Rams hired former head coach Chuck Knox (1973-77) as their head coach and replaced John Robinson. Rams selected DT Sean Gilbert, from the University of Pittsburgh as their third choice in the first round. By doubling its victory total from the previous season, the Rams finished 6-10. Kevin Greene was named to All-Pro first team.

1993 NFL and Player Association representatives agreed on a new free agency system for players with 5 years or more experience. The Rams selected RB Jerome Bettis from the University of Notre Dame with their 10th pick in the first round of the draft. Bettis earned Rookie of the Year honors after rushing for 1,429 yards (2nd in NFL) including 212 yards at New Orleans in 23-20 Rams' victory.

year with 119 receptions for 1,781 yards. Jackie Slater became the first player in NFL history to play 20 seasons with one team by starting against Carolina. He set an offensive linemen record for games played (258).

1996 The Rams traded DE Sean Gilbert to Washington for the sixth overall pick in the 1996 draft. The organization swapped RB Jerome Bettis to Pittsburgh for a second-round selection in the 1996 draft and a fourth-round pick in the 1997 draft. The team's administration moved training camp from Maryville University in suburban St. Louis to Western Illinois University in Macomb. S Keith Lyle tied for the most interceptions in the league (9).

1998 Defensive coordinator Bud Carson announced his retirement. Dick Vermeil named one game. The Rams acquired six draft choices (three No. 1 and three No. 2 over the next two years) from the Colts in a blockbuster trade for RB Eric Dickerson. Charles White took over for Dickerson and won the NFL rushing title (1,374 yards) and was named to his first Pro Bowl.

1988 The Rams made it to the playoffs for the fifth time in six seasons under John Robinson. He became the coach with the most wins in Rams' history (58). The Rams lost the NFC Wildcard Game to Minnesota after finishing with a 10-6 record. Rams tied the organization's record with 56 quarterback sacks. The Rams selected RB Gaston Green and WR Aaron Cox in the first round of the draft.

1989 The Rams finished the regular season with 11-5 record and qualified for the playoffs as a wild card entry. The Rams' 13 wins were the most since 1978. Willie "Flipper" Anderson, set a NFL record with 336 receiving yards on 15 catches. Jerry Gray returned an interception for a touchdown and was selected as the most valuable player in the Pro Bowl. Jackie Slater was the NFC Offensive Lineman of the Year for the third straight season and fifth time in his career.

1994 Rams were active in the off-season as they signed several free agents, including QB Chris Miller of Atlanta and DT Jimmie Jones of Dallas, and traded QB Jim Everett. Rams traded down in the draft and had 10 choices in the first six rounds and seven in first three. Auburn T Wayne Gandy was the organization's first pick in the draft. Rams became the first team ever to shut out Joe Montana with 16-0 win over Kansas City at Arrowhead Stadium. The team suffered their fifth consecutive losing season after losing the final seven games. Chuck Knox was relieved of his coaching duties at the end of the season.

1995 Frontiere moved the franchise to St. Louis after 49 years in Southern California. NFL owners approved the team's relocation effort with a 23-6-1 vote. They brought NFL football back to St. Louis after an eight-year absence. The league owners originally blocked the proposed move with 3-21-6 vote, March 15. Rams hired Steve Ortmyer as the Vice President/Football Operations and former Oregon coach Rich Brooks as the 19th head coach in team history. Rams greeted St. Louis with a 4-0 record to start season. Isaac Bruce produced a record-breaking Peter Giunta and John Bunting as co-defensive coordinators. The Rams defeated three AFC playoff-bound teams (Buffalo, New York Jets, New England).

1999 The Rams acquired Pro Bowl RB Marshall Faulk from Indianapolis in exchange for a second and fifth round draft choice in the 1999 draft. The Rams signed G Adam Timmerman of Green Bay, S Devin Bush of Atlanta, and LB Todd Collins of New England. The Rams drafted WR Torry Holt, from North Carolina State, in the first round (sixth overall). Green completed 28 of first 32 pass attempts before sustaining a season-ending knee injury in their third preseason game versus San Diego. Kurt Warner, a former Arena League and NFL Europe player who went undrafted out of Northern Iowa, became the starter and led the Rams to their first divisional championship since 1985. Warner was the second player in NFL history to throw for more than 40 touchdowns in one season. He was voted the NFL's Most Valuable Player. Prior to this season, Warner's only NFL experience had been in the fourth quarter of season-ending loss in 1998. Faulk was named the offensive player of the year and set a NFL record for the most total yards in a season (2,429). Faulk was the second player in NFL history (Roger Craig) with at least 1,000 rushing yards and 1,000 receiving yards in the same season.

2000 The Rams won three playoff games in January, the NFC Divisional Playoff Game and the NFC Championship Game. The Rams defeated Tennessee (23-16) in Super Bowl XXXIV on a 74-yard pass play from Warner to Isaac Bruce. The victory was not clinched until LB Mike Jones made a touchdown-saving tackle at the one-yard line on the last play. Eight Rams: Warner, Faulk, Bruce, Orlando Pace, Kevin Carter, D'Marco Farr, Adam Timmerman, and Todd Lyght were selected to the NFC Pro Bowl. Dick Vermeil retired and was replaced by assistant coach Mike Martz as the head coach. The Rams tied for the NFC West title with 10-6 record but lost in the first round of the playoffs in New Orleans. Rams scored the franchise record points (540), including a 57-point effort against San Diego where the Rams scored on every possession (6 TDs, 5 FGs). Faulk recorded the NFL-record for touchdowns (26) in 14 games. He was the unanimous choice for the NFL's Most Valuable Player. Faulk received Offensive Player of the Year for back-to-back seasons. Warner, Faulk, Isaac Bruce, and Orlando Pace were selected to the Pro Bowl.

2001 Martz appointed Lovie Smith as defensive coordinator, Bobby April as special teams coach, Ron Meeks as secondary coach, and Bill Kollar as defensive line coach. In January Martz promoted offensive assistant Ken Zampese to wide receivers coach. Henry Ellard became the offensive assistant. Rams drafted three defensive players, DT Damione Lewis (12), S Adam Archuleta (20), and DT Ryan Pickett (29) in first round of NFL draft. Tackle Jackie Slater and defensive end Jack Youngblood were inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame for the third time since the AFC-NFC series began in 1970. The Rams played in the Hall of Fame game, defeating Miami Dolphins (17-10). Rams became the second team in NFL history to open the season with a 6-0 record in three consecutive years. Kurt Warner was named the NFL Most Valuable Player and Marshall Faulk was named NFL Offensive Player of the Year. The Rams won the NFC West with a 14-2 record, best in Rams history. The Rams became the first team in NFL history to score at least 500 points in three consecutive seasons.

New England defeated the Rams, 20-17, on a 48-yard field goal by Adam Vinatieri. Isaac Bruce, Marshall Faulk, Kurt Warner, Orlando Pace, and Aeneas Williams were selected to the Pro Bowl. Bruce, Warner, and Pace withdrew from the Pro Bowl due to their injuries. Torry Holt and Adam Timmerman were later added to the NFC team for the Pro Bowl. The Rams joined the Washington Redskins as the only teams in league history to win the next five games after starting the season 0-5. Marc Bulger became the third Rams' QB since 1970 (Dieter Brock 7, 1985; Kurt Warner 6, 1999) to post at least six consecutive wins to start his career. The Rams staged two double-digit fourth-quarter comebacks for the first time since 1989.

2003 Martz named Steve Fairchild as the offensive coordinator/quarterbacks coach, as the Perry Fewell secondary coach, Frank Falks as the tight ends coach, and Bob Babich as the linebackers coach. Through trades and free agency, Rams acquired veterans C Dave Wohlbaugh, T Kyle Turley, TE Cameron Cleeland, P Sean Landeta, and S Jason Sehorn. The team selected DT Jimmy Kennedy (12), LB Pisa Tinoisamoa (43), WR Kevin Curtis (74), WR Shaun McDonald (106), and CB DeJuan Groce (107) with the first five selections in the 11-player draft class. After losing two of their first three games, the Rams won four straight and 11 of the next 12 games to win their third division title. They earned their fourth playoff appearance in five seasons. The Rams went 12-4, posting their fourth 10+ win season in the past five years.

2004 The Rams lost in the divisional playoff round to the Carolina Panthers, 29-23, in double overtime, the fifth longest playoff game in NFL history. The Rams had six players in the Pro Bowl, including three first-time selections (QB Marc Bulger, DE Leonard Little, K Jeff Wilkins) along with S Aeneas Williams (eighth), T Orlando Pace (fifth), and WR Torry Holt (third). Jim Hanifan retired at the offensive line coach. The team named Larry Marmie as the defensive coordinator, Mike Stock as the special teams coach, John Benton as the assistant offensive line coach, and Joe Vitt as the linebackers coach. First-round pick RB Steven Jackson (24th overall) and third-round pick DE Anthony Hargrove (91st overall) were a part of the 2004 NFL Draft class. The Rams completed one of the biggest comebacks in franchise history in Seattle after they rallied from a 27-10 deficit with 5:43 left to play. The Rams tied the game and went to overtime. They won the game on the first possession (33-27).

2005 After clinching their fifth playoff berth in last six seasons, the Rams completed a three-game sweep and won the Wildcard game on the road (27-20). This marked the first road playoff win since 1989, becoming the first 8-8 team in NFL history to win a playoff game. T Orlando Pace and WR Torry Holt earned Pro Bowl selections. The Rams named Bob Ligashesky, the special teams coach, Charles Bankins, the assistant special teams coach, Kurt Schottenheimer, the secondary coach, and Pat Carter, the offensive assistant. Rams selected T Alex Barron (19th overall), CB Ronald Bartell (50th overall), S Oshimogho Atogwe (66th overall), and G Richie Incognito (81st overall) in the draft. The Rams installed a new artificial turf field at the Edward Jones Dome. Head coach Mike Martz left the team after five games due to health reasons. The assistant head coach/linebackers coach Joe Vitt led the team the final 11 games.

2006 Owner Georgia Frontiere named Scott Linehan as the 22nd head coach in franchise history. Former NFL head coach Jim Haslett was named the defensive coordinator and Greg Olson was named the offensive coordinator. After winning four of their first five games, the Rams lost seven of the next eight and then rallied with three consecutive victories to end the season with a 8-8 record. Running back Steven Jackson earned his first Pro Bowl berth with a breakout season, including 1,528 yards rushing and 90 pass receptions. Marc Bulger and Torry Holt also are selected to play for NFC Pro Bowl team; Holt declined invitation because of pending off-season knee surgery.

2007 Al Roberts was named the special teams coach. The Rams selected Nebraska defensive lineman Adam Carricker as the 12th player in the first round of the NFL draft. Wide Receiver Drew Bennett, tight end Randy McMichael, safety Todd Johnson, and linebacker Chris Draft were a part of the Rams' free agent class. The Rams finished the season with a 3-13 record but became the fifth franchise in league history to win 500 games. Wide receiver Torry Holt earned his seventh Pro Bowl selection. Safety Oshiomogho Atogwe led the NFC with eight pass interceptions.

2008 Owner Georgia Frontiere passed away on January 18, 2008. Frontiere's children, Chip Rosenbloom and Lucia Rodriguez took named Pat Shurmur as the offensive coordinator and Ken Flajole as the defensive coordinator. The Rams placed the franchise tag on safety Oshiomogho Atogwe, resigned cornerback Ron Bartell, and acquired free agents: center Jason Brown, safety James Butler, and fullback Mike Karney. With the second overall pick of the 2009 NFL Draft, the Rams selected tackle Jason Smith from Baylor University.

2010 Although the Rams did not achieve the success they envisioned on the field, Coach Spagnuolo built a solid foundation for the team to grow. On defense rookie LB James Laurinaitis became on the second rookie in franchise history to lead the team in tackles. K Josh Brown led the team in points and tied a franchise record with six field goals from 50 yards or more. P Donnie Jones became the Rams' All-Time leading punter with a 48.0-yard career gross average. In the off-season, the Rams added veteran free agents QB A.J. Feeley, LB Na'il Diggs, DT Fred Robbins, and C Hank Fraley. With the first overall pick of the 2010 NFL Draft, the Rams chose Oklahoma QB Sam Bradford. The Rams had 11 picks in the 2010 draft. E. Stanley Kroenke became the majority owner of the St. Louis Rams. Kroenke became the eighth majority owner in the team's 73-year history. The St. Louis Rams retired No. 80, the jersey number worn by wide receiver Isaac Bruce. The Rams finished the season with a 7-9 record, good for second place in the NFC.

history in career receptions. After arriving from Denver in a mid-season trade, WR Brandon Lloyd gave the offense a boost as he caught 51 passes 683 yards and five touchdowns. On the defensive side of the ball, the Rams were again paced by DE Chris Long and LB James Laurinaitis. Long recorded a career-high of 13.0 sacks while adding 15 quarterback pressures and 16 hits. For the third time in his Rams career Laurinaitis surpassed the 100 tackle mark (142). At the conclusion of the 2011 season, Coach Spagnuolo and GM Billy Devaney were relieved of their duties.

2012 Jeff Fisher was appointed as the club's 26th full-time head coach on January 17, 2012. The Rams hired Les Snead as the General Manager on February 14, 2012. Together, Fisher and Snead finalized a trade with the Washington Redskins that sent the second overall selection in the 2012 Draft to Washington. In exchange for the second overall pick, the Rams received Washington's first (sixth overall) and second (39th overall) round selections in the 2012 draft. The Rams also earned the Redskins' first selection in the 2013 and 2014 drafts. On draft day, the Rams traded down to the 14th overall pick and selected DT Michael Brockers. In Fisher's first year, the Rams finished the season with a 7-8-1 record. The team traveled to London to play in the league's international series versus the Patriots on October 28, 2012.

control of the team. Linehan hired offensive coordinator Al Saunders, quarterbacks coach Terry Shea, offensive line coach Steve Loney, running backs/assistant head coach Art Valero, and elevated Ron Milus to the secondary coach. Bob Saunders was named the offensive assistant/assistant wide receivers coach. The Rams lost their first four games of the 2008 season. Linehan was relieved of his duties. Defensive Coordinator Jim Haslett was named the head coach. The Rams won their first two games under Haslett, but lost the next 10 consecutive games. The team finished the season with 2-14 record. RB Steven Jackson rushed for 1,042 yards in 12 games and became the second running back in Rams history (Eric Dickerson, 1983-86) to rush for 1,000 yards in four consecutive seasons (2005-08). P Donnie Jones established a franchise record with a 50-yard gross punting average. Jones was the second player in NFL history to record a 50-yard gross punting average, joining Hall of Famer Sammy Baugh who averaged 51.4 yards in 1940 as a member of the Washington Redskins.

2009 Rosenbloom and Rodriguez named Steve Spagnuolo as the new head coach. Spagnuolo

The six-game improvement marks the second biggest turnaround in the NFL. RB Steven Jackson rushed for 1,241 yards to earn his third Pro Bowl invitation. In addition, after rushing for 110 yards against Tampa Bay, he became the franchise's All-Time leading rusher, passing Hall of Famer Eric Dickerson. Rookie QB Sam Bradford earned NFL Rookie of the Year honors and set a new NFL rookie record for attempts and completions. Bradford finished the season with the second most passing yards by a rookie in NFL history. The seven wins were the most wins by a rookie quarterback who was chosen first in the NFL Draft. With the 14th overall pick of the 2011 NFL Draft, the Rams chose DE Robert Quinn from North Carolina.

2011 RB Marshall Faulk became the first St. Louis Ram inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame. The 2011 season was another one filled with milestones for RB Steven Jackson. The three-time Pro Bowler rushed for 1,145 yards, his seventh-consecutive 1,000-yard season. Jackson finished the season third in Rams history in yards from scrimmage and all-purpose yards. He finished the season sixth in Rams Offensively, the Rams were led by RB Steven Jackson, who rushed for 1,042 yards to give him an eighth-consecutive season over the 1,000-yard mark. QB Sam Bradford set new career highs in yards (3,702), touchdown passes (21) and passer rating (82.5). WRs Danny Amendola (63rec.-666 yards-3 TD), Brandon Gibson (51-691-5) and rookie Chris Givens (42-698-3) led the way in the passing game, along with a strong second season from TE Lance Kendricks (42-519-4). On the defensive side of the ball, St. Louis tied for the NFL with 52 sacks and were tops in the league in pass play sacks. LB James Laurinaitis led the team in tackles for a fourth straight season. Rookie Janoris Jenkins led the NFL with four defensive touchdowns. K Greg Zuerlein set a new team record with seven field goals of 50 yards or more, including a team-record of 60 yards. In the 2013 Draft, the Rams traded up in the first round to select WR Tavon Austin and used their second first round selection on LB Alec Ogletree.

2013 Defensive End Robert Quinn put together one of the best seasons among pass rushers in team history. He was named to the Pro Bowl and

First-Team All Pro, and established a new franchise single-season sack record (19.0). He led the NFC and was half a sack shy of the NFL leader Robert Mathis (Indianapolis) and was also second to Mathis in forced fumbles (7). As a defensive unit, the team ranked 9th against the run, marking the first time the team cracked the top-10 in the category since 2001. The offense started the season ablaze as TE Jared Cook set a new record for most receiving yards in a season by a Rams tight end in his debut with the team. Cook caught seven passes for 141 yards and two touchdowns in the team's Week 1 victory versus the Arizona Cardinals. Quarterback Sam Bradford was on pace for the best season of his career until he was sidelined with a knee injury in Week 7 against the Carolina Panthers. In his absence, Kellen Clemens took over the reins and rookie RB Zac Stacy emerged. Stacy, a fifth-round draft selection, started in the final 12 games of the year and registered 969 yards in his first NFL season. The Rams boasted one of the NFL's top special teams units and was led by P Johnny Hekker, a Pro Bowler and First-Team All-Pro, who set an NFL single-season record with a 44.2-yard net punting average.

2014 Stan Kroenke took full ownership of the team. The Rams had 11 selections in the 2014 NFL Draft, two in the first round. With the second overall pick, via Washington, the Rams selected OL Greg Robinson from Auburn. With the 13th pick, the Rams selected DT Aaron Donald from Pittsburgh. Donald led all NFL rookies with a 9.0 sacks and earned Defensive Rookie of the Year. Third-round draft pick RB Tre Mason from Auburn led the team in rushing yards and finished the season second among NFL rookies in rushing yards. Sixth-round draft pick CB E.J. Gaines started 15 games. In 2014, Rams' rookies accounted for a total of 51 starts. Also, in the seventh round, the team drafted Michael Sam, the first openly gay player to be drafted in the NFL. Donald and DE Robert Quinn earned Pro-Bowl berths, while P Johnny Hekker earned second-team All-Pro honors.

DE Robert Quinn passes Jack Youngblood for most sacks by a Ram in a single season after taking down Tampa Bay Buccaneers QB Mike Glennon three times (Dec. 22, 2013).

2015 The Rams selected RB Todd Gurley with the 10th overall selection in the NFL Draft. Gurley earned offensive rookie of the year and Pro Bowl honors as he led all rookies in rushing yards and finished third among all NFL running backs in rushing yards (1,106). DT Aaron Donald earned his second Pro Bowl appearance and First-Team All-Pro honors after posting 11 sacks, 22 tackles for loss, and 49 quarterback pressures. In the secondary, CB Trumaine Johnson tied for third in the NFL with seven interceptions, one of which was returned for a touchdown. P Johnny Hekker finished another stellar season on his way to his third Pro Bowl trip and second First-Team All-Pro honors. Hekker led the NFL in punts, gross average, net average, and punts downed inside the 20-yard line. He's the first player to lead the league in all three categories since the NFL began tracking punts inside the 20 in 1976. On January 12, 2016, the Rams were officially approved to move back to the greater Los Angeles area for the 2016 season and beyond.

2016 One of the most significant years in franchise history, the Rams relocated back to Los Angeles, the organization's home for nearly 50 years from 1946-1994, with the move being approved on January 12. The organization began the move from St. Louis to Southern California by holding OTAs in Oxnard, followed by training camp at UC Irvine, and finally settling at California Lutheran University in Thousand Oaks for the regular season. Big moves continued for the club, as they traded six total draft picks to Tennessee for the first overall pick - a pick they would use on QB Jared Goff - in the 2016 NFL Draft, in addition to the Titans' fourth and sixth-round selections. In the Rams inaugural game back at the Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum, a sellout crowd of 91,046 was on hand to witness a 9-6 Los Angeles victory. The Red Hot Chili Peppers welcomed the Rams back to Los Angeles with a performance prior to kickoff off. Additionally, the Rams honored T Orlando Pace and DE Kevin Greene, who were members of the 2016 Pro Football Hall of Fame Class.

On Nov. 17, NFL Commissioner Roger Goodell, Rams Owner/Chairman E. Stanley Kroenke and Inglewood Mayor James T. Butts were on hand to break ground on the new L.A. Stadium and Entertainment District at Hollywood Park. Th new home for the Rams was set to be a 70,000 seat open-air stadium, the 298-acre mixed use development that would include 1.5 million square space, 1,500 residences, a hotel and more than 20 acres of public parks.

After a Week 14 match-up against the Falcons, the Rams parted ways with Head Coach Jeff Fisher after five seasons with the organization. The special teams coordinator John Fassel was named the Interim Head Coach for the remaining three games.

Following the season, three Rams were named to the 2017 Pro Bowl in Orlando, Florida - DT Aaron Donald, P Johnny Hekker, and LS Jake McQuaide. Donald became the third defensive tackle in Rams history to make three consecutive Pro Bowls. Hekker made his third career trip to the NFL's annual All-Star game and McQuaide earned the honor for the first time in his career.

2017 The Los Angeles Rams welcomed Sean McVay with the organization's first NFC West crown since the 2003 season and the franchise's first playoff berth since 2004. The Rams finished the regular season with an 11-5 record and was the league's top-scoring team, just one season after finishing as the 32nd ranked scoring team. The Rams improved from 14.0 points per game in 2016 to 29.9 points per game under McVay's guidance.

The impressive turnaround resulted in a trio of awards on the eve of Super Bowl LII in Minneapolis. DT Aaron Donald was named the Associated Press Defensive Player of the Year, McVay was named the AP Coach of the year and RB Todd Gurley II was honored as the AP Offensive Player of the Year. This marked the first time in the awards history that one team swept the top three awards.

McVay became the fourth Rams head coach to win the league award behind Dick Vermeil (1999), Chuck Knock Rams DT Aaron Donald (DPOY), HC Sean McVay (COY) and RB Todd Gurley II (OPOY) were all award recipients at the 2018 NFL Honors Ceremony in Minneapolis on the eve of Super Bowl LII.

Rams RB Todd Gurley II rushed 14 times for 101 yards, a 7.2-yard average in the Wild Card game, becoming the first Rams running back to eclipse a 100-plus yard game in his postseason debut since Jim Gillette had 17 carries for 101 yards vs. Washington (12/16/45).

(1973), and George Allen (1967). Of these four, only McVay and Allen were first-year head coaches. In NFL history, McVay was the 14th rookie head coach overall to receive the award.

Donald became the first player in Rams history to earn the distinction of AP Defensive Player of the Year. His year also concluded with First Team All-Pro recognition for the third-consecutive season and he was selected to the Pro Bowl for the fourth-consecutive season.

Gurley led the NFL in touchdowns (19), points scored among non-kickers (114), and scrimmage yards (2,093). Gurley finished second in the league with rushing yards (1,305). Gurley became the first Ram to win Offensive Player of the Year since Hall of Fame RB Marshall Faulk took home the award in 2001. Faulk (1999, 2000, 2001) and fellow Hall of Famer Eric Dickerson (1986) were previously the only Rams to earn AP Offensive Player of the Year honors.

Playing in 14 games, K Greg Zuerlein led the league in scoring (158), spearheading a Rams special teams unit that was among the best in the league in 2017.

The Rams hosted their first playoff game in the Coliseum since the 1979 season, but lost to the Atlanta Falcons (26-13) in the NFL Wild Card round.

2018 The Los Angeles Rams (13-3) finished the season tied for the second-most regular season wins in franchise history and made the organization's fourth Super Bowl appearance.

Under Head Coach Sean McVay for his second season the Rams won its second-consecutive NFC West title. The Rams earned the second-seed in the NFC and hosted the Divisional Round of the playoffs, before clinching the NFC title in New Orleans and making it to Super Bowl LIII.

DT Aaron Donald established a new franchise record of 20.5 sacks in a single season, while recording a NFL record of 183.5 sack yards. Donald led the league in tackles for loss (25) and quarterback hits (41). He was named the Associated Press Defensive Player of the Year for his second-consecutive year. Following the 2018 season, Donald earned his fourth-consecutive First-Team All-Pro selection. He was the only unanimous selection in this year's voting, receiving all 50 of the panel's votes as a defensive tackle.

RB Todd Gurley II led the running backs in All-Pro voting as he received 25 of the 50 votes to make his second-consecutive All-Pro Team. Gurley finished 200 yards shy of his second-consecutive 2,000 scrimmage yard season after sitting out the last two weeks of the season. He finished with 21 total touchdowns and eclipsed the second-most rushing yards per game (89.4) behind Cowboys RB Ezekiel Elliott, who was named a second-team All-Pro.

P Johnny Hekker and special teamer LB Cory Littleton earned All-Pro accolades for special teams. It marked Hekker's sixth-straight All-Pro honors and the first for Littleton after he joined the team as an undrafted free agent in 2016.

Donald, Gurley, and Littleton were joined by QB Jared Goff as the team's four Pro Bowl selections. It marked the second-consecutive Pro Bowl selection for Goff.

Goff set a career-high single-season passing yards in 2018, becoming the fourth Rams quarterback in franchise history to reach 4,000 passing yards leading the Rams to a second-straight NFC West title.

Goff completed 62.1 percent of his passes this season and threw 32 touchdowns. He posted a single-season career-best 101.1 quarterback rating and finished with 4,688 passing yards, which was the fourth-highest passing output in the NFL this season. Goff has 9,581 career passing yards and ranks eighth on the franchise's passing leaders list.

Donald became just the third player to repeat as AP DPOY, joining J.J. Watt (2014-2015) and Hall of Famer Lawrence Taylor (1981-1982). A man redefining the defensive tackle position, Donald led the NFL with 20.5 sacks this season, the most by an interior defensive lineman in a single season in NFL history. The 20.5 QB takedowns tied for the fourth-most in a single season over the last 25 seasons among any position.

K Greg Zuerlein connected on all four of his field goal attempts and both extra points in the team's NFC Championship Game victory over the New Orleans Saints, including and most notably a 57-yard game-winning field goal in overtime. QB Jared Goff ended the season with 4,638 passing yards, surpassing the 4,000-yard threshold for the second-consecutive season. Goff is the only quarterback in franchise history to do so in consecutive seasons and he joins Hall of Famer Kurt Warner as the only QBs to ever have multiple 4,000-yard seasons with the organization.

2019 The Rams (9-7) finished the last season of its 38-year residency at the Los Angeles Coliseum with a winning record for the third-consecutive season under Head Coach Sean McVay.

The season saw multiple Rams record-setting performances offensively, while also identifying emerging talent on the defensive unit that stepped up in big moments.

In his third year under McVay's offensive scheme, QB Jared Goff continued his success by ending the season with over 4,000 passing yards for the second-consecutive year. Goff is the only Rams quarterback to throw for over 4,000 yards in back-to-back seasons, joining Hall of Famer Kurt Warner with over 4,000 passing yards in multiple seasons with the Rams. Goff ended the year with 22 passing touchdowns to mark his third-consecutive season with 20+ passing touchdowns.

Goff operated behind a makeshift offensive line that dealt with position changes and injuries throughout the season. Despite those challenges, the unit did not allow Goff to be sacked in a franchise-record of six games and ended the season with a league-best of 22 sacks.

For the first time since 2002, the Rams had multiple receivers eclipsed over 1,000 yards in back-to-back seasons. WR Robert Woods tallied 1,134 receiving yards. WR Cooper Kupp had his first 1,000-yard campaign, finishing the season with 1,161 receiving yards. Kupp also ended the year with 10 receiving touchdowns, becoming the first Ram to record 10+ receiving touchdowns in a single season since Torry Holt in 2006.

RB Todd Gurley II continued his climb up the record books throughout the season, ending the year tied for the most rushing touchdowns in franchise history with 58. He also accumulated over 1,000 yards from scrimmage for the fifth-consecutive season. Gurley ended the season with 12 rushing touchdowns, becoming the second running back in franchise history to rush for double-digit touchdowns in three-consecutive seasons.

Finishing off the season, TE Tyler Higbee became the first tight end in NFL history to post four-consecutive 100-yard receiving games while recording seven-plus catches. Higbee set the single-season franchise record for receptions by a tight end (69) and receiving yards by a tight end (734).

2019 was another impressive season for two-time Defensive Player of the Year Aaron Donald. The All-Pro ended his season with 12.5 sacks, recording double-digit sacks for the third-consecutive season. He also added a league-best of 20 tackles for loss, 24 quarterback hits, two forced fumbles, and recorded 48 tackles. This past season was the first time since 2012, the Rams had multiple players with double-digit sacks.

LB Cory Littleton led the team with a career-high of 134 tackles for the eighth most in the league. Littleton tallied 3.5 sacks, forced two fumbles, and recorded two interceptions during the season.

The Rams acquired CB Jalen Ramsey ahead of its Week 7 matchup against the Atlanta Falcons. Since joining the Rams, Ramsey tallied 33 tackles, one forced fumble, and one interception.

After joining the Rams via trade in Week 7, CB Jalen Ramsey performed at an elite level, earning his third Pro Bowl selection. In nine games with the Rams, Ramsey tallied 33 tackles (31 solo), forced one fumble, defended four passes and one interception.

Rams DT Aaron Donald continued his dominance in 2019, earning his fifth First Team All-Pro selection and being selected to participate in his sixth Pro Bowl. He was also named the team's Daniel F. Reeves Memorial Award recipient, which goes to the team's most valuable player. Donald ended the season with 12.5 sacks, posting double-digit sacks for the third-consecutive season. He also added a league-best 20 tackles for loss, 24 quarterback hits, forced two fumbles and recorded 48 tackles.

Following a 31-24 victory over the Arizona Cardinals on December 29, 2019, the Los Angeles Rams say farewell to the Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum, which served as the home to the Rams for 37 years (1946-79), including their return to Los Angeles in 2016.

2020 The Rams (10-6) finished the season 2nd in the NFC West Division for the fourth-consecutive season under Head Coach Sean McVay for their first season playing at SoFi Stadium.

Due to the COVID pandemic, preseason games were cancelled, therefore the Rams only had 14 padded practices during period of training camp to prepare for the upcoming season. The league operated in the safest way possible order to ensure teams had a chance to play for during the 2020 season.

Defensive Coordinator Brandon Staley stepped up to the position of play-calling on the defensive side of the ball. He expanded the defense's capabilities and gave players like Donald opportunities to make bigger and better plays.

The Rams finished their season with the strongest defense, with just 296 points allowed, the fewest amount in the league. Returning to the playoffs after coming short the previous season, the Rams defeated the Seattle Seahawks in the Wild Card Round, but lost in the Divisional Round to the Green Bay Packers.

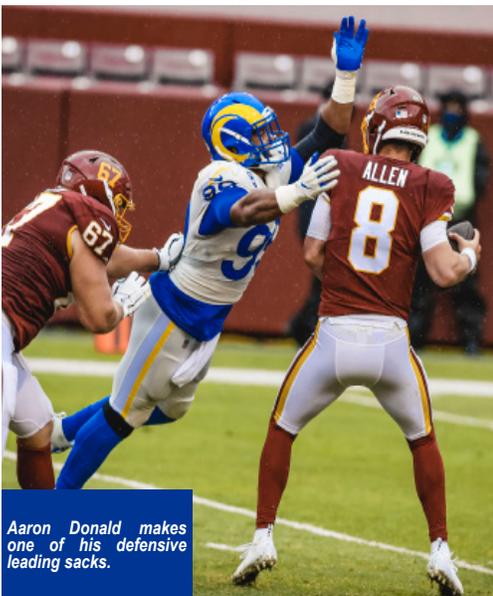

Aaron Donald dominated the team defensively with 13.5 sacks and 14 tackles for loss as he was more mobile down the line throughout the season. Unfortunately during the postseason, Donald suffered from a rib injury during the playoff game against the Seattle Seahawks.

Running back Cam Akers exceeded the Rams' expectations for their top pick in the 2020 Draft. In his standout game against the New England Patriots he totaled 29 carries for 171 yards. In the playoffs, Akers carried for 131 yards against the Seattle Seahawks. His rookie season was nothing short of successful.

Leonard Floyd finished second next to Donald with 10.5 sacks. During the season, Floyd continued to push the defense to a new level as he tallied multiple sacks in 3 regular-season games.

Jordan Fuller started twelve games as a free safety with five pass breakups, 60 tackles, and three interceptions. His flexibility on defense allowed the Rams to split safeties on the secondary while creating new coverage on defense throughout the season.

The Rams' defense carried the team throughout the season, and were able to advance the team to the playoffs, improving from the previous season.

2021 The Rams (12-5) finished the season as Super Bowl LVI Champions, doing so with a winning record for the fifth-consecutive season under Head Coach Sean McVay and their second season playing at SoFi Stadium.

The season saw multiple Rams post record-setting performances while improving on their overall 10-6 record from the previous season.

In his first year under McVay's offensive scheme, QB Matthew Stafford received his highest quarterback rating of his 13-year career in the NFL (102.9). For the first time in his career, Stafford won a playoff game and totaled four playoff wins, leading the Rams to a Super Bowl victory. The Rams won seven NFC Player of the Week/Month awards that season. It began with Stafford taking home NFC Offensive Player of the Week in Week 1, after he threw for 321 yards on 20 of 26 passing attempts. He had three TDs and a near perfect passer rating of 156.1 in the win. Week 3 Stafford won the award again after throwing for 343 yards, and four TDs on 27 of 38 passing attempts.

Cooper Kupp had an historic season with the Rams as he led the franchise record in receiving yards (1,947). With 145 receptions and 16 receiving touchdowns, Kupp secured the "Triple Crown" title for the first time in NFL history since 2005. He also took home Super Bowl MVP honors following a stellar performance against the Bengals in Super Bowl LVI. He led the second place receivers in all three categories by some of the widest margins of any receiving Triple Crown winner. Kupp was 22 catches, 331 receiving yards, and two receiving TDs ahead of second place in each stat. The only other NFL players to have accomplished this feat are Hall of Fame WR Jerry Rice (1990), WR Sterling Sharpe (1992), and WR Steve Smith Sr. (2005), and none of those three led any category by a margin as large as Kupp led in each.

The addition of wide receiver Odell Beckham Jr. for the Rams' offense created additional explosive plays in critical parts of the playoffs. Beckham totaled 27 catches for 305 yards and five touchdowns in the regular season for the Rams, while adding receptions for 288 yards and two touchdowns in the postseason.

The Ram's offensive line finished the season as the seventh-best in the league. Stafford was only sacked on 4.83% of dropbacks during the season, the sixth-lowest in the NFL. (Pro Football Focus)

Offensive tackle Andrew Whitworth played a total of 926 snaps during the 2021 season. With a 86.1 overall grade (PFF), Whitworth helped lead the Rams on and off the field to victory as the oldest starting offensive lineman in Super Bowl history. Whitworth was awarded the Walter Payton Man of the Year at the NFL Honors due to his extensive community service and his excellence on and off the field. (Profootball Focus)

The Rams' defensive line was a force to be reckoned with throughout the entirety of the 2021 season as they constantly applied pressure. Aaron Donald led the team and was first-team All-Pro for the seventh-straight consecutive season. He finished top five in Defensive Player of the Year voting with a total of 49 solo tackles, 15 sacks, and 4 forced fumbles. Donald's pressure on Joe Burrow during Super Bowl LVI ultimately clinched the title for the Rams. After the season, Donald received a 93.6 rating. (Pro Football Focus)

The trade for Von Miller helped add elite play at the outside linebacker position. Both Miller and Leonard Floyd helped create one of the better outside linebacker pairings in the league.

Cornerback Jalen Ramsey allowed a total of 624 yards in coverage with a completion percentage of 59.2% when targeted on pass attempts. His continued success carried him to his second straight first-team All-Pro selection and seventh-straight Pro Bowl. (Profootball Focus)

The Rams allowed the league's second-least amount of touchdowns to wide receivers with an average of one per game during the season. They finished the season with the second-fewest rushing yards as a team for any Super Bowl-winning team with 43-yards. In addition, the Rams had four players nominated to the Pro-Bowl: Jalen Ramsey, Cooper Kupp, Aaron Donald, and Matt Gay.

Ramsey, the sixth-year pro had 77 total tackles, four interceptions and 16 pass breakups in 17 regular season games this season. Donald won NFC Defensive Player of the Week performance in Week 14 that included three sacks, five total tackles (three for loss), three QB hits and a pass breakup that resulted in an interception.

2022 Los Angeles, Calif. – The Los Angeles Rams finished the 2022 season third in the NFC West division with a record of 5-12. Throughout the season, young players on the team had increased opportunities to grow and develop with a record number of injuries on both sides of the ball.

According to PFF, the Rams defense had the second-highest tackling grade (88.0) and ranked first in run defense with an 87.0 grade. During the regular season, the Rams defense also ranked sixth in the league with a 77.5 overall grade (PFF) and recorded 13 takeaways in the final 7 games.

During his first season with the Rams, LB Bobby Wagner led the team in tackles (140). He fell three tackles short of breaking the Rams single-season tackle record, set by James Laurinits (142) in 2011 and 2012. Wagner was the highest-graded linebacker in the league last season with a ranking of 90.7 PFF grade. DB Jalen Ramsey led the Rams in forced fumbles (3) and tallied 88 tackles during the season. Ramsey was second in passes defended (18) and tied for 3rd in pass breakups (12) (TruMedia).

On the offensive side of the ball, RB Cam Akers eclipsed more than 100 rushing yards in three consecutive games to close out the regular season. He became the first Rams running back to have three consecutive 100+ yard rushing performances in the same season since Todd Gurley in 2015. TE Tyler Higbee also broke the Rams single-season franchise record for receptions by a tight end (72) and became the Rams' all-time leader in touchdowns for tight ends (20). WR Brandon Powell eclipsed 1,000 all-purpose yards this season, leading all Rams players.

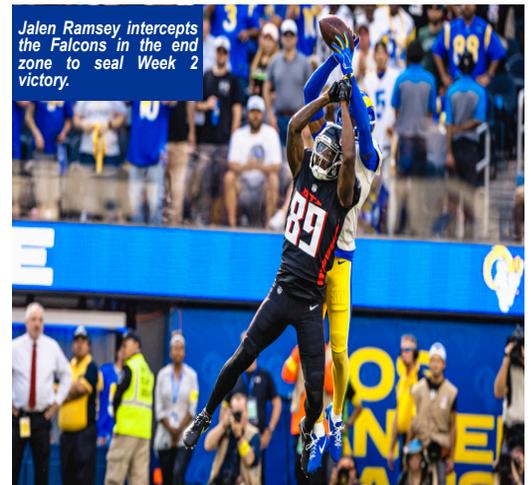

On special teams, Powell returned 30 kicks this season and ranked eighth in the NFL in total kick return yards. In Week 18, K Matt Gay reached 100 made field goals in his career. Gay made 28 field goals this season, the second-most for a season in his career.

With an unprecedented number of injuries, younger players on the roster were able to take advantage of opportunities. Rookie CB Cobie Durant finished the season with three interceptions, which tied for second on the Rams. In Week 16 against the Denver Broncos, Durant caught two interceptions and recorded his first career defensive touchdown on a pick-six for 85-yards. He led the league in interception return yards with 151. DT Michael Hoecht transitioned from defensive tackle to edge rusher midway through the season. From Week 12 against the Kansas City Chiefs to the end of the season, Hoecht registered 34 tackles, 4.5 sacks, and 24 pressures.

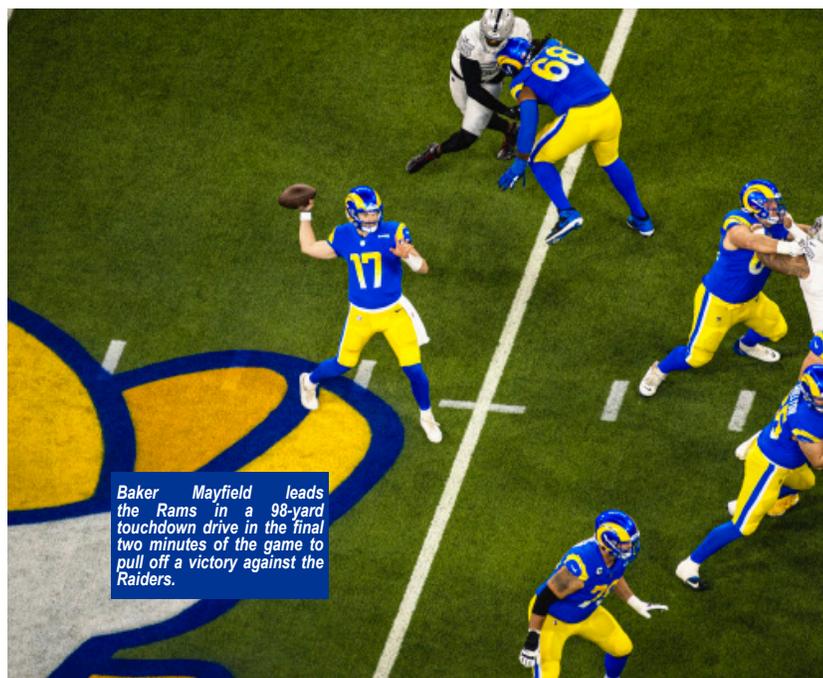

Several Rams players were recognized for notable performances during the season. DT Aaron Donald was voted to his ninth career Pro Bowl and was named an NFLPA All-Pro, voted on by the players. Jalen Ramsey was named to his sixth career Pro Bowl after replacing Philadelphia Eagles CB Darius Slay. Team award recipients included: Cobie Durant (Rookie of the Year), DB Jordan Fuller (ED Courage Block Award recipient), OT Rob Havenstein (Spirit of the Game award), and Bobby Wagner who was named the team MVP following his first season with the Rams. In Week 14, QB Baker Mayfield won the Nickelodeon Player of the Week following his fourth quarter comeback win against the Raiders after he joined the team earlier that week.
